CONGRESS ALMOST SURE TO DECLARE WAR ON THE HUNS

War and Naval Departments Are Making Active Preparations for the Conflict-- War Resolution Likely to Pass Both Houses--Proposal to Loan a Large Sum of Money to France Meeting with Favor.

Washington, April 1.—Congress, called in extraordinary session by President Wilson, will meet tomorrow to determine the most important issue before the legislative representatives of the people of the United States since the civil war. It is considered a foregone conclusion that it either will declare war against Germany or declare that a state of war exists because of Germany's aggressions on the high seas.

President Wilson has completed the message he will deliver to Congress, and is ready to address a joint session as soon as he gets word that both houses have been organized and are ready to hear him.

The war and navy departments continue their preliminary preparedness measures, and are ready with recommendations for further strengthening the army and navy to be submitted as soon as Congress decides whether the nation is actually to go to war with Germany.

Both houses meet at noon. The Senate, already organized, will be ready to transact business when the gavel falls, but in view of the fact that any war resolution is expected to carry an appropriation, it is expected that action will wait on the house. Democrats and Republicans of the House have cleared the way for an immediate effort to organize and the belief was general tonight that the Democrats would reassume control, with Speaker Clark in the chair, within a few hours after the session begins.

There is little doubt that a war resolution will be passed by large majorities in both houses. There are little groups of pacifists opposed to war, except to resist invasion, who will vote and probably talk against any warlike move. There are other groups who have their own ideas about what the United States should do in the present situation, but none is strong enough to prevent action, or to seriously impede its progress.

In the house there probably will be no persistent action unless it comes from members who favor more far-reaching action than the President recommends. The Senate has its new closure bill to limit debate, if a small group there undertakes to delay action. Efforts are certain to be made to put through a universal military training bill, even if President Wilson does not endorse it. There will be much opposition to it, particularly if the belief gains currency that such legislation will pave the way for the sending of an expeditionary force to the European battlefields. There has been much talk of a bond issue to provide a loan or credit to France of $500,000,000 to $1,500,000,000. Such a proposal would receive strong support, but there might be enough opposition to prevent immediate enactment of the necessary legislation.

Hundreds of telegrams poured into the capital today bearing on the question of war legislation. Many spoke against war, and members in favor of a quick decisive action attributed the flood of messages to an organized anti-war propaganda.

THE BRITISH CAPTURE MORE TOWNS

London, April 2.—The British have captured Croisilles after a desperate defence by the Germans, Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters reports. The towns of Longatte and Dognies also have been captured by the British, who took some prisoners.

The British today are within three miles of St. Quentin, and are working eastward in that direction, while the French are pressing from the south.

NEW CABINET SOON TO BE ANNOUNCED

There is likely to be quite a lot doing in political circles before this week is at an end. At the present time the province is without a government, but the public business seems to be going along about as usual.

Hon. W. E. Foster, who has been entrusted with the task of forming a new administration, will probably complete his ministry either tomorrow or Wednesday, and the swearing-in ceremony will take place in the Executive Council Chamber here. The Lieutenant Governor and Premier Foster are expected to arrive here some time tomorrow and will remain until after the new government is sworn in.

War With Huns Is Inevitable

Washington, April 2.—The President, in his address before Congress, is understood, will refer to the traditional friendship between the American people and the German people and to differentiate between the German government and the people it governs. He also will recount his efforts to restore peace to Europe and to maintain peace with Germany. Before going to Congress, the President did not take even members of his cabinet into his confidence on the exact terms of his address.

From information he has called for and general suspicions at cabinet meetings, they know that he has concluded that war with Germany seems inevitable.

President Wilson's address will be sent to all the foreign embassies and legations here and will be telegraphed to American diplomats abroad.

SOLDIERS IN PAY DAY FIGHT.

Lively Row in Queen Street Saturday Night—Military Policeman Seriously Injured.

A pay day fight with serious consequences occurred Saturday night in Queen street among some soldiers and N. C. O.'s of the 236th Highland Battalion. As a result, one of the military police is in hospital badly injured, one of his injuries, according to report, being broken ribs. He and another military policeman were taking to barracks a soldier who previously had been handed over to the military by Policeman Hughes of the city police. The man resisted and in Queen street, above Carleton street, other soldiers and N. C. O.'s interfered. One struck the military policeman across the face with a cane, cutting him severely. The policeman retaliated with interest.

Others attacked him and though overwhelmed with numbers the policeman, who is a Russian, gave a good account of himself and put more than one of his opponents out of business. He was seriously hurt, however, and was carried into barracks. Several arrests were made and those concerned in the trouble are likely to be severely dealt with.
