Fixing Things For Jimmy

"Go on," he answered, "what did he say?"

"Mr. Blackburn? Just exactly what I had expected him to say—that it had been a college quarrel; that he really didn't think it ought to affect the friendship of two men who had outgrown that sort of thing. If you hadn't been so silly, you would have known that was what he would say. Now, there you are. All you've got to do is tell him that you're in love with his sister."

Jimmy stared.

"That can wait—can't it?"

"Wait nothing. He's got to go away on a long trip tonight, and he's thinking about sending her home."

"No?"

"Yes."

"Gosh! I've got to get busy."

"Exactly," came acidly from Jane as she wiped the cold cream from her face.

But Jimmy Reynolds did not hear.
He was tearing for his room, for a hurried bath and a change of clothes. A half hour later he hesitated at the doorway of the reception room, looking dolefully in the direction of a young man and a young woman. The young woman said something. The young man laughed and turned. Then he came forward.

"Hello, Jimmy," he announced.

"He—hello, Ed," came hesitatingly from Jimmy. "I'm glad to see you. I understand you and Sis were out today."

"Yes."

"I was out with your sister—that is, a little while. I—er—that is, understand that you're going away."

"Yes."

Slants of HumorTHE LIGHT HAD DAWNED.

Mr. Picillily came home from the club one morning about 5 o'clock. He stumbled over a chair while trying to locate the electric switch.

"What's that?" came a voice from the bed.

"Where in the deuce are the lights in this house?" he snarled.

"Lights," cried his wife scathingly.
"Pull up the blinds!"

RHYMES FOR THE NURSERY.

A child should march away to school With smiles and not with tears, And love his teacher and not yell When washed behind the ears.

A child should always tell the truth,
And say "Thank you" and "Please,"
And not take stray dogs to his heart, For they are full of fleas.

A child should say his prayers at night,

And be polite and heedful,
And try and think to wipe his nose As often as is needful.

POOR REPUTATION.

Lije Williams was haled to court to answer a complaint arising out of a broken bargain. Steve Collins was a witness.

"Mr. Collins," said the examining lawyer, "do you know the defendant in this case, do you not?"

"Oh, yes," answered Collins.

"Is he regarded as a man who never tells the truth?"

"Well, I can't say that he don't never tell the truth, but I do know that if he wanted his hogs to come to dinner he'd have to git somebody else to call 'em!"

PROCLAMATION

His Honour the Lieutenant Governor directs the publication of the following for general information:

Whereas, the 1st of July is the semi-centennial of the confederation of the Canadian Provinces

And, Whereas, a joint committee of the Senate and House of Commons was appointed to consider and report on the proper celebration of the occasion;

And, Whereas, the said committee have recommended that, "As the day falls on Sunday, it seems to be particularly fitting that the churches and the Sabbath schools of all denominations should incorporate into their exercises the recognition of the facts and lessons embodied in our national birth and fifty years of progress, and have requested that all Clergymen and Sabbath School Superintendents give to the celebration their hearty and intelligent co-operation";

And, Whereas, Monday the 2nd day of July, has been fixed by proclamation for the celebration of Dominion Day, and the committee have recommended that the celebration on that day be as "general as possible, without expensive and elaborate display, as befits war time, and carried out on the broadest social and democratic lines, a plain sincere people's demonstration, a tribute to the founders of our Dominion and the institutions and ideals of our common country";

We do most earnestly request that the cities and municipalities of the Province, clubs and patriotic associations, co-operate with the citizens generally in commemorating the day and the occasion, along the lines suggested in the report.

In view of the terrible war in which we are engaged the occasion should be one for serious thought and full recognition of the grave dangers to which Canada and the Empire are exposed, and the obligations that rest upon us all as citizens. We especially request that the clergymen of all denominations throughout the Province, Sunday School Superintendents and Teachers, in the religious services of Sunday, the 1st of July, do honor to the memory of the noble and brave men who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country, as well as to those who are still facing danger and death upon the battlefield, and that the religious exercises of the day be characterized with a spirit of loyalty, unselfish service, and earnest prayer for the suc-

ANNOUNCEMENT.

On July 1st, the undersigned will open a new retail dairy in the city.
Fifteen years' experience have taught me that absolute cleanliness combined with quality of goods, are the essentials necessary to make such a business a success.

Thanks to the public for the liberal patronage afforded me in the past, and soliciting further favors, in return for which I trust I shall always be able to give satisfaction to patrons.

cess of the sacred cause for which we are fighting.

And we further request that on Monday, the 2nd of July, all municipal and ous patriotic localities, and that all citizens by a display of flags and suitable decorations at their homes and
