CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. RECIPES.

Rice Meringue.

One cup of rice boiled until soft. Drain off the water and let the rice cool. Then add a quart of milk and the well beaten yolks of three eggs. Flavor with vanilla, three tablespoonfuls of sugar and grated nutmeg, and bake for about half an hour. When slightly cool, beat the whites of three eggs to a stiff froth with two tablespoonfuls of sugar and spread over the top. Brown this meringue and serve either at once or when cold, with a side dish of pelly.

Orange Omelet.

To a regular omelet add for each egg a tablespoonful of orange juice and grated orange peel, mixed.

Egg and Cress Sandwiches.

Pass the yolks of four or more eggs through a sieve and pound them to a paste with two tablespoonfuls of butter. Season with salt, pepper, a dust of curry powder and a teaspoonful of vinegar. Add two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped cress. Spread some buttered slices of thin bread with the paste, make into sandwiches.

Baked Apples and Cocoanuts.

Sprinkle freshly grated cocoanut on baked apples just before serving.

Asparagus.

Croutades of asparagus are worth the trouble their making requires. To make them cut a loaf of bread in three-inch cubes. Hollow out the centre of each and fry the cases golden brown in deep fat. Drain them and fill them with cooked asparagus cut into small pieces and covered with well seasoned rich cream sauce.

Orange Pudding.

Put slices of sponge cake in the bottom of a serving dish or else in individual dishes. On each slice put two or three sections of orange. Sprinkle with sugar and then on each piece of sponge cake put a teaspoonful of orange marmalade. Then over all pour some custard and serve chilled.

IN NEW GUISE.

New ways of serving ordinary foods—which have now become luxuries—will help the housewife in her had economics.

Potatoes With Cheese

can be served in place of meat and potatoes. Bake six or seven medium potatoes and remove the pulp without crushing the shells. Mash and mix with 1 teaspoonful of butter, ½ cup milk, 1 cup grated cheese and salt and pepper to taste. Beat with a fork until light and creamy and fill the potato skins, dust the top with grated cheese and any remaining potato, and brown in the oven.

WITHDRAWAL OF COX HORSES MAIN TOPIC

Charter Oak People and Famous Reinsman Still at Loggerheads—Entries Seriously Affected.

Frank G. Trott writing in the Boston Globe concerning Walter Cox and his trouble with the Hartford track says:

The dullness that prevails in the harness horse world because of the miserable weather has been enlivened a bit by the news sent out from Hartford that the entries of Walter Cox for the Grand Circuit races have not been accepted because they were made provisionally.

The New Hampshire reinsman has stated that he would never race over Charter Oak under the men who acted as judges in the six-heat St. Frisco-Mabel Trask struggle last fall, so it is fair to assume that if he made any entries at Hartford two weeks ago it was with the condition that these men should not officiate again.

Few Entries.

Not much information has been given out as to how the classes filled at Charter Oak. The Hartford Courant of last Saturday published the entries in "The Battle Royal" and the two colt races, but made no mention of the Charter Oak or the other events, which are said to have received around 16 nominations each.

The Battle Royal has only three entries, Volga, St. Frisco and Zomreot. This seems to bear out the story that Cox and the Hartford management have decided to get along without one another this season.

The Battle Royal has a later closing clause and it may be that along in August another fast horse will drop in. Should this happen, the race is on, but otherwise it is off, as the rules say "four to enter."

Within His Rights.

Cox was well within his rights in asking Hartford to furnish different judges, and it would seem to have been wisdom for the management to have complied with his request.

Barton Pardee, owner of Mabel Trask, is the kind of sportsman the turf needs, and any race-giving organization that would not go the limit in trying to keep him interested in harness horses is seemingly failing in its duty to the sport.

Previous Trouble.

Pardee has just grounds to be grieved at his treatment by the Hartford judges Cox objects to, and the Mabel Trask-St. Frisco race is not the entire cause. Two years ago, his horse, Judge Ormonde, was disqualified for a foul drive of Valentine in the stretch and, as last year, a horse driven by Ed. Geers was the gainer.

Hartford will, of course, have a successful meeting without the Cox horses, but the public will miss them and the best interests of the sport demand that they be there.

SPORTSMEN FALL IN FIELD

London, May 15.—Many famous British sportsmen have fallen in action in the recent severe fighting on the Western front. Lieut. C. H. Atkinson, killed, was captain of the Rugby fifteen, and a member of the cricket and hockey elevens when at Marlborough. Lieut. N. S. Flint, who has been wounded for the second time, is the prominent Marlow Rowing Club carman.

Capt. F. K. Symonds-Taylor, who has died from wounds, was educated at Bedford and at Cambridge, where he rowed in his college four and eight. Lieut. F. J. Farnham, killed while advancing with his battery, played for Cambridge University in the soccer match against Oxford in 1913-14.

WILLARD IS IN GOOD SHAPE

Jess Willard surprised the critics when he appeared in Brooklyn with the Buffalo Bill show. Instead of being a prize fat man the big champion was to all appearances quite ready for a whirl with the gloves. He confessed to 265 pounds, with five pounds as a leeway. He might have been spoofing to the tune of ten pounds, but there is no mistaking his good condition. He boxed well, and at the finish he allowed Walter Monohan to belt away at his middle with the same unconcern he displayed the week after he knocked out Johnson. With two months of quiet and sincere work, there is no question but that Willard could be ready to give quite an account of himself. He claims to have just passed thirty. What a pity that Jess didn't have the advantage of at least five years of usefulness. Had he won his title under the age of twenty-five, he would have set a record for money making that never could be reached by a gloveman. As it is, he will retire the richest man that the ring ever produced.

SISLER LEADS BATTERS IN AMERICANS

Crowded Tris Speaker Out of First Position—Smith of St. Louis Leading the National League.

Chicago, May 14.—George Sisler of St. Louis has crowded Tris Speaker of Cleveland out of the lead for hitting honors in the American league. Sisler is leading, with an average of .393, although Rumlir, a St. Louis pinch hitter, batting seventeen times in ten games, has an average of .429. Speaker, the 1916 batting champion, has fallen into fourth place. St. Louis is leading in team batting, with an average of .255, having five hitters in the .300 class.

Leading hitters: Rumlir, St. Louis, .426; Sisler, St. Louis, .393; Mo-inis, Philadelphia, .382; Speaker, Cleveland, .377; E. Johnson, St. Louis, .333; Wambaganss, Cleveland, .321; Judge, Washington, .317; Miller, St. Louis, .316; Milan, Washington, .313; Cobb, Detroit, .309.

In the National league the leading hitters are: Smith, St. Louis, .524; Rousch, Cincinnati, .429; Burns, New York, .373; Reuther, Chicago, .370; Herzog, New York, .361; Cravath, Philadelphia, .357; Cruise, St. Louis, .353; Kauff, New York, .339; Elliott, Chicago, .333; Baird, Pittsburgh, .329. New York is ahead in team batting with an average of .266.

WELSH MATCHED WITH LEONARD

New York, May 14.—Announcement is made that negotiations have been completed for a match between Freddie Welsh of England, holder of the world's lightweight championship title, and Benny Leonard. The boxers will come together for ten rounds on May 28.

This will be the third meeting between these two boxers. In their first Leonard gained the popular decision, but Welsh came back later and squared accounts. In his ring exhibitions since this latter engagement, however, Leonard has shown wonderful improvement, and there are many who hold opinion that he is the master of Welsh. Leonard's feat in knocking out Ritchie Mitchell several weeks ago has caused him to gain recognition as this country's leading lightweight boxer.
