OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

USE SWEET CORN FREELY.

Will Save Less Perishable Products
For Fall and Winter.

The American woman may not like her Indian sister of old sing the mysteries of Mondamin, sing the blessings of the cornfields.

Nevertheless she has plenty of cause to bless America's great corn crop. It will help carry the whole world through a hard year.

Cooking of the true Indian corn belongs properly to fall and winter, when the housekeeper handles it in the form of cornmeal.

Escalloped Corn.

Cut the corn from six ears, and spread the layer in a buttered baking dish, add a layer of bread crumbs and sprinkle them with salt and pepper, and dot with bits of butter. Fill dish with alternate layers of corn and crumbs, add 1 cupful of milk, and bake 20 minutes. This is a good way to use up cold boiled corn.

Corn Fritters.

Scrape, grate or press out the pulp of the kernels from 5 ears of corn. Mix with the yolks of two eggs and 1 cupful of milk, then stir in 1 cupful of corn sifted with a half teaspoonful of salt and 1 teaspoonful of baking powder.

Season with pepper and fold in the beaten whites of the eggs. Drop by tablespoonfuls into deep fat, drain and serve very hot. By adding a little more flour, this recipe may be used for corn cakes, to be cooked on a griddle.

Corn Gems.

Measure two cupfuls of grated corn pulp and mix with two cupfuls of milk and the beaten yolks of three eggs. Add three cupfuls of flour sifted with two tablespoonfuls of baking powder and a half teaspoonful of salt.

Then fold in the beaten whites of the eggs, turn into well greased gem pans and bake half an hour in a moderate oven.

Corn Chowder.

Cut a slice of salt pork in small pieces and fry out the fat, add 1 onion, sliced, and cook 5 minutes. Parboil 4 cupfuls of sliced potatoes and add to the fat, then turn in two cupfuls of boiling water and cook potatoes until tender. Mix with four cupfuls scalded milk and 4 cupfuls corn pulp, heat to boiling point, season with salt and pepper, add 3 common crackers and 3 tablespoonfuls butter, and serve very hot.

Drying Corn.

Only very young and tender corn should be used for drying. Cook in boiling water 2 to 5 minutes—long enough to set the milk. Cut the kernels from the cob with a sharp knife, taking care not to cut off pieces of the cob. Spread thinly on trays, and place in position to dry. Stir occasionally until dry.

In Spain there is registered a greater percentage of sunshine per year than in any other part of the world.
