Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 4.—Spanish influenza is spreading throughout Ohio according to reports received here this morning. All classes at Miami University, Oxford, were suspended, and about 500 students left for their homes. The university hospital is filled with sick and part of the men's dormitories has been taken over for hospital purposes.

People left at home will not miss football much this autumn with the allies kicking the enemy's armies all over the eastern hemisphere.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

GOOD AUTUMN RECIPES.

Apricot Jam

1 Lb. Dried Apricots
3 Lbs. Sugar
1 Oz. Almonds
7 Cupfuls Water

Wash the apricots very well and cut in small pieces. Put in bowl, cover with the water and let them stand overnight. In the morning put in a preserving kettle and boil until the pieces of apricot are soft; then add the sugar and almonds, blanching and cut fine. Boil from one to one and a half hour, or until the consistency of jam. Pour into jelly-tumblers and when cold cover with melted paraffin. This quantity will fill eight good-sized glasses.

Ginger Apples

5 Qts. Firm Tart Apples
1 Oz. Preserved Dry Ginger
5 Lbs. Brown Sugar
2 Lemons
5 Cupfuls Water

Core and pare the apples and cut them into small pieces, about the size of dice. Make a sirup of the water and sugar; skim carefully and add the grated peel and juice of the lemons, and the thinly sliced preserved ginger. Add the apples to the sirup and boil till the apples are clear and well cooked.
Pue into glass jars and seal. This is excellent served with meats.

Prune Jam.

3½ Lbs. Prunes
8 Cupfuls Water
2 Lbs. Sugar
1 Lemon (Juice Only)

Wash the prunes thoroughly in warm water. Cover with the cold water and let them soak overnight. In the morning put the prunes into a preserving kettle together with the water in which they soaked. Cook for ten minutes after they begin to boil. Cool in the kettle and drain. Save the juice and measure—there should be two and one-half cupfuls. Add water to make that amount if necessary. Run the prunes through a chopper, using a medium knife so the pieces will not be too small. Put the chopped prunes into the kettle with the two and one-half cupfuls of juice and the sugar and cook slowly for one hour, stirring frequently to prevent scorching. Remove from the fire and add the lemon-juice. Stir well and pour into jellytumblers. This amount will fill ten good sized jelly-tumblers. When cold cover with paraffin. This makes a splendid jam for the children and is fine as a tart filling.

Big Pack of Whalemeat

"What about whale meat?"
It is a question that Food Board officials are often asked. It does not need to worry the public at large for whalemeat has not yet flooded the Canadian market, nor is it likely to do any such thing, but few facts about the supply may prove interesting.

Whales taken on the Pacific coast yield from 3 to 12 tons each of prime meat which is used for canning or freezing. Over 1,000 tons of frozen whalemeat from the Pacific coast have been shipped to Boston this summer, and the Victoria Whaling Company, Ltd., of Victoria, B. C., expects to pack between 30,000 and 50,000 cases of whale meat this season at their cannery.

Analysis of whale meat shows it to resemble corned beef or mutton. It contains 34 per cent. of protein, as compared with from 13 to 14 per cent in mutton or pork.

CHILDREN'S SUFFERINGS

A Million Young Belgians Live on Verge of Starvation

They have no food. They are almost destitute of clothing. Their cheeks are hollow. Their eyes are sunken and unnaturally bright. Their mouths are twisted with pain. Their bodies are shrunk, their limbs wasted, with long suffering. A suggestion of terror and infinite weariness hangs over them.

They are the children of Belgium.
The million children of Belgium, the agonized victims of German brutality living (and dying by thousands) in the hunting grounds of starvation and disease. There is a misery that childhood had never known until this twentieth century and, it is to be hoped, will never again know once the Hun has been driven from the ravaged country.

Here in a land of plenty, rests the fate of these children. They may die or they may live. They may continue to suffer or their pain, to a great extent at least, may be lessened. What awaits these children depends upon what response the public makes to the Belgian Relief Fund, now appealing to the people of the Dominion of Canada for contributions. These should be sent to the local committee of the Belgian Relief Fund or to the Central Committee, 59 St. Peter Street, Montreal, Que.
