TO REGULATE FOOD EXPORTS TO CANADA

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

Washington, Sept. 15.—Shipment of certain foods to Canada and Newfoundland under a ruling last night by experts of the administrative board, hereafter will require the same form of license demanded for their export to other countries. Heretofore they have gone forward under blanket licenses issued by collectors of customs.

The purpose of the order, it was explained, is to provide means of closer co-operation between the American and Canadian food administrators, and to put the United States in position to conserve its supplies if shortages appear likely. The foods named are wheat, wheat flour, butter and sugar.

For the present, it is understood, there is no intention to restrict food shipments to Canada, to any marked extent. It may be necessary later on, however, to regulate exports somewhat. Shipments now in transit are expected in the order, which also makes provisions for small shipments by producers and dealers living close to the border.

TEN LITTLE GARDEN TOOLS

Ten little garden tools, standing in a line;

The rake ran off to scratch the grass,

then there were nine.

Nine little garden tools, one without a mate;

The sickle went to look for one, then there were eight.

Eight little garden tools—the set had been eleven—

The sprinkler went to get a drink then there were seven.

Seven little garden tools, standing on the bricks;

Teh trowel went to lift a bulb, then there were six.

Six little garden tools seemed to be alive;

The rose spray ran to kill a slug, then there were five.

Five little garden tools, talking matters over;

The grass shears wiggled off to work, then there were four.

Four little garden tools, playing gleefully;

The pruning knife grew tired and quit then there were three.

Three little garden tools, looking somewhat blue;

The spade moved on to help the rake, then there were two.

Two little garden tools, blinking in the sun;

The mower swept across the lawn, then there was one.

One little garden tool, very much bereft;

The hose curled up and rolled away, not a one was left!

REAL SPEED

Some time ago a young man in the army whose folks live in an interior town of Arkansas, was sent to the Philippines. Upon his arrival in the islands he sent a cablegram to his father back home. The day after the message arrived the father was speaking about it to a friend.

"Great thing, that cable, Bill," remarked the parent. "Just think of that message comin' all them thousands of miles!"

"Yes," was the hearty response of Bill, "and so thunderin' quick, too."

"Thunderin' quick!" exclaimed the father. "Well, I should say so! When I got that message the mucilage was not dry yet!"

OVERWORKED

An old guide at Yellowstone Park was minus the first finger of his right hand. An inquisitive tourist noticed and became curious.

"How did you lose your finger, my this and became curious.

"Well," he replied slowly, "I've been a guide in this park for 25 years and I just naturally wore that finger off pointing out places of interest to the tourists."

COULD HE, PERADVENTURE, HAVE RUN OUT OF CASH?

(From the Waukegan Gazette)

People are never satisfied and for that reason A. W. Innes returned from his vacation at Markinac Island before he was really ready to do so, although he had nothing to do when he got here.
