THE DAILY MAIL

This paper has a special value to the local advertiser, as the majority of its readers are in this city and the immediate surrounding country.

Our Advertising Rates will be found decidedly reasonable in view of the results obtained.

PEOPLE READ ADVERTISEMENTS

They are trying to buy as wisely as they can. It is necessary that they should.

They are eager to know what the local merchants have to offer, and good live advertising is interesting reading to them.

Most of our enterprising business men have already realized this fact and their advertising appears regularly in the Mail.

If you are not a regular advertiser in the DAILY or SEMI-WEEKLY MAIL, you are overlooking an opportunity that no business man in this locality ought to be too busy to appreciate.

In spite of increased prices of materials and the upward tendency in rates for all services in the business world, the subscription price of the Mail has not been increased, and we are daily booking new subscribers, which means more readers and customers for our advertisers.

and the captain decided to return to Germany. The voyage commenced four months ago. The route taken was along the coast of Africa. A sailing vessel was fired on and sunk. The Wolf afterwards proceeded at half speed northward, still followed by the gotz Mendi. The plan was to go to the north of Iceland, but the heavy ice prevented this. South of Iceland the two ships parted company, the Igotz Mendi going north and the Wolf south.

The seamen said the treatment by the Germans was good, but that discomfort was caused them by vermin and lack of adequate clothing in the cold Atlantic. When the Japanese, Chinese and negro sailors landed on Danish soil there was a great demonstration of joy, the negroes dancing and shouting with delight.

SENTIMENT IN SOCKS.

A soldier who had been unable to change his socks for several days felt that a blister was coming on one of his toes. On removing the sock he found a little roll of paper which had been rubbing into his toe. On it was written, "God bless your poor tired feet!" The soldier's language cannot be reproduced for obvious reasons.

GOOD COMPOSITION.

A little girl wrote the following composition on men "Men are what women marry. They drink and smoke and swear, but don't go to church. Perhaps if they wore bonnets they would. They are more logical than women, also more zoological. Both men and women sprang from monkeys, but the women sprang farther than the men."

HOW WAS HE TO KNOW.

He was a new recruit. A desire on his part to become an efficient soldier in the American army resulted in his being detailed for guard duty. Late at night he was being quizzed by the officer of the day as to his duties. Suddenly the officer of the day saw a soldier passing.

"Who goes there? Who goes there?" he hissed at the guard, expecting the new soldier to halt the passing soldier with the challenge.

He gave the guard a vicious poke in the ribs and again suggested, "Who goes there?"
"Dog gone it, I don't know," replied the guard. "I've only been here a few days."

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

WOULD PUT NO TRUST IN HIRED RELATIVES

"I don't know what I'm going to do," declared the tired boarder. "There is more work in the shop than I can handle and nowadays you can't get any hired help at all."

"The same condition prevails pretty generally," declared the professor. "It is due to the war. The farmers are so short of help that they can't—"

"In the old days," said the ancient boarder, "no farmer was ever hard up for help. Every farmer was possessed of from seventeen husky sons and daughters to do the work, and they didn't have to call in outsiders except on extraordinary occasions, when there were plenty of relatives and clansmen to respond."

"That may have been all right in the old days," observed Stews, the worldly wise. "But it doesn't go now. Relatives as helpers are decidedly nix. A friend of mine recently bought some suburban real estate, gave it a cute name like Blossoming Bud or something, divided it up into lots, ad-

HAD BRONCHITIS FOR THREE YEARS

COULD GET NO RELIEF.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in berathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is also a raising of phlegm from the lungs, especially in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes of a greenish or yellowish color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and thereby prevent it becoming chronic and perhaps turning into some more serious lung trouble.

Mr. Theodore P. Beers, Upper Main River, N. B., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis for three years and could get no relief. I was always worse when I got wet. I tried lots of different medicines, but none did me good until a friend told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I got three bottles and before I had them half used I was better."

"My mother is now using of for asthma. It is a great medicine and we never want to be without it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When Rheumatism Strikes the Heart It Kills--"Nerviline" the Cure

Effect of Nerviline on Chronic Cases is Almost Magical.

Exposure to wet or cold is apt to bring on an attack.

The muscles stiffen, the joints swell, and exertion brings on excruciating twinges.

Often the pain shifts from one part to another, and this is dangerous, as the heart is apt to be attacked. Death as a rule follows a heart attack.

The pain or rheumatism is quickly rubbed away with Nerviline.

This is a swift, lasting and safe way to cure rheumatism. You can depend on Nerviline. It has the power, the penetrating force, the control over pain that is so essential to a rheumatic remedy.

Lots of testimony to prove Nerviline's certainty to cure.

The following letter is from Mr. E. G. Sautter, Port of Spain, Trinidad: "Last year I was severely troubled with rheumatism. I had it in my arms, shoulders and knees. The pain was at times excruciating, and laid me up so that I couldn't work. I went to Smith Brothers' Drug Store and was advised by the manager to use 'Nerviline.' That was excellent advice. I used Nerviline as directed and was cured, completely cured of every trace of my old enemy."

Once you use Nerviline you'll realize it's different from all the others—that it contains something that gets right "at" the pain the minute you rub it on. The large 25 cent family size is the most economical—get it today. Sold by dealers everywhere, or The Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Canada.

advertised it in the paper and put a relative in charge of it.

"Blossoming Bud was nine miles from no place. Forty trains a day passed there going sixty miles an hour. Four of 'em, six hours apart, stopped there. No other trains stopped within a dozen miles of the place."

"The relative went to the site of the future metropolis in an automobile and sat in the machine ready for business all day long for six days. Nobody came. Then he began to devote merely half a day to automobile sitting, and then a quarter of a day, and eventually he quit going out to the tract altogether."

"The very day that this relative decided not to show up there, some 9,000 people became inoculated with the advertisement and decided to go out and give Blossoming Bud the once-over. Three thousand got off at a station a dozen miles east of Blossoming Bud, and 3,000 rode past to a station a dozen miles west. The rest got off at the right place, but there was absolutely nothing in sight; but some automobile tracks in the dust!"

"Those who had got off too soon and those who had gone too far arrived on the scene at the same time and the entire batch lined up and watched trains go by. They waited six hours before a train stopped and picked them up.

"Beautiful Blossoming Bud" became a hissing and a byword from that time and all because my friend had put his trust in a relative who didn't stick."

HAD EXPERIENCE.

An applicant for the Royal Flying Corps went to a training camp and wanted to be taken on as an aviator. He was a bit over age.

"Have you had any experience?" he was asked.

"Well," he said, "I've been flying in the face of Providence for forty years."

Ford ONE-TON TRUCK

COUNTRY-WIDE interest and comment have followed the recent appearance on the market of the new Ford One-Ton truck.

It is now possible to get a serviceable commercial car of one-ton carrying capacity that also embodies the desirable qualities of Ford sturdy construction and low up-keep expense.

The Ford passenger car has proved itself the most economical and serviceable automobile in the world. And this latest Ford model differs from the standard Ford chassis only in being constructed for heavy-duty service.

The frame is built of heavy steel, and the wheel base has been lengthened to 124 inches. A worm drive is used, and rear wheels are equipped with solid tires. Front tires are pneumatic. The standard Ford motor, transmission and ignition are embodied in the truck.

The Ford truck is supplied as a chassis only. This allows the purchaser to equip his car with any style of commercial body to suit the individual requirements of his business. It is an easy matter to get this equipment, for many of the leading body builders of Canada already have developed standard bodies of the various styles, made specially to fit the Ford truck.

Ford service has contributed in no small way to the reputation of the Ford car for day-in-and-day-out dependability. This same universally satisfactory service is available to owners of Ford trucks—an important thing to consider.

Realizing that a Ford model of the popular one-ton capacity would find immediate favor, this new truck is announced. Don't fail to see it on exhibit at the Ford service station in your town.
