OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.SALAD DRESSING.Salads and salad dressings enter so importantly into the menu of the summer meal that it is a subject worthy the housewife's close interest. We are thankful that the salad known so long abroad as an integral part of every dinner is also becoming a part of our American meal more frequently.
The cool, crisp "dressed lettuce," chicory, romaine, etc., always served abroad, are beginning to be appreciated here, and much more interest is being taken in salad and salad making.A salad dressing without oil is like "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out, and the basis of every good dressing is a good rich and flavorful oil. All dressings can be roughly divided into three groups, of which there are many modifications.

1. French dressing (uncooked oil, vinegar and seasonings).
2. Boiled or cream dressing (cooked in vinegar, eggs, milk, etc.)
3. Mayonnaise (uncooked oil, vinegar, seasonings and eggs.)

The Accepted Salad Oil.For both dressings 1 and 3, success depends on both the kind of oil and the way it is manipulated. Olive oil has, by tradition, become the accepted salad oil and there is no doubt that it is the most nourishing and the oil with the most body and flavor. However, its price has soared so that now 90 cents and more per quart is asked for it.In buying any oil one cannot be too scrupulous about looking at the label.
If you have a trustworthy Italian fruit dealer, by all means purchase from him the tin cans of oil, which he honestly does import from Italy and sells generally at a lower price. If you do not have such a dealer, go to the most reliable grocer and take his word for the quality of the oil. It is better to purchase in cans than in bottle, first, because the tall, tapering bottle is liable to break, and again because the can keeps out the light and is cooler, and it preserves the oil longer.Other Salad Oils.But olive oil is not the only possible salad oil. For a long time there has been manufactured excellent cottonseed oil in America. Cottonseed oilhas a high rate of nutrition and also a pleasant flavor. The reason it has, in the past, been so criticized and scorned by the housewife was that the manufacturers foolishly did not put it out under its own true name, cottonseed, but allowed it to masquerade in the false guise of "salad oil." This permitted numbers of inferior grades of cottonseed oil and other cheap oils to be palmed off on the unsuspecting consumer and hence arose a distrust of anything but olive oil.Again, modern discovery has given up peanut oil, of a delightful color and nutty flavor. It is just as wholesome as olive oil and considerably lower in price.CASTORIA

of Prohibition!*Hon. Nicholas IserguineInspector of State Savings Banks of Russian Empire states, in regard to effect of Prohibition:
"We have about doubled in less than three years the amount accumulated in seven-three years previous to the outbreak of the war, for our State banks are about seventy-five years old."Former Attor.-Gen. Baxterin introducing the Prohibition Act said: "I do not think that I need discuss the question of whether Prohibition prohibits.
That depends upon you and me. If those in the community who hold the moral forces under their particular care—if they do their duty—if they let petty things go and if they stand back of the men who live under the law and persistently and insistently urge these men to respect the law—for without respect the law becomes of no value whatever—to respect this law as they would any other law, if the moral and social leaders of our country will but rise to the occasion and do their duty, there is no fear but that a prohibitory law, like any other law, can be enforced within the Province of New Brunswick."Premier Fosteras leader of the Opposition, in speaking of Prohibition said:
"That in his opinion the Temperance question is not a question of party politics. Prohibition, after all, affects everyone directly or indirectly and is therefore too big and broad a matter to be dealt with politically. The law is to-day on the Statute Books, and if we are returned to power when May 1st comes the Prohibition bill will be put into effect, and we will enforce it as far as it lies in our power to do so."In these critical days when governing bodies the world over are imploring everyone to increase production of food, when our armies are crying for men, munitions, ships—when every resource, however small, is a vital asset—waste is intolerable.New Brunswick stands second to none in her loyalty to the vital cause of the Empire. Of her sacrifices of precious boys, her wealth and resources she is justly proud. With effective Prohibition laws in force throughout the province, she will tolerate no waste due to lax enforcement of Prohibition. Her resolve, however, demands a united public opinion in favor of strictest enforcement.Help to Enforce ProhibitionThe "PIONEER" (published in Toronto) is authority for the statement that in Canada the total value of foodstuffs destroyed by the liquor traffic in 1916 was approximately $4,244,090.22. Add to this the immense loss of transportation facilities, clogged and hindered by carrying the grain to destruction, and again conveying the product of the breweries and distilleries to make precious men less efficient in this solemn hour!Russia—Some idea of the enormous effect of Prohibition is afforded by the wonderful example of Russia. The whole country is "bone dry." The people declare they never will back-slide to vodka. In spite of the fact that millions of producers have been in the army the savings of the people enormously increased. In 1912 and 1913 they were saving, per year, about $20,000,000. In the first five months under Prohibition they saved $60,000,000. In 1915 the banks took in $265,000,000. For the first half of 1916, the Russian people saved $300,000,000!The shortage of revenue from the tax on vodka is gradually being made up by increase in other revenue, due to the savings and greater efficiency of the people. In spite of the ravages of war there is less begging and misery. "With vodka on her back, she could neverhave held the Germans back. Russia has helped to save Europe."On May 1st 1917, the putting into effect of the Prohibitory Act in New Brunswick placed in our hands a powerful instrument. The success of Prohibition depends upon our use of the instrument, just the same as success in battle depends upon the general's intelligent, vigorous use of his forces.No matter where you live, whether your district is under the Canada Temperance Act or under the new Prohibitory Act, you are urged to use every legitimate means within your power of support and aid the officers of the law in their sworn duty of enforcement.Use your influence to build up such a weight of public opinion in favor of strictest enforcement of both the Scott Act and the Prohibitory Act that the success of Province-wide Prohibition will be permanent.Dominion Temperance Alliance*NEW BRUNSWICK BRANCH*DONALD FRASER, President
