MAKE JELLY FROM DRIED FRUITS

They Should Be Well Washed, Soaked Overnight and Cooked in Double Boilers.

Dried and evaporated fruits swell to their natural size, are as tender as jelly, and equal to the best of home-made preserves.

To prepare them, pick over the fruit carefully, cover with plenty of cold water and let stand for about ten minutes to soften any dirt. Then wash in at least three waters, rubbing lightly between the hands. Lastly, turn into a colander or sieve and rinse. Return fruit to kettle, cover to twice its depth with cold water and soak eight to ten hours, or over night. Longer than 12 hours destroys the flavor. Place the fruit over the fire in the water in which it was soaked, using cooker kettles. Add sugar at once, and more water, if necessary, as the liquid should cover the fruit about an inch before boiling begins. After boiling begins, the amount of liquid is not discernible as the fruit rises to the surface.

The long period required to bring a large quantity of liquor to a boil frequently overcooks the lower portion. This may be avoided, and time in watching be saved, by draining off the cold sweetened liquid into another kettle and bringing it to a quick boil. Skim and pour back over the cold drained fruit. Lift the fruit with a skimmer, so that the liquid flows beneath to the bottom of the kettle. Place over the fire, bring quickly to the boil and boil only the time specified.

Appricots, pitted plums and prunelles should be boiled two minutes only, in a covered kettle; place in cooker six hours, or all night, over a kettle of boiling food or water, unless the quantity fills a large kettle. The same time is needed for peaches and prunes without pits; prunes with pits should be cooked five minutes. No soap stones should be used with fruits.

PECAN CUSTARD.

To make this, first make a soft custard; then chop some pecan nuts. Just before serving pour the custard into dessert cups and add a couple of tablespoonfuls of nuts to each cup. Stir them carefully in and put on a big spoonful of unsweetened whipped cream, topped with half a pecan.

FREDDY WELSH WANTS SPORTSMEN'S REGIMENT

New York, April 13.—Freddy Welsh, lightweight champion of the world, the other day sent to Gov. Whitman a letter asking that he be allowed to organize a sportsmen's regiment in America for service in the European trenches.

Welsh declares he wants to offer his services and financial assistance in such an enterprise and he proposes boxing bouts in which he shall appear as one of the principals, the proceeds to go to the support of the force.

"Several friends of mine, graduates of Westpoint," Welsh wrote, "to whom I have broached the subject, have signified their willingness to join the regiment. Many boxers and other sportsmen are enthusiastic over the project, and want not only to join, but to help in every way to raise the necessary funds.

HOOF PRINTS.

A good guess is that the Billings horses will be sold at the Old Glory in New York next fall.

Mike McDevitt has moved Peter Mc, 2.03½, from Capt. David Shaw's farm to the North Randall track.

Walter Cox believes that the shortage of racing material is the most serious matter that concerns the sport.

Peter Vaughn, 2.13½, in Ned McCarr's stable, is topped off as likely to be one of the real fast trotting stallions of the year.

Aaron Williams, a Grand Circuit regular, has sent the yearling by Peter the Great out of Zombrewer, 2.04½, to Roy Miller.

Rumor has it that Harry Fleming is to resign as trainer for Hillandale Farm to accept the position of second to Tommy Murphy.

Hemmet farm, California's show breeding establishment, has been placed on the market because of the death of the owner, W. F. Whittier.

Claire Wolverton is at the Indianapolis track with 14 head, most of them owned by the draft horse breeders, J. Crouch & Son.

Chicago, April 10.—Steve Yerkes, second baseman with the Chicago Nationals, was released tonight to the Indianapolis Club of the American Association. Yerkes, once with the Boston Red Sox, is under a Federal League contract calling for $6500 a year. His release is taken to mean that Larry Doyle will be in condition to play second.

DUNDEE STOPS POWERS

New York, April 10.—Johnny Dundee stopped Jimmy Powers in the ninth round at the Pioneer Sporting Club tonight. Powers had been floored twice for the count of nine. Getting up after the last knockdown, he tried to assume a defensive pose, but he wasn't equal to the task.
