

FRANCE'S DAY

The appeal has come once more from headquarters with reference to France's Day, and the people of our city are asked to again make some special effort for France on JULY 13th.

The French are a wonderful people and they have suffered much, and the appeal for the benefit of their sick, wounded and prisoners of war must use in all a desire to help in whatever measure they can.

The battle of freedom is being fought on the fields of France, and this heroic nation is seeing its lands devastated, meeting losses of men and treasure with a courage only those who have seen it can fully realize. The number of those needing the care the French Red Cross can give is ever-increasing, and we in Canada are being asked to help our Sister Society in her work of mercy.

We know the calls to give are many and frequent, but the Red Cross should always have a magic power to touch the hearts and sympathies of all who can in any way respond to an appeal for aid.

Humanity finds its highest expression in the Red Cross. It ministers to all—saving life, relieving suffering, consecrating death.

Will you give of your plenty as our boys are giving of their all?

TRANSPORT COLUMN OF THE RED CROSS

Duties Consist of the Transfer of Wounded Men from the Trains to Stretchers and Ambulances.

London, Shortly before the arrival of a train of wounded at any of the London railway stations, morning, afternoon or night—a small group of men in navy blue uniform may be seen passing through the gates onto the platform. They are members of the "London Transport Column" of the Red Cross, and they have unloaded every train of wounded that has reached London since the war began.

Their duties consist of the transfer of the wounded men from the trains to the stretchers and thence to the ambulances which take them to the various London and suburban hospitals. Speed and skill are the essentials of the work of these men, and they have become experts through long training, assiduous practice and a thorough knowledge of first-aid principles. Many of the cases brought to London are what is known as "special" and have to be handled with skill and care owing to the nature of the injuries. In spite of this, trains containing several hundred cot cases are unloaded in a half hour or less.

The London Transport Column was organized by volunteers from the staffs of the big London insurance companies. The Column numbers 1000 men, all of them business men in good positions who volunteered to give two days a week to the work, and to hold themselves in reserve for a third day each week. Their work takes them from one railway station to another, and they are often on continuous duty for twelve to fourteen hours.

Air raids make no difference. Many a train has been unloaded during a heavy barrage. During a recent air raid on London, several trains of wounded were stopped at a siding in the suburbs and unloaded in complete darkness, the wounded being carried to safety in a tunnel nearby, where they remained until it was safe to send the ambulances out for them.

The Transport men have been on special duty in every Zeppelin and airplane raid on London. Every member of the corps is subject to call in an emergency of this kind.

TRAIN LOOTED BY BANDITS IN KANSAS

Paola, Kansas, July 11.—Three persons were shot and the mail and express cars were looted by a dozen bandits who held up a fast Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train early today at Koch, a siding three miles east of this city. They compelled the engine crew to detach the mail and express cars and ran them away and then fled north in motor cars.

The robbers threw the express safe from the car, breaking it open. They are said to have taken a quantity of registered mail. The sum of money taken could not be estimated.

A posse of 200 men is after them.

Brooklyn Standard-Union: The almost obsolete bootjack, that device which was found in almost every home half a century ago, is on its way back. The war has given it a new lease of life, and the statement is made that hotels everywhere have been buying jacks. In some divisions of the service boots are generally, if not universally, worn. Anyhow, there are a sufficient number of men in khaki who are sporting boots to cause a revival of the first aid in getting this footwear off tired feet.

The county councillors got away this time without expressing any opinion of the game law.

WAR ON VICE IS STARTED IN MONTREAL

Montreal, July 11.—The first big gun in Director of Public Safety Joseph Tremblay's effort with the Montreal police to clean the city of vice was fired last night when two big raids planned, organized and carried out by the director, his assistant, Arthur Mann, and Deputy Chief of Grand Champs.

Both raids were worked on the same plan, the men entering all the places on the list at the same time, and on each occasion the plans were successful. In the first, thirty-two gambling machines of a value of $3,350, were seized, while in the second raid nearly two hundred and fifty men and women were arrested by the police.

MORE PAY FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

To the Editor of the Mail.

Sir—I noticed in the press lately, where two important bodies have asked for more pay—our school teachers and our county councillors.

Now, Mr. Editor, if there is one thing more than another that has hurt this end of Canada it is poor pay. All of our teachers who are not held here by home ties, leave because we have not brains enough to pay them, and it seems to me that it is mean to rub it into the ones that do stay for home's sake.

New Brunswick has raised a great many able men and women who have left here for more pay in all walks of life, and why have they left? Because the people of N. B. have not been alive to their own interests.

Just think! All our public men doing our business for the glory of it—right up the ladder—city aldermen, county councillors, M. P.'s, and last, but not least, our M. P.'s! Now, if our public men are not worth paying, they are not worth having, and we should pay them, and then see that they earn their money.

I am not throwing stones at anyone at all. It is the system that's wrong and we should have enough interest in our own welfare to pay our public servants something worth while.

I knew quite a number of our public men and I am sure if they offered to work for any private individual or company for the same pay they get for doing our business, they would be thought either foolish or dishonest, and as for the glory—well, it is like music, very nice, but you can't eat it.

Our school teachers should be paid, and the longer they teach the more they should get. If we can afford to spend our money as most of us do, for things we don't need, we surely ought to be able to pay a little more in school taxes.

Hoping you will publish this and that most people will think it over, and not let our country drop any farther behind for the want of a little common sense and justice.

Yours, etc.,

JOHN T. KAY.

THE DANGER OF THIN BLOOD

If Not Corrected in Its Early Stages Consumption May Follow

In no disease is delay or neglect more dangerous than anaemia, a poverty of blood. It is very common in young girls and in persons who are overworked or confined within doors. It makes its approach in so stealthy a manner that it is often well developed before its presence is recognized.

But taken in time there is a specific, a tonic medicine which increases the number of red blood corpuscles thus enabling the blood to carry the life-giving oxygen to all the tissues of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have had unbounded success in the treatment of this stubborn disease because of this wonderful property. The correction of anaemic conditions by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is as certain as anything in medical sciences. Miss Jessie McLean, Trenton, N. S., says—"I was as weak as it was possible for any one to be, and yet be able to go about. My blood seemed to have turned almost to water. I was pale, the least exertion would leave me breathless, and when I went up stairs I would have to stop and rest on the way. I often had severe headaches, and at times my heart would palpitate alarmingly. A good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I have reason to be grateful that I took the advice. Soon after beginning the use of the Pills I began to get stronger and by the time I had taken seven boxes I felt that I was again enjoying good health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blessing to weak girls and I shall always warmly recommend them."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
