"I FEEL LIKE A NEW BEING"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought The Joy Of Health After Two Years' Suffering

MADAM LAPLANTE

85 St. Rose St., Montreal. April 4th. "For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant headaches, and had palpitation of the heart so badly that I feared I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the constipation was dreadful. I suffered from pain in the back and kidney disease."

I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried "Fruit-a-tives" as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no headaches, no palpitation, no heart trouble, no constipation, no pain or kidney trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was "Fruit-a-tives" that gave me back my health."

BURGLARY WAS ONCE A HANGING CRIME IN ST. JOHN

According to a writer in the Halifax Recorder, who apparently has the documents to prove his case, the crime of burglary carried with it capital punishment in St. John less than a century ago. Here is the story as taken from the columns of the Recorder:

Old Time Justice.

Executions for burglary were not uncommon a century and a half ago. In 1785 four men who were convicted of burglary in St. John, N. B., were sentenced to be hanged. Two of these were afterwards pardoned, on condition of leaving the province; the other two were duly hanged. The two men who suffered the extreme penalty were Fitzgerald and Clarke. Fitzgerald was born in Limerick, Ireland, in 1763, and at the age of sixteen commenced a wild career. When nineteen he was condemned for his crimes, but pardoned. In his twenty-second year he and six others broke open the house of Rev. Mr. Buckner, of Crome, Ireland, and "carried off 15,000 guineas without being detected." The sum of $75,000 seems to be a large amount of money for even a clergyman to keep in his house, but that is what is recorded. In 1785 Fitzgerald was convicted of other crimes, and was sentenced to death, but was reprieved, and his transportation to Botany Bay, Australia, was ordered, with 133 others. "Yet," says the narrative, "the captain steered his course for Nova Scotia, in order to sell them as independent servants, bound for the payment of their passage money. But it being discovered that they were convicts, the captain was compelled to take them back again. He then carried them to Little River, in the state of Massachusetts, and put them on shore opposite to the island of Grand Manan, in the Bay of Fundy." Having committed theft in that state he went to St. John "where he found several of his fellow convicts encouraging each other in their wicked courses." After committing several thefts, Fitzgerald was taken up for the burglary for which he was executed.

Clarke was also born in Ireland, and was about the same age as Fitzgerald. "Having acted unfaithfully to the trust reposed in him by his father," he enlisted as a soldier; deserted, committed several thefts, again enlisted, came to America and served to the end of the war-doubtless the war of the revolution. Being then discharged, he again enlisted, and after trials by courts martial for thefts and misdemeanors he was discharged. In 1786 he was, with two others, sentenced to death for a burglary at Halifax, but was pardoned on condition that he become the executioner of the two others, "which, it is said, he did with their consent." Afterwards he was guilty of a variety of crimes, and the town no doubt becoming too hot for him he went to St. John on October 18, 1789, and was prevailed on by one of the female convicts from Ireland, and another woman to commit the burglary for which he afterwards suffered death.

Perhaps the last execution in St. John for burglary was in 1827, when Patrick Burgan, 18 years of age, was put to death for entering the house of John B. Smith, ginger beer manufacturer, corner of Union street and Drury Lane, and stealing a quarter of a dollar. The condemned man had been recommended to mercy, but the governor, Sir Howard Douglas, declined to interfere with the course of the law.

FOOD CONTROL IS NOW REALITY

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

Washington, Oct. 11.—The machinery of the food administration was set in motion today to complete preparations for government control by Nov. 3rd of twenty of America's principal foodstuffs.

Authority to assume supervision over the leading articles of diet vested in Herbert Hoover by proclamation of President Wilson issued last night. Under the terms of the order, licenses will be required for the manufacture, storage and distribution of flour, bread, meats, potatoes, sugar, butter and dairy products, canned foods, rice, staple vegetables and other stipulated commodities.

Farmers and small producers are specially exempted.

HOOF PRINTS.

Charles H. Traiser was a mightily pleased owner when Royal Cadet won at Brockton in 2.12 1/4.

J. D. Callery drove his pole team Brighton B., 2.05 1/2, and Lettie Lee, 2.06 3/4, a mile in 2.07 3/4 Saturday at Lexington.

Not much space is given to the merits of Worthy Volo, yet this half-brother to Peter Volo was timed in 2.05 1/4 in the Horse Breeder Futurity.

Winning both the Walnut Hall Cup and Transylvania was too much of a task for even such a sterling race horse as Early Dreams.

W. H. "Knapsack" McCarthy has passed on at the age of 63 years. His death was the result of an accident while driving in a race at Carrollton, Ill.

Norman Tallman paraded a couple of pretty fair trotters owned by Chas. and George Leonard at Brockton, Peter Mozart, winner of two races, and On the Rhine, first in one start and second in another.

TRAINMEN ARE AGAIN AFTER MORE WAGES

Montreal, Oct. 11.—Representatives of four thousand conductors and trainmen of the Grand Trunk are conferring with U. E. Gillen, vice-president in charge of operations, with reference to an increase of wages.

The engineers and firemen of the Grand Trunk are conferring with W. D. Robb, vice-president in charge of motive power, with a view to increased wages.

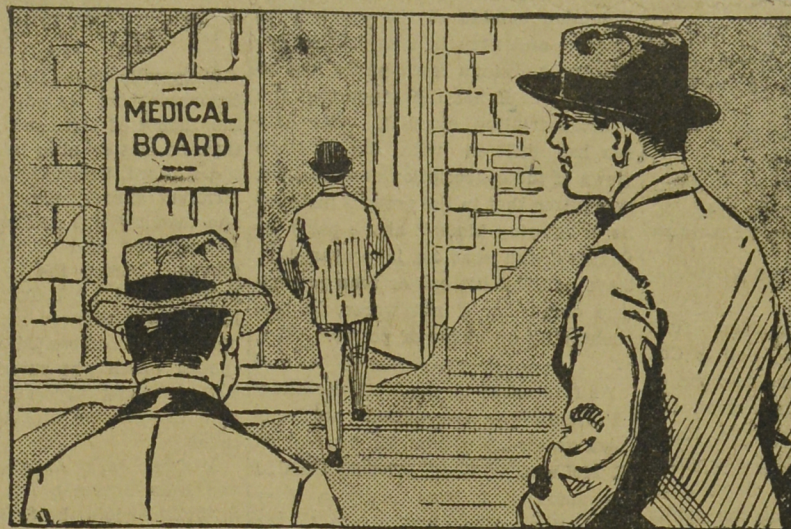

Both conferences, so far, have been of a friendly nature. Engineers and conductors at present earn from $125 to $175 per month, occasionally running up as high as $220 per month where the trains are very important.

PLOT TO EXPORT TUNGSTEN WAS DISCOVERED

New York, Oct. 11.—A plot to export tungsten, a metal used to harden steel, from this country, on board a Scandinavian-American liner, in violation of the espionage act and President Wilson's proclamation, was broken up today by federal agents with the arrest of three men here. The illicit export of the metal, presumably for Germany, has been going on for some time, the United States attorney announced.

SMALL SERIES MONEY AT ST. LOU

St. Louis, Oct. 11.—The St. Louis Nationals, winners of the St. Louis city series, will divide $2,361, less than $100 to a player. The St. Louis Americans will divide $1,574. The total receipts for the seven games played on five days were $7,567. Of this $756 goes to the National Commission and $3,876 is divided among the two clubs.

Medical Boards are Ready!

Medical Boards are now ready to examine all men who apply as to their physical fitness for military service. These boards are established throughout this district.

Upon examination, the Medical Board will classify each applicant according to his fitness; into Category A if he is fit for service in overseas fighting units; Category B if fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalions, etc.; Category C if fit for service in Canada only, etc.

Only men whose medical examination places them in Category A will be included amongst those required to join the colours in the first instance; the man placed in any other Category will remain at home until men in the Category to which he has been assigned are called to the colours. The men placed in Category A may still apply for exemption on any ground.

Men between the ages of 20 to 34 inclusive, who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917, are strongly advised to report before a Medical Board at once. This is the quickest and surest way for them to find out their status under the Act.

Parents and employers are also urged to have those in whose cases they are specially interested visit a Medical Board and undergo examination. The methods of examination are simple and will result in no discomfort or inconvenience.

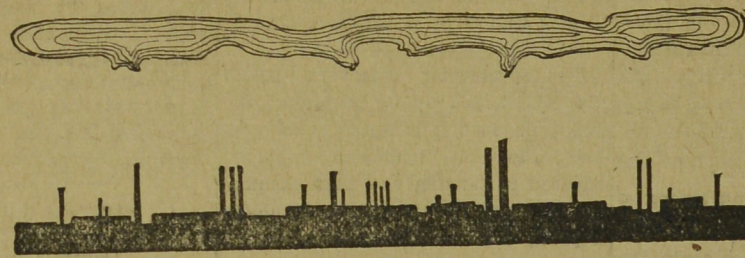

Now is the time for employers to obtain facts of the greatest value to them in making their calculations. The Medical Boards will determine how many of their employees will be left at home for physical reasons and how many will be selected for service unless an application for exemption be made with success.

Issued by The Military Service Council.

THE PRICE OF HOMAGE

ONCE when King Edward VII. paid a visit to Sheffield, all the fires in factories and plants were allowed to die out. Not a wheel in Sheffield turned for twenty-four hours. The primary object of this was to lift the pall of smoke that hovers over that wonderful steel-producing city, and to ensure, as far as man was able, a bright day and a blue sky for an auspicious occasion. It was Sheffield's expression of respect.

BUT the action was unique—it was unprecedented—it was unthought of that those hundreds of mighty furnaces, raging night and day, and those seething boilers, with quivering valves, should ever be allowed to cool. This extinguishing of fires cost Sheffield hundreds of thousands of dollars—the price of the effort to get back again to high-power efficiency.

SOME business men in Canada pay an unwitting homage, not to a king, but to a superstition—the superstition that hot weather justifies letting the fires of business energy go out. They stop Advertising in the Summer months. By paying homage to tradition, custom, superstition, they have allowed Summer to become their "dull" season. You know how dull it can be when you don't advertise. Do you know how brisk it can be made by Advertising? Do you realize how much momentum you now lose in the Summer that must be regained in the Fall?

DON'T LET YOUR ADVERTISING FIRES DIE OUT THIS SUMMER.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—write, if interested.
