CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

A REVIVAL OF THE CHIN STRAP.

Chin straps, or "brides" as they used to be called when they came in, back in the eighties, are the craze in millinery just now. Motor hats are held on by elastic bands that are slipped under the chin, and the girl who rides wears her hat elastic in the same way instead of under her back hair; and she has increased the width of the elastic from a quarter of an inch to almost an inch in width, so that that the chin strap is a very conspicuous and smart item in her riding costume. Now the widow's bonnet is provided with a "bride," but it is of snow-white crepe, and a narrow band of the crepe edges the small turban which forms the "bonnet." The rest of the turban and the black veil, which turns back from it, are of black, and the effect is striking and exceedingly smart.

THE FULL SKIRT IS DOOMED.

All those in the watch towers have proclaimed the coming of narrow skirts since last September but only in limited numbers was the news acted upon. The manufacturers had the material for full skirts, the average woman wanted full skirts, the wholesale houses turned them out by the thousands, and it was only left to the exclusives women and their dressmakers to cut down the width and lengthen the hem.

Even now there are skirts that are slightly gathered to the waistline, but they are dropped over a lower skirt that is quite narrow. No matter what the fullness, every skirt clings to the figure, as it did in the end of the eighteenth century.

The question which will soon confront every woman is whether she wishes to change the silhouette of her skirt or go on wearing it until it is fit to be discarded. One cheerful feature of the return to the slim silhouette is the ease with which a full skirt can be cut into a narrow one.

EX-COUN. C. W. POND REPLIES TO MR. YOUNG

Says That Member for York Tried to Mislead the People--A Personal Explanation.

To the Editor of the Daily Mail.

Sir,—I see in the Gleaner of Feb. 23 an item regarding a meeting held at Parker's Ridge by John A. Young. I don't know who wrote the same, but owing to the little amount of truth it contained it would lead one to believe that it was John A. Young himself who wrote it.

I might say Mr. Young spoke for about 45 minutes and said he had pretty well finished, and it would only be worrying the audience to say any more—and for once he told the truth. I, the undersigned was called upon to reply. At first I was refused the floor, but finally on further calls was granted leave for fifteen minutes, which I claimed was too short a time.

There was a call for a new chairman, and then I was given what time I wanted. I spoke for about 45 minutes and having a bad cold I felt that I had made matters too hot for John and took my seat.

The Gleaner writer spoke of the laughter I created. I might say that the first laugh was when I made matters so hot for John, and the second came when the ballots were counted at our poll.

I wish further to deal with the remarks of John A. Young on declaration day. Mr. Young said that I tried to get $120 that I was not entitled to, by swearing that game had destroyed my crops. Now, Mr. Editor, I put in a claim as above mentioned, and the same was correct. Hon. Mr. Grimmer informed me that the claim should be paid along with a lot of other claims, but he said there was no law to authorize it, and therefore we were not entitled to it.

So you see, Mr. Editor, it makes no difference how much crops are destroyed by wild game, the farmer is not entitled to any compensation for damage.

Now, sir, by the way Mr. Young made this statement, it looked as if he was trying to mislead the people by trying to make them believe my claim was not correct. I used to farm quite extensively some years ago, sowing as much as 150 bushels of grain, but have of late gone almost out of that line on account of the game.

For the benefit of those who have heard Mr. Young's statement, and who may read this, I will refer them to the farming occupation for a while. We will suppose, for instance, that Mr. Brown has 100 bushels of oats sowed and Mr. Jones has 25 sheep and 8 or 10 cows that daily in Mr. Brown's fields. How much do you think Mr. Brown would lose?

Now, sir, it is quite common to see that many deer and moose in a field in this northern part of the country, surrounded as we are by forests. The farm on which I sowed my grain in the years I complained of damage, was about one and a quarter miles from where anyone lived. I think it is a pity that we have such men as John A. Young to represent us in the Legislature who try to misrepresent the people as he does.

Now, Mr. Editor, I think you and the reasonable thinking people of the country will agree with me that I was justified in putting in my claim.

Thanking you for space in your paper, I remain

Yours,

C. W. POND.

AN INVITATION TO SICKNESS

IMPURE BLOOD MEANS A BREAK-DOWN IN YOUR HEALTH.

Impure blood is an invitation to sickness. The blood is at work day and night to maintain the health, and any lack of strength or purity in the blood is a weakness in the defence against disease. Anaemia is the doctor's name for lack of blood. There may be an actual loss in the quantity of the blood or one or more of its constituents may be lacking. Its surest symptom is pallor. Anaemia is particularly common in young girls. It is not, however, confined to them alone, for it is this same lack of blood that prevents full recovery after la grippe, fevers, malaria and operations. It is also present in old age and in persons who have been under unusual mental or physical strain. If you are suffering from this trouble, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They make pure, new blood with every dose and this new blood means health and strength. Thousands have proved the truth of these statements, among them Mrs. John Hyatt, Metiskow, Alta., who says:

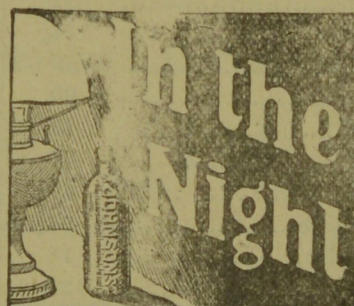

"About a year ago I was in a badly run down condition, my blood was watery, I was very nervous, slept badly at night, suffered from frequent headaches and found my housework an almost intolerable burden, my appetite was poor and I did not seem to assimilate the food I took, altogether my condition seemed serious. As there was no doctor in our neighborhood I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and I have much cause to be thankful that I did so, as in a few weeks I could feel a great change for the better. I continued the use of the pills for some time longer, and found a complete cure. I feel better than I have for years and can therefore cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who are weak and run down."

You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
