

Production Conference Met With Enthusiastic Response

Strong Provincial Committee to assist Agricultural Department---Action of Provincial Government Approved by all Classes ---Interesting Discussion on Various Points---Important Resolutions Passed---Hon. J.F. Tweeddale Outlines Intentions Of Agricultural Department.

The Increased Production Conference which was held in the Normal School Annex yesterday afternoon resulted in the selection of a provincial committee which will meet under governmental supervision at required times and the passing of a number of resolutions concerning the methods which will be adopted to put the campaign for increased production into effect. The attendance was large, the seating accommodation furnished in the gymnasium of the Annex being over-taxed. The efforts of the Provincial Government and the Department of Agriculture to secure a large and representative gathering succeeded beyond expectation, all parts of the province sending delegates who heard a number of interesting addresses besides informal discussion of many of the problems confronting the farmers of New Brunswick in their efforts to assist the Empire and allies in their struggle for existence.

Among the steps endorsed by the conference are the employment of school children in agricultural labor and domestic science teaching, special prize lists for field crops and farm production with National Service Diplomas for those entering the competition, the establishment of a Labor Office, the observation of Sunday, May 13th, as National Service Sunday for New Brunswick, clergymen being asked to read a special message and to preach upon increased production, the cultivation of vacant lots.

Important suggestions were made and in many cases the farmer was not let go scathless in the discussion of waste and production. Representatives of women's associations throughout the province stated that there was waste on the farms and that the farmer was always ready to take the top market price for his produce whether it was first class or inferior. They also suggested government action regarding the food combines. The fertilizer question, the labor situation and other matters also were touched upon.

PREMIER FOSTER

Premier Makes Introductory Remarks ---Ex-Premier Murray Not Able to Attend But Promises His Hearty Support.

Hon. Walter E. Foster, premier of the province, took the chair shortly after two o'clock, Mr. W. B. Snowball of Chatham, who had been selected as chairman, being detained with other North Shore delegates by the lateness of the express from Newcastle. Premier Foster made a brief introductory address, outlining the object of the conference and mentioning the necessity for increased production. He read a telegram from the ex-premier, Hon. A. J. Murray of Sussex, who regretted his inability to be present but stated that he would be glad to co-operate in the campaign for increased production.

Hon. Mr. Foster then introduced His Honor the Lieutenant Governor.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR WOOD.

His Honor Points Out Relation of Increased Production Campaign With Struggle Against Germany.

His Honor said he was thoroughly in accord with the movement. The war had reached a critical state. Troops had won great successes on the western front yet the utterances of statesmen in the various allied countries showed that they did not believe that the turning point had been reached. The submarine menace was frequently referred to as what was threatening the very foundations of the British Empire. The time had come when everyone should put forward his best efforts on behalf of National Service.

He had been disappointed in the lethargy displayed recently in the enlistment of troops for overseas service. To his mind every Canadian should put his name on the National Service cards as willing to go anywhere in the service of the Empire. National Service was most comprehensive. It included more than military service.

This meeting had been called principally for the purpose of stimulating production. The recent increase in the prices of foodstuffs had made each one think of the possibilities of the future. Unless crop shortage in other parts of the world was met by increased production even higher prices would result.

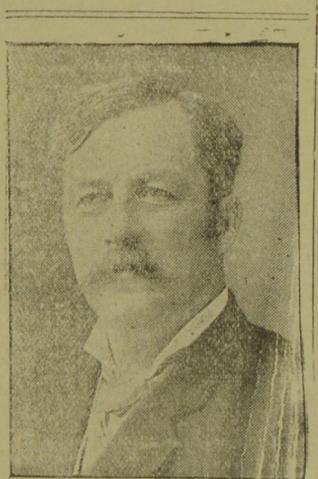

To bring about the increased production desirable all available ground must be planted and cultivation brought to the highest pitch possible. As much food as possible must be grown, as little as possible bought. By so doing more would be available for the soldiers at the front. Organization and co-operation were the keynotes of the campaign. As was proven agriculture was the industry mainly affected. Experts in agriculture had been secured to speak at the conference and would be heard later.

Minister of Agriculture Deals With Problems of Production and Objects of the Meeting—Relation of Conference to the War.

Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, Minister of Agriculture, followed His Honor and spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman: As this Convention is called together under the auspices of the Government for the purpose of inaugurating a greater Production Campaign, it becomes my duty as Minister of Agriculture to explain to the convention the urgency of such a movement. The Government in the short time since they assumed control of the business of the Province, having been pressed with matters affecting the public services, now realize by reason of seeding season being close at hand immediate and concentrated action must be taken to provide food supply not only for the sustenance of our own people at home but that large surpluses must be produced for the maintenance of the allied forces now engaged in the awful world struggle fighting for the principles of liberty, justice, freedom and Christianity, as against tyranny, oppression and slavery. The importance of such a movement is so imminent that all other matters of public concern must have secondary consideration, and while the Government have resolved to spare no pains or means to advance this movement, the heads of the departments, together with their staffs will devote their time and energy, more particularly the department of agriculture, in assisting in every way possible.

HON. J. F. TWEEDDALE

BANISH PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order is the pimples, unsightly eruptions and eczema that come frequently with the change from winter to spring. These prove that the long indoor life of winter has had its effect upon the blood, and that a tonic medicine is needed to put it right. Indeed there are few people who do not need a tonic at this season. Bad blood does not merely show itself in disfiguring eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago; the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia, poor appetite and a desire to avoid exertion. You cannot cure these troubles by the use of purgative medicines—you need a tonic, and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their tonic, life-giving, nerve-restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired, ailing men, women and children. If you are out of sorts give this medicine a trial and see how quickly it will restore the appetite, revive drooping spirits, and fill your veins with new, health-giving blood.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

who would act and assist in bringing into action every hour of time, every pound of energy to co-operate with nature in making every acre to produce food supplies for the maintenance of the fighting forces at the front in their gigantic struggle to protect our homes, our liberties and all the blessings we enjoy under the British flag. The ingenuity of man has surpassed itself in all other lines of human invention, in its efforts to devise and construct fearful engines of destruction to life and property, in the air, on the land, on the seas and under the seas. The ablest brain force of the most powerful minds of the great nations of the earth are active with intrigue and diplomacy throwing the whole weight of their countries' resources in human life and treasure into the struggle determined to exhaust human endurance in their efforts for supremacy. From this distance it seems as if the great unseen power of light and righteousness was in a gigantic struggle with the powers of darkness for supremacy on the earth. Thousands of our young men have fallen in their endeavors to sustain British arms. Some are falling at this moment. What are we doing to strengthen the hands of the men who are risking and sacrificing their lives for the protection of our home, property and the grand privileges we enjoy under British institutions?

Lloyd George's Statement.

Because of the submarine peril food supply is as much munitions of war as are shells. Premier Lloyd George says in a letter addressed to the farmers throughout the empire:

"The line which the British Empire holds against the Germans is held by those who work on the land, as well as by those who fight on the land, and sea. If it breaks at any point it breaks everywhere. In the face of the enemy the seamen of our Royal Naval and Mercantile Marine, and the soldiers gathered from every part of our empire hold our line firstly. Your workers on land must hold your part of our line as strongly. Every full day's labor you do helps to shorten the struggle and bring us nearer victory. Every idle day, all loitering, lengthens the struggle and makes defeat more possible. Therefore in the nation's hour of need, acquit yourselves like men and as workers on land do your duty with all your strength." The best authority on the world's food supply sees imminent danger of a world famine.

American Opinion. David Lubin, representative of the United States to the International Institute of Agriculture maintained by forty governments, reports officially at Washington that the food grains of the world on March 31st 1917, showed a shortage of one hundred and fifty million bushels below the amount necessary to feed the world until August, 1917. He declares it is beyond question that unless a greater acreage is put to crop in 1917 there will be world hunger before the 1918 crop is harvested.

Under date of April 10th, Ogden Armour, executive head of Armour & Company, one of the world's largest dealers in food products stated that unless the United States wished to walk deliberately into a catastrophe the best brains of the country under (Continued on page 3.)
