SOMETHING ABOUT MANNERS

The Kind Acquired at a Dancing School Did Not Work Out in Practice.

(Chicago News.)

"I think I shall send Harold to dancing school," declared Mrs. Frillert. "I want him to associate with nice boys. He has been into such a rough set lately."

"When I was a lad," responded her husband, "I used to associate with Butch Brinley and Stuff McGinnis, and my mother, observing Stuff and Butch and their untutored habits, decided to send me to dancing school, where I could meet nice boys. The result was that I soon numbered Valentine Tripper and Cecil Cedric Bibbons among my acquaintances.

"The first thing I did after acquiring these acquaintances was to make them known to Butch and Stuff. A mutual interest arose at once between my boiler yard and my dancing school friends. Valentine and Cecil had never before seen fellows accomplished in the exact ways in which Butch and Stuff were accomplished, and vice versa.

"Of course Butch and Stuff had seen the other kind at a distance, but had never really chummed with any, and Cecil and Valentine had read of wild Indians and other barbarians, but had never before numbered them among their personal friends. They had never met a real live Huckleberry Finn in their lives until they met Butch and Stuff, who were decidedly Finnish.

"The result was that the Finns were soon saying 'You weren't' instead of 'You wasn't' and 'Am I not?' in place of 'Ain't I?' while the Cecilians were saying things it wouldn't do to repeat and saying them with even greater enjoyment than the Finns got out of their Cecilian grammar."

"Where were Cecil's and Valentine's mothers, I should like to know, that they didn't step in and put a stop to such friendships?" inquired Mrs. Frillert.

"I don't know where they were, but Butch's and Stuff's parents got wise to what was going on and broke up the intimacy. They said that Stuff and Butch couldn't sell papers by the Cecil-Valentine method, for it seemed to work out in the newsboy game like this:

"I beg your pardon, sir, but is this not my corner? I am sure that previous occupancy gives me the right to sell papers here, and if you will kindly retire to some other corner it will be very good of you, I'm sure."

"All that instead of a bang in the eye! Dancing school manners are all right in their way, and I want Harold to learn 'e mall right, but just the same knocks are a great deal handier for a boy who has to make a living, and a Butch or two is worth knowing in this democratic country."

"Almost a miracle"

That is what Rabbi M. Shallit of Edenbridge, Sask., says regarding a cure by Zam-Buk, of which he gives the following particulars:

"A short time ago," said the Rabbi, "a man brought his little son to me and asked if I knew of anything that would cure the child of a terrible skin disease, with which he had suffered for three years. The child's forehead, eyes and ears were covered with sores. The sight was shocking, and the child had not been able to see for two years. As he was an only child, the father said he would give anything to have him cured, but as he had already been treated by many doctors, each of whom had given up the case as incurable, he had about despaired of ever finding a cure. Having great faith in Zam-Buk, I recommended it, and to cut a long story short, perseverance with Zam-Buk has now completely cured the child."

THE FATHER'S ACCOUNT

The following letter from the father of the boy expresses his gratitude: "The Zam-Buk Company, Toronto
 Dear Sirs: I beg to testify that my boy suffered for three years with a severe skin disease, which doctors tried to cure, but in vain. The sores on his eyes were so terrible that for two years he was quite unable to see. Zam-Buk, however, has worked a complete and permanent cure.
 The Zam-Buk treatment was recommended to me by Mr. M. Shallit, Rabbi of Edenbridge, for which I shall be grateful to him forever.
 With hearty thanks to you, I remain, Yours faithfully,
 (Signed) E. ROMANUK."

Zam-Buk is just as good for scalp sores, ringworm, salt rheum, running sores, old wounds, boils, ulcers, abscesses, pimples, blood-poisoning, piles, cuts, burns, and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores of Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 5 for $1.25.
