THE SHOOTING SEASON.

Today ushers in the shooting season with the accompanying dangers from the presence of hunters in the woods. The sportsman is usually a smoker, careless with matches and sparks from his pipe. This year, owing to the long dry spell, the wooded areas are especially inflammable. The least spark may be the cause of a conflagration, the result of which cannot be estimated.

An appeal is made to sportsmen to be careful with fire, to refrain from smoking while in the woods or, if this matches are thoroughly extinguished is impossible, to make sure that all matches are thoroughly extinguished and that live sparks do not fall on the dry leaves or grass.

If camp fires are necessary, guard them, and when no longer required, extinguish them. Tramping out a fire is not positive; fires frequently follow dry roots into accumulations of dry material, only to break out again when fanned by a high wind.

The destruction of the forest means also the destruction of the game and wild life therein, and it is therefore in the interests of the sportsmen, if for selfish reasons only, to be careful with fire.

Dr. Neely, M. P., in a speech at Chatham, Ont., a few days ago, defined his position with respect to the military service bill as follows: "I voted for compulsory service, but I pleaded with the government first to try thoroughly voluntary enlistment. I voted for the bill, and I want it to stay there on the statute books, but if we are going to win the war we must first undo some of the damnable things that have been done in the past three years. In order to get harmony and unity in Canada it will be necessary to do that. You must have in power for a little while at least the man who from 1896 to 1911 did so much to cement together the various elements in this country."

The following is one of the messages that Count Luxburg was able to send from Argentina to Berlin by way of Sweden:

July 9, 1917. No. 64.

Without showing any tendency to make concessions postpone reply to Argentine note until receipt of further reports. A change of ministry is probable. As regards Argentine steamers I recommend either compelling them to turn back, sinking them without leaving any traces, or letting them through. They are all quite small.

LUXBURG.

It is surprising in the light of the above that the Argentine government did not hand this cold-blooded murderer the end of a rope instead of his passports.

Montreal Herald: Nothing at the fair excited more interest last night than the moving picture in front of the grand stand showing Hon. W. J. Hanna in the act of thinking. It is a caution the way he broods for a minute, hatches out a decision, writes it down, and tosses it across the corner of his table to some varlet who presumably rushes forth and enforces the edict in every kitchen in Canada. If somebody would only call Mr. Hanna's attention to the need of controlling prices, perhaps there would be something doing along this line also. Evidently he can make things hum when once awakened to the need.

Halifax Chronicle: The importance of the question which Mr. E. M. Macdonald, M. P. for Pictou, raised in the House of Commons on Saturday last, with reference to the suspension of shell manufacturing in Canada, is emphasized by the announcement that the British government has just placed orders for shells and munitions in the United States, aggregating $250,000,000. It is time for the Minister of Finance to get busy—or Canadian workmen will be left out in the cold.

President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict does one great service to the Allies, says the Westminster Gazette. It puts in the forefront of their war aims the broad and simple idea which appeals to the whole world, of a new order which shall lay the foundations of an enduring peace in "justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind."

An Ottawa lady sets the seal of condemnation on the Borden franchise bill, from a woman's standpoint, as follows: "What is fair for one is fair for all, and surely there are just as many men here now whose vote would be as objectionable as some of the women, on general principles. I think the act is wrong, because I never could see why an educated woman should not be entitled to vote as well as men, and surely there are just as many war brides now who will be granted the privilege who are apt to be far more ignorant of the vote and its value than many of the educated women who have worked hard for it."

The Borden government can no longer throw any stones at the German government for violating the treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Belgium, says the Regina Leader. Its act in violating the pledge given in the name of Canada and the King to settlers in this Dominion, by depriving them of their franchise, for no other reason than that they happened to be born in countries with which Canada is now at war, is in principle on a par with the German government's action.

Halifax Chronicle: Mr. Carvell will again be "a bold bad man" in the Tory organs. He has "torn the mask" off Sir Robt. Borden, as the organs would say.

Before the Borden government makes a bid for the votes of the female relatives of overseas soldiers, it should shake clear of the war profiteers and make an honest effort to reduce the cost of living.

Although he is out of the government, the Hon. Robert Rogers is still running the show at Ottawa. The Hon. Bob is known by his fruits.

Through Our Sieve

Sept. 15th—Johnny get yer gun.

Birds of a feather will please oblige us by flocking together.

When September does its best there is nothing better.

S'pose we'll have to admit there's some reason for those summer furs.

Don't try to look like a bear or moose when you go into the tall timbers.

And now what are we going to do with all the small truck that has suddenly ripened in the garden?

When a girl shows a young man a picture of herself she expects him to ask for it.

In these stirring times it must be tough luck to be a professor of ancient history.

If the Kaiser got a chill at Riga, what on earth will he get if he visits the western front?

The Kaiser didn't wait for the game season before going after the Russian bear. He evidently regards the game laws as a scrap of paper.

What has become of the simple, old-fashioned woman whose highest compliment for a man was that he was a good provider, and who felt that nothing in the way of praise was left to be said if she could add that "he wasn't hard to cook for?"

LITTLE BOY HAD

DIARRHOEA

Only Blood Passed Bowels.

Diarrhoea, dysentery and summer complaint are responsible for more deaths, especially of children, during the summer months, than any other form of disease.

Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened, and no other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and often collapse.

Mrs. E. Stoddart, Lower Clark's Harbor, N. S., writes: "When my little boy was a year and a half old he was taken awfully bad with diarrhoea. I called the doctor, but he got worse so that only blood passed his bowels. I tried everything, but he got no relief. One day while I was at work, I picked up a piece of paper, and on it was an advertisement for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. After trying a bottle he began to get better, and the second one made a cure. I would not be without it in the house for my little ones. I am proud to say 'Dr. Fowler's' saved my little boy's life."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 72 years, and there are many imitations of this wonderful bowel complaint remedy. See that you get the genuine when you ask for it. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE ENGLISH GENTLEMAN IN THE WAR

(The Outlook.)

Mail awaiting me at the inn. One letter was from an English friend now serving in France. He is a man of simple and severe literary tastes, who writes dainty essays in a vein of gentle irony; his home is on the edge of the New Forest, not far from Winchester—a gem among the lesser country houses of England. His spirit normally is as remote from strife as that of a Burmese Buddhist monk. Yet this is how he writes:

"We have been in the trenches on and off all through the winter, always cold and seldom dry. I am now in my rest billet—a typical farm house in a typical village. It is comfortable by comparison; indeed, if one can get within six feet of the ridiculous fireplace, the house may be called habitable. We have all read with undisguised delight that you are to join us in the struggle. Out here we do not talk much about the causes or the effects of the war—of civilization, justice, righteousness, democracy. We fight and recuperate and fight again; that is all.

"Yet no, not quite all; we dream. I dream about my wife and children, the cheerful home with the pastures and the hedges and the coppice by the lodge gate.

"Although every last man of us would mortgage his soul to be at home and out of the horrible welter, I doubt whether a dozen of the entire expeditionary force would go of their own accord if the chance offered. One thing holds us all; there is work to do, and we must stay until it is done—nasty work, work we loathe, work that ought to be left for devils to do; but it is our work just now, and there is nothing else on earth to distract our attention or divide our energy."

What is Crushed Coffee?

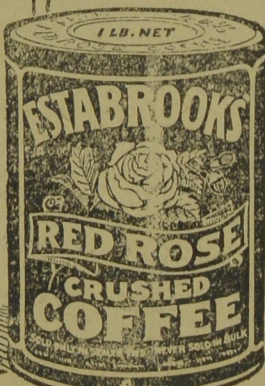

Briefly, Crushed Coffee is coffee that has had the beans crushed between steel rollers with just enough pressure exerted to break the beans into clean, even grains from which the bitter chaff and dust are easily separated by air suction—

Resulting in a coffee so pure that no egg is needed to settle it. Red Rose Coffee is as easy to make as Red Rose Tea, and its flavor, aroma and smoothness are a delight as compared with the ordinary ground coffees.

Sold only in double-sealed air-tight cans to keep it good.

The same price as it was three years ago.

Killed Big Bear.

Woodstock Dispatch: Bears have been doing considerable damage around Plymouth this summer. Mr. Harry Reid had one sheep killed and another so badly hurt that it had to be killed. A trap was set but the watchers becoming tired were about to leave when a large bear appeared. Archie Wilson and Robert Currie fired at the same time both shots striking the bear, killing him. He weighed 400 pounds.
