HISTORIC CITY OF BAGDAD OCCUPIED BY BRITISH

Wonderful Success Achieved in the Mesopotamia Campaign--The Turkish Forces Driven Back and Routed--British Prestige in the Far East Will Now be Rehabilitated--General Maude in Command of the Victorious Army.

London, March 11.—General Frederick Stanley Maude, in command of the Entente forces in Mesopotamia, telegraphed today the welcome news for the British of the occupation early this morning of the city of Bagdad, the chief Turkish city in Mesopotamia, and formerly the capital of the empire of the Caliphs.

No details of the capture have yet been received, Gen. Maude's story of the operations carrying events only up to Saturday morning, when the British effected a surprise crossing of the Diala and bridging the Tigris, had driven the Turks back to within three miles of Bagdad. It is evident, however, that the Turks have been unable to offer any serious resistance since the fall of Kut-el-Amara. They were said to be hastily summoning reinforcements from other theatres of the war where Turks were engaged, but the distances to be covered were so great that additional forces were unable to arrive in time to save the ancient city, which, after Mecca, occupies first place in the Mohammedan imagination.

The fall of Bagdad, besides ending German hopes of near eastern dominion, based on a Berlin-Bagdad railway, will reverberate throughout the Mohammedan empires, and it is believed will more than rehabilitate British prestige in the far east, damaged by the earlier losses of Kut-el-Amara.

Comes at Opportune Time.

Perhaps no more welcome news could come at a time when the British public for the first time, owing to the submarine warfare, is beginning to feel the effects of the war in a greatly reduced food supply, besides being thrown into a fit of depression by the revelations of the Dardanelles report. Further news must be awaited before it is known whether General Maude made important captures of Turkish troops or guns, either before or at Bagdad.

Apparently the occupation was effected without resistance, and with only slight losses. Even if the Turks succeeded in extricating all their forces, the loss of Bagdad is a grave blow to them. Bagdad has been the base for all Turkish operations in Persia. Up to within a few days the Turks occupied about 30,000 square miles of Persian territory, but with the Russians pressing them closely from Kirmanshah, as well as from the direction of Erzerum, indications point to a speedy junction of the British and Russian forces, which would soon compel the Turks to evacuate Persian territory.

REIGHT BLOCKADE CONTINUES.

The relief in the freight situation which was promised by the Canadian Pacific Railway through the division superintendent, Mr. H. C. Grout, has not materialized. Mr. Grout informed the transportation committee of the Fredericton Board of Trade a few days ago that two extra freight trains would be put on to move freight for the Maritime Provinces which has been held up at Montreal.

Oats, bran, middlings and other heavy feeds are urgently needed locally by dealers, and corn is also wanted by the grist mills here.

Merchants are again making representations to the railway authorities in the matter.
