"This bulk tea is the best I could buy at the price, Mrs. Brown, but I believe you will like Red Rose better."

"We use Red Rose at home and like the rich flavor. My wife says it goes further."

Hundreds of grocers are making statements somewhat like this.

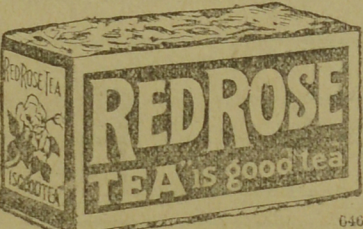

They have sold Red Rose Tea for many years and have found the quality so good that they use it in their homes.

Most grocers naturally like to make an extra profit on their bulk tea, but they cannot help recommending Red Rose Tea because they know it's worth the price.

They know it goes further because it consists chiefly of the teas from Assam in Northern India, the strongest, richest teas grown anywhere in the world.

Red Rose tastes better and goes further.

NO FURLONGHS FOR CANADIANS AT PRESENT

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

Ottawa, Nov. 29. — Asked this morning as to the statement attributed to him by Mr. A. E. Frapp at a meeting here last night that if 100,000 men were obtained through conscription, the men of the first Canadian division overseas would be allowed a furlough, General Mewburn, minister of militia, declared that until sufficient reinforcements are available, it is impossible to grant a furlough. The minister of militia issued the following statement in connection with the matter:

"The department of militia and defence this morning took up the question of the possibility of giving men of the first contingent furloughs to come home, especially the married men. Australia also desires to give their first contingent furlough. The lack of reinforcements made is impossible in both cases, to carry out the desire of the military authorities. The matter has again been taken up with the overseas to see if anything can be accomplished and General Currie is as anxious as anyone else that these men, who have borne the burden at the front for some three years, should be relieved, but it is impossible at the present time to carry this out until sufficient reinforcements are available."

The day has passed when a woman's face turned gradually from a poem into a hieroglyphic; the worst that she permits to happen to it now is a slight change of overtone.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for liver and bowels, bad breath, bad colds, sour stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels, or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.

MARRIED MEN NOT LIKELY TO BE CALLED OUT

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

Montreal, Nov. 29. — Addressing an audience in Verdun last evening Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, said that the government expected to get the 100,000 men required under the Military Service Act from the single men class. Continuing the minister of justice stated:

"I have not desire to hide the fact that if the class now called up does not produce the men wanted — which I look upon as incredible — I do not think that the people of Canada would suggest that we should drop our military effort because we do not get them from the unmarried men."

Mr. Doherty said the question of whether the number required under the act was forthcoming from the single men class depended upon the proposed administration of the measure. People, he said, must not run away with the idea that because they saw in the newspapers that the local tribunals were indiscriminately granting exemptions that meant they were doing an absolutely settled thing. What they were doing seemed to indicate that in some cases there were too many exemptions. He did not wish to pronounce judgment offhand without knowing all the facts. However, the decision of the local tribunals was not going to end it. Appeals would be taken whenever circumstances justified them. In conclusion Mr. Doherty said: "I may say with full confidence that we will secure from the single men class the 100,000 men and that there is at the present time no intention that to get them it will be necessary to go beyond that class."

MEMBER OF A QUEBEC BOARD CHARGES FRAUD

(Canadian Press direct wire.)

Quebec, Nov. 23. — Magistrate Simard, a member of the Military Exemption board at Baie St. Paul, has resigned and sent the following letter to Mr. E. L. Newcombe, deputy minister of justice at Ottawa:

"Jules Gobeil, advocate, son of the registrar at Quebec, has prepared means of exemption for a large number of men liable to be called to the militia and he has asked each of them $5, $10 and $15. He has also promised these men that they would obtain their exemption as he is related to the registrar; he takes an active part in politics and now he is a member of exemption tribunal No. 47, Baie St. Paul, and was appointed by his father, he says. I have handed all these facts to Registrar Gobeil yesterday, (November 19th) and still his son remains a member of the tribunal. For the last twenty-one years I have been active as district and I never saw a judge prepare proceedings in a case, given counsel and even promised success, who could sit and decide in said case. I am tired of walking in this dirt and send me permission to retire."

DON'T DIET YOURSELF TO CURE DYSPEPSIA IT ISN'T NECESSARY.

The sufferer from dyspepsia and indigestion who has to pick and choose his food is the most miserable of all mankind.

Even the little he does eat causes such torture and is digested so imperfectly that it does him little good.

What dyspepsia needs is not dieting or artificial digestants, but something that will put their stomach right so it will manufacture its own digestive ferments.

For forty years now Burdock Blood Bitters has been making weak stomachs strong, and curing severe cases of dyspepsia and indigestion that other remedies were powerless to reach.

It restores the stomach to a normal healthy condition, so that the food no longer causes distress, but is thoroughly digested and assimilated, and goes on its way making rich, red blood.

Mrs. Henry Shaw, Campbellton, N. B., writes: "I was for five years troubled with a weak stomach, and could not eat any food that would agree with me. I tried different medicines, but could not get cured. A friend advised me to take Burdock Blood Bitters. I took four bottles, and now I am in perfect health."

Slants of Humor

BEAU BRUMMEL, 1917.

My shoes are worn, my hat is battered;

My clothing, of an ancient cut,
Is clean and pressed, but patched and
tattered;
I am a shabby creature—but
Men of affairs make me their model,
Upon me winsome ladies smile;
Fine feathers for the mollycoddle,
Threabare suit is quite in style!

Lang syne when I wor ragged raiment
I was not from suspicion free;
The tradesmen always asked prepay-
ment,
Loen ladies sicked the dog on me!
But now I set, I a mthe fashion.
I wear my rags for virtue's sake;
My royal meed to war's red passion,
Sign of my gift to Tommy's stake!

two huge dogs carved out of granite.

"Whenever they bark, sir," was the

GEMS OF POETRY

The following, written in 1896 by William Watson, seems applicable at the present time, and perhaps fits in a lesser degree, the character of the German kaiser.

TO THE SULTAN.

Caliph, I did thee wrong, I hailed thee
late,
Abdul the Damned, and would recall
my word,
It merged thee with the unillustrious
herd,
Who crowd the approaches to the infernal gate,
Spirits pregarious, equal in their state
As is the innumerable ocean bird,
Gannet or gull, whose wandering
plaint is heard
On Ailsa or Iona desolate;
For in a world where cruel deeds
abound,
The merely damned are legion. With such souls,
Is not each hollow and cranny of Top-
het crammed?
Thou with the brightest of Hell's aure-
oles,
Dost shine supreme, incomparably
crowned,
Immortally beyond all mortals dam-
ed.

of course, his keen eyed caddie had
not failed to observe.

Finally the youngster said: "You are a stranger in these parts, sir?"
"Not exactly. I was born here and all my folks were buried hereabouts."
Then, as the golfer lifted another piece of earth with his driver, the
caddie added:
"I don't think, sir, you'll get deep enough with your driver; you'd better take your iron."
