"BIT OF FIRE, PLEASE" IS COMMON REQUEST ON STREETS OF LONDON

London—"May I have a light, please sir?"

"Thank you! Yes, sir!" In the streets of London it has come to pass that tobacco smokers accommodate each other in this manner more often than ever before, owing to the fact that the metropolis today is experiencing the greatest shortage in matches since the modern lighter came into common usage.

Smokers have no hesitancy whatever in asking the man in the street for a "bit of fire" from his pipe, cigar or cigarette, and invariably the man with the light is eager to aid the man who has a smoke in immediate prospect.

Women in the lounging rooms of the hotels feel at liberty to request a "light" of the man or woman at the next table, so universal has become the custom.

Before the war London was supplied with matches principally from Sweden. But the German submarine and other factors have interfered with this business, and so London now is getting along the best she can with little wax matches of English manufacture, which are not only expensive but not of sufficient output to come anywhere near supplying the demand.

In the hotel lobbies, where fires are nearly always burning, little rolls of paper, as of the custom of hundreds of years ago, are kept in receptacles for accommodation of the smokers who light their pipe, cigar or cigarette from the hot coals.

And in the clubs, the fashionable clubs and all, the old style squatty oil lamp has again come into use, after many years of retirement, and burns in convenient places. Beside the lamp is a glass half-filled with sand, into which thin layers of wood are stuck, after the fire is transferred from the lamp to the smokers' tobacco.

Matches used in the United States are seldom seen in London, except in the hands of newly arrived Americans who, having heard of the shortage, brought their own supply. When this supply is exhausted, the American adopts the wartime tobacco lighting measure and soon is asking the man in the street for a "light, sir," or takes advantage of the rolled paper sticks at the club or hotel.

Relief by means of match shipments from America is not looked for until the shipping from the United States is increased to such an extent that there will be more cargo space for materials not essential to the war.

N. S. DOCTOR IS IN TROUBLE

Dartmouth, N. S., June 24—Dr. H. O. Simpson, a local practitioner appeared before Judge Foster this morning on a charge of wrongfully issuing prescriptions for the purchase of intoxicating liquors. The liquor venders of Halifax city and county gave evidence, after which the case was adjourned until Thursday morning in order to give the magistrate time to consider objections raised by counsel for the defendant.

James H. Power, one of the city venders, testified that in April he had received 805 doctor's prescriptions, in May 1,027, and up to the 14th of June 503. Of this number Dr. Simpson had issued 293 in April, 426 in May and 191 up to June 14th.

J. B. Mitchell, county vender, could not produce his records for this period when asked by the court to do so. He said he had destroyed them as soon as the inspector had examined his books.

GARDINER, ME.

Gardiner, Me., June 23—Miss Annie F. Barry of Augusta was very pleasantly surprised Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Cox Gardiner, being invited there to spend the evening and upon entering the room found a number of her friends from Augusta and Gardiner who gave her a shower in honor of her approaching marriage. NOVICES OF MILITARY AGE MUST JOIN THE COLORS

The Adjutant General Has a List of the Members of the Guelph Novitiate of Military Age--Only Two of the Number Are Liable--Protestant Clergymen of Guelph Are Not Satisfied With Hon. Mr. Doherty's Statement

Ottawa, June 22—The following statement is issued by the Department of Militia and Defense.

The question of the position with regard to the Military Service Act of the members of the St. Stanislaus' Novitiate, Guelph, has been further considered by the Department of Militia and Defense.

A list of the members of the Novitiate of military age, together with the dates upon which they entered the order, has been furnished by the adjutant-general, the ages being stated as accurately as is possible without the production of official certificates.

From this, it appears that there are now in the community thirty-five men of military age, of whom twenty-five entered the order before the first proclamation under the M.S.A. on the 13th October, 1917, the greater number of them having entered during the years of 1915-16, or earlier.

The proclamation referred to imposed no duty upon men who had not then reached twenty years of age, and it was only upon the passing of the order-in-council on the 20th April, 1918, that any liability was imposed on men who had not reached that age. In the interval between October 13th, 1917, and May 6th, 1918, the date on which the order-in-council was proclaimed, seven others joined the order, of whom only two, John O'Halloran and John Holland, had reached twenty years of age prior to the 13th October, 1917.

Since the 6th of May two additional novices have entered the community, of whom one had not reached the age of nineteen years at the time he entered, and the other had become a cleric about January 1917. No information has yet been received as to whether the two named novices, John O'Halloran and John Holland, were or were not, registered under the M.S.A., and on this point as well as with regard to official evidence of their age, further information is being sought. Verification of the ages of the others is also being obtained.

Only Two Youths Liable

It seems clear, on the information available that there can be no question but that all the young men, except the two named, are free from liability to military service by virtue of the fifth exception in the schedule to the Military Service Act, which exempts all members of an order of an exclusively religious character, which the St. Stanislaus, Novitiate undoubtedly is. The same exception applies to men affected by the order-in-council of 20th April, 1918.

It appears that the son of the Minister of Justice entered the order on the 30th of March, 1918, when he was under no liability under the Military Service Act. Before taking this step, he presented himself for a medical examination before physicians, of whom two were members of the Medical Board of Review in Montreal, and their finding was that his condition was such that it would be necessary to place him in Category "E", which would make it impossible for him to undertake military service.

The result of the investigation indicates that the inquiries instituted were justified, and the Department of Militia will take steps to ensure that any members of the Novitiate liable under the Military Service Act will be required to serve.

Clergy Dissatisfied

Guelph, June 21—That the Protestant ministers of Guelph did not intend to allow the statement made in today's papers by Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, to go unchallenged was clearly manifested here yesterday. A meeting of the special committee appointed by the Ministerial Association was held yesterday afternoon, when the whole matter was again thoroughly discussed. The Rev. Mr. Palmer stated that it was the intention of the ministers to deal with the whole question in their pulpits on Sunday and demand that they be accorded fair treatment and justice at the hands of the military authorities.

He further stated that one of the young men who was in the Novitiate at the time of the raid is already in uniform in London. His name is O'Leary.

The Rev. G. B. Palmer yesterday received a letter from Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Solicitor-General of Canada, in which Mr. Guthrie expresses the opinion that an indignation meeting over the lack of governmental action following the raid on the Novitiate such as is proposed by the Ministerial Association, would be inappropriate. He further expresses the opinion that there are some doubts as to "the legality of such a meeting."

Hon. Mr. Guthrie is a law partner in this city with Mr. P. Kerwin, who is the Attorney for the St. Stanislaus Novitiate.

Capt. MacAuley Transferred

Toronto, June 22—Capt. A. C. MacAuley, who has acted as assistant provost marshal here for the past fifteen months, and who was in charge of the raid by the Military Police on the St. Stanislaus' Novitiate at Guelph on the night of June 7, has received notification from Ottawa that he is to be transferred to Winnipeg.

WAR CHANGED THE HEARTS OF THE PEOPLE

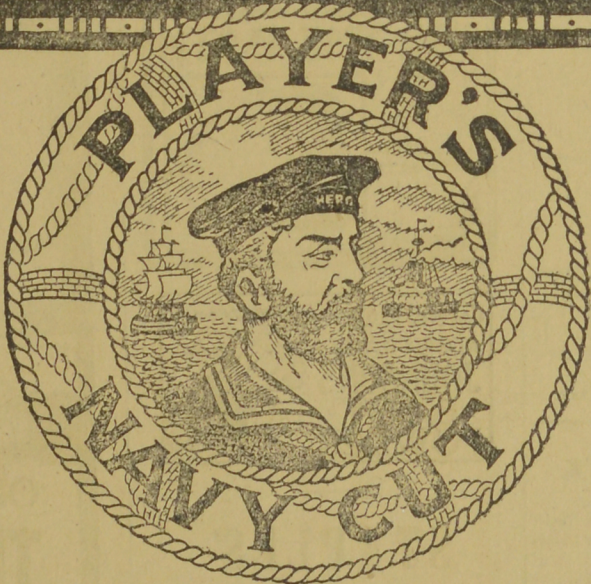

London, June 23—Premier Lloyd George, speaking at the Welsh Baptist tabernacle in London, declared that the world must be fit for everybody and all classes to live in. There should be no room for deformities, such as militarism, mammonism and anarchy. All must bear a fair share.

"The future of the Empire has already been committed to democracy," he said. "Problems of reconstruction must be arranged in an atmosphere of brotherhood and friendliness. The upper classes, militant classes and the lower classes have all passed through the fiery furnace together and it has changed the hearts of the people. Before the war I fought hard to get fair play for the people from whom I sprung, and what I got was by fighting. I'm going to try another way this time."
