LIBERALS WILL AWAIT FURTHER INFORMATION

A Free and Frank Exchange of Views at Party Caucus--Will Meet Again After Conscription Bill is Brought Down--Little Likelihood of Liberals Joining the Borden Cabinet.

Ottawa, June 8. — A fully attended caucus of the Liberal members of parliament was held this morning. It lasted from 10.30 until 1 o'clock. No definite decisions were reached, and the caucus broke up after a full and frank exchange of views, to meet again next week after the government's conscription bill is brought down and Sir Robert Borden has presented to the house in detail the conscription proposals, the reasons therefore and the government's programme for mobilizing all resources of the nation for war work.

The main object of the caucus was to secure from the members their views as to the wisest course to pursue in the present complicated and difficult national and political situation. Divergent views, especially on the conscription issue were naturally expressed, but they were expressed without any acrimony on which all could desire to reach some common ground on which all could unite in helping to secure united national effort in the most effective possible way towards winning the war and towards preventing the exceedingly serious dangers of racial divisions in Canada which may spring from playing politics with the conscription issue.

How Far Will Conscription Go?

There was comparatively little discussion of the decision reached in regard to coalition. The main question under consideration was the party's attitude towards the concrete military conscription proposal of the government. In principle a considerable section of the party have announced themselves as favorable to the adoption of conscription, but they want to know if it is to be confined only to military service and how it is to be worked out. Others doubt the necessity for conscription for the present at least, and question its national expediency under all the circumstances.

While no agreement was reached between the divergent views there was a general feeling expressed that the data so far given, either to parliament or to the people of Canada by the prime minister as to the actual requirements of the war situation was insufficient to give final or intelligent judgment upon.

The suggestion was made that the first step should be a thorough survey of all the war needs and a statement as to how Canada could best concentrate war efforts, whether in giving men, munitions, food, money or ships. No clear lead has yet been given by the prime minister in this regard and the conscription proposals do not embrace the larger idea of general organization

WOOL GRADING DONE AT SUSSEX

Mr. Jennings of Dominion Agriculture Dept., There This Week—Organized a Campaign.

Wool collection and grading was carried on this week at Sussex. Mr. M. A. McLeod of the Provincial Agricultural Societies superintended the collection, wool from Kings and Westmorland counties being secured in considerable quantities and also from other sections of the province. The grading was done by Mr. Jennings of the Livestock branch of the Dominion Agriculture Department. The wool collected is to be sold co-operatively according to grade.

Up to date there has not been the amount of wool collected for grading and marketing which would be expected from a province the size of New Brunswick. However, next spring a regular campaign for the co-operative marketing of graded wool will be inaugurated by the provincial department of agriculture. Grading and marketing of wool on the basis named always has acted as a great stimulus to the industry of sheep raising and it is expected that it will prove no exception in New Brunswick.

The season is early and the Department of Agriculture has not received detailed reports from the various sections of the province but indications point to an exceptionally good year for grass, hay and grains. With the further organizations of the districts of the province which is contemplated by the Department, more will be known about the general condition of farming throughout the province.

and co-ordination of all Canada's resources for war work.

Secret Session Suggested.

A secret session of parliament was suggested at which Sir Robert Borden could take the members into his confidence and specify more clearly the exact and practical needs of the situation. The general discussion indicated a desire for reaching unity of thought and purpose along broad national lines on a larger visioned and more embracing plan than has so far been proposed by the government. The views expressed and the policies suggested will be carefully thought over by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers during the next few days and it is hoped that, at another caucus to be held after the conscription bill is brought down, united action will be agreed upon. Meanwhile, as has been said, no definite decision was reached pending further government announcements and action.

Little stock was taken in the probability of Sir Robert Borden being able to form now any coalition either with Liberal members in the house of outside of it, as is being attempted in a limited way and obviously to serve purely political expediency. Stories published in the Conservative press as to stormy scenes and bitter language are absolutely without foundation. Lines of cleavage were frankly expressed but the decision reached was that any final conclusions must await the furnishing of fuller information by the government and more mature consideration of the whole national situation.

Retirement Not Discussed.

Ottawa, June 8. — On being shown a dispatch published in the Toronto Telegram definitely announcing his resignation in the caucus this morning, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:

"That is not true. It was not discussed in the caucus."

The opposition leader had nothing further to add.

This denial is not taken to conflict with reports that he has expressed a desire to be relieved of the leadership, if the party is not satisfied with his stand on the coalition proposals. This report was widespread in the commons this afternoon and is generally accepted as true, though Liberal members are silent as to what went on in the caucus.

Hon. George P. Graham is mentioned as the new Liberal leader, with Sir Wilfrid as leader of the Quebec wing of the party.

DR. H. L. KILBURN TAKES A BRIDE

Former Fredericton Man Married to Miss Louise Bisbee, of Rumford, This Week.

The Lewiston Evening Journal, of Lewiston, Me., contains an account of the wedding of Miss Louise Bisbee of Rumford, Me., and Dr. Harry L. Kilburn of the same place. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kilburn of this city. The account follows:

Rumford, Me., June 6. — At two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the pleasant home of ex-Representative and Mrs. Stanley Bisbee on Lincoln avenue, their only daughter, Louise, was married to Harry Leo Kilburn, D. D. S., Rev. John S. Warren of St. Barnabas Episcopal church being the officiating clergyman and using the Episcopal service. The ceremony took place beneath an arch of greenery, intertwined with white carnations, from which was suspended a white wedding bell. This was in the living room, and green and white were the colors used in making the room a bower of loveliness and perfume.

To the music of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Ruth McGregor, the bride entered the room with her father, who gave her in marriage. They were followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Albertina Ridley of Winnegance, a schoolmate of the bride at Hebron. The bridegroom was waiting with his best man, who was Capt. Spaulding Bisbee, a brother of the bride, who is in command of Co. B, 2nd Infantry, N.G.S.M., now stationed at Portland. He wore his uniform, and this, with the flags used profusely in the hall, gave a military effect to the wedding. Indeed, had it not been that Capt. Bisbee will in all likelihood be summoned soon to the front, and was desirous of attending his sister's bridal, this wedding would have taken place in the fall.

The bride's gown was a lovely white Georgette crepe, with hand embroidered

MARYSVILLE NEWS

General Store Reopened Under
Cowan & Co.—Heavy
Run of Logs in Nashwaak.

Marysville, June 9. — The choir of the Olivet Baptist church held a repetition of their concert, which was given last Friday evening, at Nashwaak, last evening. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather a large number were present who thoroughly enjoyed the splendid programme which was carried out. After the programme a pie social was held by the ladies of the Nashwaak church, which netted a considerable amount.

The ladies of the Dawson club held an enjoyable entertainment at the club rooms last evening.

The General Store at Marysville opened yesterday under the management of Cowan & Co. This store was formerly operated by the Alex. Gibson Co., and later by the Nashwaak Co. This Gibson Co. at one time conducted both a dry goods store and a grocery store but later it was conducted as a general store and has continued as such ever since.

The logs have been running very fast here the past few days. Rifting operations have begun at the Mouth of the Nashwaak where a large number of men are employed.

236TH BAND FOR BOSTON

Brass Band Going Tonight—
Big Party of Recruits on Tonight's Train.

The brass band of the 236th Highland Battalion will go to Boston tonight to take part in the recruiting campaign among British citizens there which is being conducted on behalf of the battalion.

The pipe band, which has been there for several days, has made a big hit, and the brass band under Bandmaster Perkins is expected to do as well.

Special music is to be played by the band.

"Pack Up our Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag" was the song sung by the 236th pipe band in Keith's Theatre, and the audience joined in. Private James P. Allan, one of the first recruits to come from Boston, sang "There's a Wee House 'Mang the Heather" at the Boston Theatre on Thursday night, and was given a great reception.

Capt. J. D. Black, quartermaster of the battalion, who has been in Boston for several days after recruits, is to arrive tonight with a party of one hundred and fourteen recruits.

She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies. The bridesmaid wore lemon crepe de chine with white Georgette crepe, and carried sweet peas.

Directly following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served to about forty relatives and intimate friends, and Dr. and Mrs. Kilburn left on the afternoon train for a week or ten days in the Bisbee camp on Mooselucumetic lake. They are to make their home in Rumford and will be for the summer at least, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bisbee.

Horses Ran Away.

A team of horses owned by Mr. Sam Boyle, ran away on Regent street on Thursday evening shortly before six o'clock. They headed for the river, but swerved to the left. Going down on the low water wharf they circled the city warehouse and climbed the steep road reaching Campbell street again. On getting to Carleton street they turned out and stopped after the sloven they were hauling collided with a tree.
