

Pay Your Debt To Your Defenders

Turn Your Luxuries Into Comforts
For Those Who Have Sacrificed Most.

"Self-sacrifice, self-denial and service lie at the basis of the highest personal and national development."

Sir Thomas White,
Minister of Finance.

Is it nothing to you that men from all round you have sacrificed home and salary, safety and life, to defend your home as well as their own?

Is it nothing to you that their wives and families tremblingly scan each casualty list, and pale at the step of the postman or telegraph messenger?

Can you see others giving their dearest, without feeling that you must do something yourself? Do you wonder what to do?

You can at least save—and lend your savings to the nation. Canada needs every dollar her loyal sons and daughters can spare, to meet the growing expenses of the struggle.

Every dollar you invest in Canadian War Savings Certificates helps the nation to deal generously with those who are defending you.

Certificates in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, repayable in three years, may be purchased at any Bank or Money Order Post Office at $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively. This means over 5% interest—making them a profitable as well as a patriotic investment.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PRESERVE EGGS FOR USE NEXT WINTER

(Experimental Farms Note.)

The indications are that eggs will be dear next winter, dearer than they were last winter so those who want eggs had better put some down now while they are comparatively cheap. Do not use oats, bran, salt or such mediums; moreover, the patent preservatives usually advertised as being so simple and effective had better be adopted with caution. Better use something that has been tried and found satisfactory.

Dominion Chemist, lime water is one of the best preservatives and we quote from his Exhibition Circular No. 42.

The method of preparation is simply to slake one pound good quick lime with a small quantity of water and then stir the milk of lime so formed into five gallons of water. After the mixture has been kept well stirred for a few hours it is allowed to settle. The supernatant liquid, which is now "saturated" limewater, is drawn off and poured over the eggs, previously placed in a crock or watertight barrel.

As exposure to the air tends to precipitate the lime (as carbonate), and thus to weaken the solution, the vessel containing the eggs should be kept covered. The air may be excluded by a covering of sweet oil or by sacking upon which a paste of lime is spread. If after a time there is any noticeable precipitation of the lime, the lime-water should be drawn or siphoned off and replaced with a further quantity newly prepared.

Necessary Precautions.

It is essential that attention be paid to the following points:

1. That perfectly fresh eggs only be used.
2. That the eggs should throughout the whole period of preservation be completely immersed.

Although not necessary to the preservation of the eggs in a sound condition a temperature of 40 to 45 degrees Fah., will no doubt materially assist towards retaining good flavor or rather a more interesting "stale" flavor so often characteristic of packed eggs.

Respecting the addition of salt, it must be stated that our experiments—conducted now throughout fifteen seasons—do not show any benefit to be derived therefrom; indeed, salt frequently imparts a limey flavor to the egg, probably by inducing an interchange of the fluids within and without the egg. Our advice is, do not add any salt to the limewater.

KILBANE WILL STICK TO CLASS

Johnny Kilbane took his defeat by Leonard in a philosophical manner. Immediately after the battle he took himself in hand, smiled, and said: "The deed is done. The fates willed it so. Why should I kick?" Other champions could not view things in that light upon the passing of their titles.

Kilbane is still the featherweight titleholder and in his future bouts he will stick to his class and, unless he retires, some day he is going to lose his claim to that honor through defeat. It is inevitable, but why worry, sassy Johnny.

END OF THE WAR TWO YEARS AWAY

(Minneapolis Journal.)

Questions on the war and "little boosts for Britain," marked the annual gathering of the Wisconsin alumni association. The banquet was turned into a tacticians' assembly with Major J. F. Templeton of the British recruiting mission as chief of staff.

"Can the British and French, helped out by the Americans really drive the Germans out of Flanders?" the question was put.

"Oh, yes," the major answered. "But not until next year?" the Wisconsin man surmised.

"No, nor probably not the year after," the major continued.

The Major spoke for more than an hour and the college men got a Briton's angle on every phase of warfare. Major Templeton "saw it through" at Vimy Ridge and spoke from experience of the charges made by tanks and the tactics of the enemy.

Major Templeton insisted that Britain has done her bit in the war.

"Why don't the British do something?" you hear them say over here. Gentlemen," he declared, "we have never been free before the present offensive to show the strongest front, to do spectacular things. We have always had to disperse whenever we gathered for a big offensive to relieve some struggling lines on this front and that. But we are ready now."

The Quality
Drug Store

THE ROAD TO THE RIGHT.

YOU'VE met at least one of those few good old souls, who are constantly getting the worst of it when shopping, who don't believe in advertising. A hundred disappointing and instructive experiences have failed to teach him their plain lesson.

When he bought his first watch he was beguiled into buying one without a known name or a trustworthy guarantee. That watch—a poor timekeeper—cost him dearly by reason of missed appointments and missed trains, and for frequent repairs. Yet he paid the price of a good watch.

It is the same story with regard to his underwear, his shoes, and his fountain pen.

This good old soul's case is not unique. Many of us, if the truth be confessed, resemble him; we allow ourselves to be sold merchandise with an unknown brand or trade mark instead of buying merchandise which is well known to us through the medium of advertising. In slang language, we get "stung" pretty often.

In most of these cases we have ourselves to blame, for "the road to the right" thing to buy has been made plain by advertising.

There is no good reason for passing by the known thing, soundly guaranteed, to buy a dubious article, which, quality for quality, cannot be cheaper than the known, branded article.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 50 Lumsden Building, Toronto.
