THE MINISTER OF LABOR.

A writer in the Toronto Saturday Night tells of attending a labor meeting in Winnipeg in which Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, was the principal speaker. Concerning the labor minister's speech, the writer, who signs himself "Unionist," has this to say:

"If the address of the hon. minister on that occasion was a demonstration of his ability and qualification for the holding of the position he does, then to my mind Cabinet Ministers can be made out of very light material. His talk for more than an hour was nothing but a lot of 'bunk,' interspersed with the throwing of several large bouquets at himself as to the wonderful things he had accomplished on behalf of labor, winding up with the playing of euche in the evenings with their servant and her young man. 'Some Cabinet Minister, eh! In order to convince the working class as to his sympathies being entirely with them, he told about a young girl coming from the Old Country, securing a position with a family in Ottawa as a servant. Not being treated as an equal, she decided to return. His wife, hearing about this girl, secured her services. The hon. minister then proceeded to tell how this girl was treated in his home. She was taken out with them in their motor car, and he often went out and played euche with the girl and her young man. The most ridiculous part of the whole thing was his asking those present if they had ever tried handing out this kind of treatment to their servant girls. This enquiry, as might have been expected, brought down the house; in fact, the hon. minister himself saw the humor of it. After listening carefully to his address, I concluded that cabinet ministers could be made out of pretty poor material, if this was a fair sample. Your suggestion that the Premier should get back on his job and do some housecleaning would seem to be very timely."

Visiting the fleet recently, King George inspected a "mystery ship" which is a puzzle to the enemy. Reference to her peculiarities is officially restricted to the statement that "she is an airplane carrier." This carrier was concerned in the recent attack on the airships at Tondern. She reached a suitable point off the German coast in the small hours of the morning and a number of airplanes were sent up with the object of destroying Zeppelin hangars at Tondern. Captain Dixon arrived at Tondern in the early hours of the morning and came so low in his search for hangars that at one time he was within fifty feet of the ground.

ENCOURAGING WAR NEWS.

The war news from the western front this week is of a most cheering nature. The Allied forces are driving the Huns before them and retaking groups of villages which have been under the German yoke since the early days of the war. Since July 18th the Allies have taken 120,000 German prisoners and over a thousand guns. At the rate of progress now being made, the Huns will be driven out of France before the end of the year.

Col. George H. Ham, press agent of the C. P. R., observed his 71st birthday on August 23rd. In the evening of that day he was tendered a banquet by his co-workers of the big railway corporation and presented with an oil painting of himself. Colonel Ham is still young in spirit and has no difficulty in retaining all of his old time popularity.

Quebec Telegraph: The compulsory use of unwrapped bread is said to be resulting in a steady increase in the consumption of flour for domestic purposes despite all the Food Board can do. It would have been more to the point if the Food Board had made the wrapping of bread compulsory instead of the unwrapping.

Calgary Albertan: Lord Atholstan, who when a human being is Hugh Graham, proprietor of the Montreal Star, is visiting Western Canada for the first time. It's surprising that a man could become a belted knight and a noble lord because he was a prominent Canadian, although he had never seen Canada.

Louisville Courier: The Potsdam gang started the slogan "Pan Germanism," and evoked from the civilized world the slogan, "Can Germanism."

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

To love your neighbor as yourself, use plenty of chicken wire.

You can never defeat an ignorant man in an argument.

Ludendorff is not the first to find out that a trip to Paris is costly.

So far as the crown prince is concerned, all the grapes in Paris are turning sour.

To win the admiration of your descendants, don't put too much money into your tombstone.

A woman says that tight shoes are comfortable because they make her forget her other troubles.

Sometimes Austria is afraid Germany won't win the war, and sometimes Austria is afraid Germany will.

One saying that is likely to go out and stay out is "a king's ransom" as suggestive of a vast fortune.

In a few weeks we can take the daylight we have been saving all summer and use it in our business.

Ludendorff, it seems, now has the idea of economizing men. But a lot of those men who were to be in Paris by April first seem to be past economy.

THE BURDOCK CROP.

Fredericton, Aug. 28.
To the Editor of the Mail.

Sir,—Allow me to respectfully suggest that the city fathers give the name of "Dock street" to the thoroughfare from George street to Brunswick street immediately below the Old Burying Ground. A stroll along this boulevard will convince one that no better name could be adopted.

If the compounders of that popular tonic Burdock Blood Bitters should ever run short of ingredients, no doubt they would welcome information about the plentiful supply of burdocks controlled by the Road Department of the City of Fredericton. The revenue would provide a device for preventing thoughtless people from trespassing on graves in the burial ground mentioned. The habit of taking "short cuts" over the last resting places of human beings should never have been formed, and the authorities should long ago have stopped the practice.

Sincerely,
NATIVE RATEPAYER.

Lemon Juice For Freckles

Girls! Make beauty lotion at home for a few cents. Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

IMPORTANT ADDRESS

"I am afraid that I will not be able to aid very much in the task your address has set me in regard to the war problems. Advancing age precludes that, but anything I can do for my adopted country I will be only too glad to do." (Applause).

He humorously referred to the fact that Montreal and the rest of Canada would not concede Ontario—and Toronto, in particular—to possess all the virtues and industry and acumen.

"But we will gladly grant you that your Exhibition is unrivalled in Canada or on the continent, if not the world." (Cheers).

Lord Shaughnessy said the tide had turned in the war. The foe had lost the offensive, and the Allies would now hold it. Post-war problems had to be considered.

"All that skill and science can do, should be done for our wounded men. Some of the men will no doubt go on the farms. I hope they will. But I fear they will not be numerous.

"It would be futile for me to estimate how quickly the men will come home when the war is over. Should they return at the rate of 30,000 a month it would take ten months to bring our forces home. That would mean a large problem in the handling of so many men."

He endorsed the suggestion of Sir John Willison, that every man should be asked, before he left France, what line of work he wants to go into when he gets back. The Government should work out a careful demobilization plan.

"There is need of absolute unity throughout the country," continued Lord Shaughnessy. "We are a people of many racial extractions and nationalities, and the number will increase rather than diminish, but we are all working for one thing, because we are all interested in the same goal—the welfare of Canada."

Lord Shaughnessy said he preferred not to discuss the transportation question to any extent at this time.

"We shall, within a short period, learn the experience of our neighbor to the south in the management of railways of that country, and we may have some experience of our own in that regard."

EVER USE ARNICA?

Our Grandmothers used Arnica with excellent results. We in these modern days, usually look for the most complicated remedial preparation. Still, good Arnica prepared by a good druggist, is a favorite for simple aches and pains and hurts. We sell the best there is.
