A STRONG INDICTMENT.

Sir Isadore Spellmann has addressed an open letter to Herr Harden, the noted journalist, whom he refers to as "one of the few sane men left in Germany," urging him to make an effort to wash from the eyes of his countrymen some of the dust which the government has thrown into them.

After enumerating Germany's barbarous acts in connection with the war, the writer gives the following list of "incomparable mistakes" made by the Huns since the war began:

First—She thought England would remain neutral, but England astonished her by joining the alliance against her.

Second—She thought England had but "a contemptible little army," but England astonished her by her conscription and by raising millions of men.

Third—She thought England's colonies would rise in revolt, but they also astonished her by sending hundreds of thousands of troops to assist the mother country. Even General Smuts and his soldiers, who fought against us recently in the Boer war, are now fighting on our side.

Fourth—She thought Italy, her former ally, would fight with her, but Italy too has astonished her by joining her enemies.

Fifth—She thought Greece would at least remain neutral, but she has at last thrown in her lot with the Allies.

Sixth—She thought the United States could be fooled and bullied and then made use of for peace negotiations, but she has found to her astonishment that her conduct has estranged America and made another and a very important enemy of her.

Seventh—She thought the other countries of the world would be terrorized into silence by her U-boat frightfulness, but they have, much to her surprise, either severed relations or declared war against her.

Eighth—She thought her fiendish conduct in Belgium, upon the seas and battlefields and upon open towns, would be another object lesson of her power to the world; but it has only embittered the world against her, while she has covered herself with everlasting shame.

Ninth—She thought she could starve out England, but has to realize that she has failed.

Tenth—She thought she could have peace merely by suggesting it; that she could detach the Allies from their allegiance, and especially Russia; that she could, by intrigue and cunning, promote conferences to further her own ends; but she has signally failed in all.

THE NEW CHIEF JUSTICE.

The announcement of the appointment of Hon. J. D. Hazen as Chief Justice of New Brunswick came as a distinct surprise. His name had been mentioned in connection with a $25,000 a year post to be created at Washington, but there has evidently been a hitch and the ex-Minister, feeling no doubt that a bird in the hand was worth two in the bush, decided to accept the honorable and dignified position of Chief Justice of his native province. Hon. Mr. Hazen is an able lawyer, and prior to joining the Federal cabinet he was in the enjoyment of a large practice. He has had a long experience in political life and has other qualities which admirably fit him for the position of Chief Justice. He has well-earned the honor which has come to him, and friends and opponents will unite in extending congratulations.

The heroic death in France of Capt. Talbot Papineau will be generally regretted throughout Canada. The gallant French Canadian officer was a great-grandson of Louis Joseph Papineau, leader of the rebellion of 1837. Some months ago, it may be remembered, he addressed a letter to his erratic cousin, Mr. Henri Bourassa, upbraiding him for his disloyal utterances. The letter was given wide publicity and elicited much favorable comment.

Single men and widowers between the ages of 20 and 34 who have not yet registered under the Military Service Act, must do so before Saturday, November 10th. Ample warning has been given by means of large advertisements in the newspapers, and prompt action is necessary. Those who fail to register will, after Saturday next, be treated as deserters, and are liable to arrest and will have forfeited the right to ask for exemption.

Hon. J. D. Hazen is not the first Mayor of Fredericton to become a Supreme Court judge, nor is he the first to become a Chief Justice. The late Judge Gregory was for a number of years Mayor of Fredericton, and Hon. E. L. Wetmore, who retired several years ago from the position of Chief Justice of Saskatchewan, is a former chief magistrate of this city.

The resignation of Hon. A. B. Hudson, Attorney General of Manitoba, is announced by Premier Norris. Pressure of private business is given as the reason. He is succeeded by the Hon. Thomas Johnson, Minister of Public Works.

Returns from the New York civic election indicate the return of John F. Hyland, Tammany candidate, by a large plurality over Mayor Mitchell Bennett, the straight Republican candidate, ran behind the socialist.

Through Our Sieve
Buy a bond and shout "Victory!"

About the nicest scrap of paper we can think of is a war bond.

The real road to high position seems to go right through St. John.

"I saved Russia," shouts Kerensky. Yes, but only once. Save it some more.

Some women grow younger and younger with every photograph they have taken.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder. The wise young man goes home early.

It's easy to please a woman after you find out what she wants—but there's the rub.

When it comes to extending the glad hand, making pleasing speeches, etc., the new Governor will show us a few things.

Kaiser Wilhelm wants guarantees that the Belgian lamb will not assail the German wolf.

A woman will take anything "free of charge," from a trading stamp to a club membership; but a man sniffs trouble at anything that looks like a bargain, from a bond to a kiss.

MUNICIPAL HOME

Ald. Shea took exception to this. The work on Queen street had been satisfactory and asphalt could be obtained in St. John. It was nonsense to neglect repairs merely because the city could not finance a complete system of sidewalk construction.

Ald. Lemont was of the same mind as Ald. Shea. The road committee had neglected necessary things particularly street cleaning.

Ald. Baxter again drew attention to a dangerous sidewalk on Aberdeen street.

Ald. McLellan replied that material for repairs could not be procured.

HEART BEAT SO FAST

Could Not Sleep.
HAD TO SIT UP IN BED.

Heart trouble has of late years become very prevalent. Sometimes a pain catches you in the region of the heart, now and then your heart skips beats, palpitates, throbs, or beats with such rapidity and violence you think it will burst. You have weak and dizzy spells, are nervous, irritable and depressed, and if you attempt to walk upstairs or any distance you get all out of breath.

There is no other remedy will do you so much good, restore your heart to a natural condition, build up your strength and give you back vigor and vitality as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. A. Russell, Niagara Falls, Ont., writes: "At nights I could not sleep, and had to sit up in bed, my heart would beat so fast."
"When I went to walk very far I would get all out of breath, and would have to sit down and rest before I could go any farther. I was advised to get Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and before I had used two boxes I could sleep and walk as far as I liked without any trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A STATEMENT BY MINISTER OF MILITIA

Ottawa, Nov. 6. — Major General S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, has given the following statement to the Canadian Press regarding his alleged criticism of the administration of the militia department by his predecessor in office, Sir Edward Kemp, at the convention of Conscriptivist Liberals held in Hamilton last Friday.

General Mewburn absolutely denies that he in any way criticised the administration of Sir Edward Kemp. What he said was that he always thought that the sending of complete units overseas in 1916 was a mistake; that reinforcing drafts should have been sent overseas instead of complete units. Regarding the Canadian defense scheme, General Mewburn stated that he urged the government to fill this force under the terms of the military act, by compulsion, and that he stated at the inception that he did not believe it could be filled by voluntary enlistment, and that during his tour through the country he was completely convinced that it was impossible to get men, either for overseas or for home defense except by compulsion. Instead of criticising Sir Edward Kemp's administration, he states that he has always eulogized him for the magnificent work he did in the department during the short tenure of his office, and that nobody realizes more than he the does the responsibility that rested on Sir Edward Kemp's shoulders, and the many things that he accomplished during his tenure of office that the public generally does not appreciate.

General Mewburn further states that, if in the account of his speech he was made to criticise the administration of his predecessor, he was entirely misquoted. Any criticisms made by him were directed at military conditions which have grown up since the beginning of the war, which could not be and were not by him attributed to Sir Edward Kemp's administration.

TO SUFFER FROM HEADACHES

Makes Life Miserable.

Headache seems to be habitual with many people. Some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually with the dull throbbings, the intense pain, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then over the whole head, varying in its severity by the cause which brings it on.

The varieties of headache most common are sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, debility or indigestion and periodical and spasmodic headache, and undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters, that has been on the market for over 40 years, removes the cause of the headache, and not only does this but also restores the entire system to healthy action and buoyant vigor.

Miss Emily Smith, 204 Bellwoods Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters. For two years I was greatly troubled with violent headaches, particularly in the morning. I tried everything to cure me until a friend recommended B.B.B. I tried it and now I am completely cured."
