

Sheep on Every Hill Side in New Brunswick.

The New Brunswick Government, through the Department of Agriculture, has arranged with the Chartered Banks to help the Farmers—where assistance is needed—to buy Sheep.

The Department will not only arrange to buy Sheep FOR the Farmers, but will also buy good breeders FROM the Farmers. In other words, this branch of the Agricultural Department will supervise all purchases and sales of Sheep.

CREDIT FOR THE PURCHASE OF SHEEP

Every bona fide farmer who wishes to purchase sheep for breeding purposes and cannot pay cash may secure twelve months' credit for two-thirds of the purchase price. Go to the manager of the chartered bank in your community and place your order for the number of Sheep required, accompanied with a cash payment of $3.00 per head on grades and $10.00 per head on pure-breds. The manager will forward the order to the Department of Agriculture; the Department will purchase the sheep and deliver them to your nearest railway station. The balance of the purchase price can be paid as follows: Two-thirds, or about $10.00 per head, by a twelve months' note, and a cash payment of about $2.00 per head on grade sheep.

Under the credit system not more than 21 sheep can be secured by any one farmer. Any farmer who wishes to secure a greater number and cannot purchase locally, can be supplied by the Department of Agriculture for cash.

PRICES

FIRST QUALITY STOCK only will be secured. All sheep will be carefully inspected before purchasing. Mature sheep are hard to obtain, therefore ewe lambs will form the major portion of the stock distributed. Prices will range from $13.00 to $15.00, according to size and quality, delivered at the nearest railway station. The Department has not entered upon this as a commercial transaction. The Sheep will be purchased as cheaply as possible and resold for cost price plus transportation and handling charges.

PURE BRED RAMS

The Department is now purchasing pure bred lamb and shearing rams. The lamb rams will cost from $30.00 to $40.00 and the shearings $35.00 to $50.00 each. Exceptional individuals will cost from $50.00 to $60.00 each. The Rams have been selected from reliable breeders in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and Ontario.

SUITABILITY OF NEW BRUNSWICK FARMS FOR SHEEP PRODUCTION

The hilly country makes ideal conditions for sheep pasturage. Hay, roots and oats are the staple crops—they are likewise the staple sheep foods also.

The wool produced in the Maritime Provinces is the finest quality in Canada and brings the highest prices. Maritime Lamb and Mutton cannot be surpassed.

The system of farming followed in New Brunswick makes the keeping of a flock of sheep easy and very profitable.

THE FUTURE

H. S. Arkell, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, states: "That sheep products have no doubt reached their maximum price, but that he cannot see any reason for a material decline in the price for at least ten years."

Unwashed wool is worth from 70c. to 80c. per pound, according to grade. Good lambs from $10.00 to $13.00 each. Under careful management the first clip of wool and the first crop of lambs will pay for the foundation stock.

If possible, purchase locally. Secure foundation stock from your neighbors immediately if available. Not one Ewe Lamb Suitable for Breeding should be Slaughtered this year.

PROCEDURE TO PROCURE SHEEP

If you cannot purchase locally, place your order immediately with your local bank manager. He will forward it to the Department of Agriculture, Fredericton. Unless orders are given it will be impossible to secure in time to make delivery before winter sets in.

This is a business proposition—think it over—decide and see your Banker.

CIVIC MIXUP IN HALIFAX

Halifax, Sept. 3.—When the city board of control met this morning, the city clerk reported having received the resignations of seven of the city's twelve aldermen, who recently jointly warned the mayor that unless he resigned by August 31st they would do so. His worship presided at this morning's meeting of the board, and when the clerk reported the resignations the mayor instructed him to refer them to the city council.

LAW CHANGES NECESSARY.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—As a result of the war, changes will have to be made in laws regarding the right of asylum and socialism, Sir James Aikins, president of the Canadian Bar Association, told this body at its annual convention here today.

Sir James discussed the progress made in securing the uniformity of provincial laws, and referred to the fact that commissioners appointed by various governments are meeting here today. He expressed the hope that the representatives of the Bar Association in the provinces will co-operate locally with the commissioners and work heartily together to advance and effect a common purpose, that was the unification of those laws which, while they lie essentially within provincial jurisdiction, affect business dealings between people in different provinces.

TWO WOMEN DROWNED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Quebec, Sept. 3.—Two women were drowned and an automobile lost near Three Rivers when their car, which was on the deck of a Canada liner steamship between Three Rivers and the south shore, slipped its brakes, broke the railing and plunged into the river. There were three women in the car, but one of them escaped by jumping.

The car lies under forty feet of water, and so far neither the machine nor the bodies have been recovered.

HOW THE GUIDE MADE THE TEA

In the current issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, appears the following account of a woods experience which may interest many readers:

On page 864 of your January issue, there is an account of a party who had lost all their grub, including cooking utensils, through the ice, and had nothing left but some tea, which they tried to make in a cosseau of birch bark by heating some small stones and putting them in the water, but it was a sorry affair, for the water would not boil.

Now, if that party had only known as much as I do now, from personal experience, they could have readily made a cup of hot tea by simply putting a string strong enough to bear the weight of cosseau and water, through the former and suspending it over the fire; in a few moments they would have had all the hot water then wanted, and the cosseau would not even have been scorched. The tea might have tasted of the bark, which some might even think an improvement in the flavor of the tea, while others might think differently. Everyone to his taste, as Paddy said when he kissed the cow.

Some years ago, in company with three others—one of whom was Mr. Frank O'Connors, of Bathurst, N. B., a noted guide—I went to cruise a lot of lumber land situated on the Tabusintac, N. B., and one morning we left our stationary camp, with the intention of camping out all night on the bank of the river, taking with us only a kettle to boil our tea in, and a very small frying pan and sufficient grub to do us for a day or two. After eating our lunch, on the first cruise, and having a smoke, we went out to finish the day's work, when after proceeding some little distance I was startled by hearing a yell from one of the party who had charge of the tea kettle who without any apparent cause, gave a jump straight up in the air, clapped his hands together and uttered an exclamation which would not look well in a Sunday school book. The rest of the party went over and asked him what on earth was the matter, when he said: "Boys, I'll be d—d if I haven't gone and left the kettle where we had lunch!" This put a damper on all the party, except our guide, who said: "Hold on and fear not, for at the proper time I will produce enough hot water to make all the tea we want, including enough to wash the dishes or scald a pig, if necessary." The rest of us said nothing, until camping time for the night arrived, when after erecting a lean-to on the bank of the stream,

BELGIUM'S FATE VISUALIZED IN STIRRING DRAMA

A story that will appeal to men and women of all ages is "The Belgian," Sidney Olcott's stupendous visualization of the tragedy of Belgium, which comes to the "Gem" Theatre for Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 4th and 5th 1918.

The story opens in Belgium just before the terrible maelstrom descends upon the peaceful nation and crushes out the life of the country. One of the artistic touches with which the picture abounds is the shadow of a cross showing Belgium crucified and the heel of the Hun about to trample her under foot.

Jeanne Destree and Victor Morenne, portrayed respectively by Valentine Grant and Walker Whiteside, are betrothed, but when a great sculptor discovers Victor and offers to take him to Paris Jeanne offers her little savings to help him defray his expenses so that he, too, may become a great sculptor.

And so he goes away and forgets Jeanne and loves the Countess de Vries. Then comes the war, and there are some stupendous scenes which show the pitiful call to arms and the handful of gentle Belgian peasants trying to stem the tide as the forces of the Prussian army devastated their homes.

None of the stereotyped methods are restored to, and the ending of the picture is wonderfully artistic. Suffice to say that the people who viewed "The Belgian" at its trade showing in the Strand Theatre, New York, were moved to rise and cheer as the American troops appeared on the screen marching to the aid of Belgium.

In the supporting cast are Sally Crute, who does the best work she has done as the Countess de Vries, a German spy; Adra La Croix, who plays Father Julian; Anders Rudolph and George Majeroni.

Mrs. P. A. Eddington and son, who have been spending some time in this city as the guests of Mrs. A. K. Limerick, St. John Street, have gone to Moncton. They will proceed from there to Edmonton and thence to their home in Vegreville, Alberta.

(Patented, U.S.A.)

O'Connors walked over to a white birch and stripped off a sheet of bark, made a cosseau, ran a string through it and hung it from a pole over the fire until the water had boiled, and then made the tea. On examination of the cosseau there was not the slightest sign of burning about it, though of course the bottom was discolored by the smoke.

This is a true story, which, if anyone doubts it, can be readily verified by O'Connors, who lives at Old Bathurst Road, Bathurst, N. B., and who is the only one of the party alive except myself.

Before I conclude, let me say that the Tabusintac is one of the best trout streams in the province. It is as well as Tracadie, not far therefrom, is noted for the excellent wild goose and brant shooting, which can be had there without the necessity of obtaining a license to shoot such wild fowl.
