OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

The narrow-chested woman cannot ever hope to make a good appearance until she has developed the upper part of her body and brought the neck, the shoulders and bust to rounded and lovely proportions. Every flat-chested woman knows that no clothes can set well and make a stylish appearance where the neck and bust are scrawny and undeveloped.

There are two good reasons why the thin woman should try to overcome this unhealthy and disfiguring condition. In the first place, extreme thinness is the surest sign of bad health or a constitutional weakness at least.
In the second place, the extremely thin woman grows old and ugly with abnormal quickness. Vitality and all round muscular development and perfect health depend upon well nourished tissues. The thin woman may not feel ill, because a nervous, hysterical energy is one of her symptoms, but the fact remains that her tissues have not received and are not receiving proper nourishment and replenishment from the blood. The food is not being properly assimilated and its nourishing elements are not being utilized as they should be in the wonderful chemistry of the body.

In one sense abnormal thinness is a more dangerous malady than abnormal fatness, because the former is more subtle. Nature gives a warning to the fat woman by making her uncomfortable and causing difficulty in breathing, especially in hot weather.
The thin woman is less lucky, because she meanders along feeling strong and full of energy, which is false nervous energy of course. Somehow she never suspects that anything serious is the matter with her.

For developing the chest use two-pound dumb-bells in the first movement of a good neck, bust and chest developing exercise. Assume position and bring the dumb-bells up until they touch the chest at the armpits. This is also valuable for hollows in the neck. Allow the shoulder blades to meet in the backward movement.

NO POSSIBLE EXCUSE.

"There are places in Canada where bread is selling at 7½ cents per pound," says the Canadian Food Controller. "There are other places where it is selling at 12 and 14 cents and they have no possible excuse, except that someone is in control of the markets and they dictate what they like.

WAR WORK FOR GIRLS.

It was a dinner party that a discussion arose as to preparations for the war. A little girl of six years offered her opinion:

"I guess you boys will all have to fight and us girls will have to be hot cross nurses."

KING GEORGE'S GRATITUDE.

King George expresses the gratitude of Great Britain to Canada in the steps taken to increase exports of food stuffs to the Motherland.

"I have no doubt that the self-sacrifice displayed on the battlefields of France by my heroic Canadian troops will find its counterpart in the efforts of those who, at home in the Dominion, are devoting themselves to this work."

A Revelation!

When on January 16th, 1916, Washington State went dry the cries of distress that went up from the Traffic and most of Seattle's business men could be heard all over the state. Of all the sincere predictions of financial disaster, none were more so than those of the Editor of the Seattle "Times," a leader of the wet forces.

The actual result of Prohibition was indeed a revelation. Washington again endorsed the law in November after witnessing its unqualified success.
In "Collier's Weekly" of March 24th, 1917, the honest Editor of the "Times" writes an enthusiastic tribute to the splendid results of Prohibition as a business proposition.

Before Prohibition went into force it was solemnly predicted that there would be miles of Empty stores. Let the former leader of the "wets" answer. "To-day," he writes, "the only vacant places formerly used as saloons, outside of the Old Tenderloin, do not, as I have shown, exceed twenty in number, and each of these is in a district no longer of use in retail business. The rest of the vacancies are new stores, not yet completed." Of the 211 places vacated by saloons 191 have been occupied by new businesses.

We said taxes would go up in the city of Seattle. They went down from 18.98 to 18.41 mills.
We insisted bank clearings would go down.
They increased more than $177,000,000! We said bank deposits would go down. Look: At the end of 1915, $87,815,076; at the end of 1916, $106,000,000! We all agreed Seattle would lose in population. The government says we have gained more than 15,000.

The business man said crime would increase. It decreased along with drunkenness by one-half. Collections were much better. "The grocers and meat markets say that in addition to buying more, the average small account man is paying quickly—two or three times more promptly. The money formerly passing over bars is almost entirely spent for better living, benefitting every person it reaches.

Now one would expect the Traffic to accept a defeat like the above. But no! They circulated statements far and wide to the effect that Prohibition in Seattle meant ruin, crime and disorder. "In other words, statements of conditions in Seattle, as a result of the dry law, were manufactured to suit the desires of the wets and Seattle was held up as a horrible example."

Help to Enforce Prohibition

In New Brunswick Prohibition is on trial. Strict enforcement is the means of permanent success. If you want the blessings of province-wide Prohibition to be permanent, help to arouse public opinion; help the officers of the law in their duty.
