BLUENOSES AND FISH.

Dealing editorially with the efforts being put forth to supply the people of Ontario with fish at a reasonable price the Toronto Globe says:

"Away up here, far from the Atlantic, we have always envied our friends of the Maritime Provinces their varied fish diet, and wondered what particular part of it produced the grey matter of the politicians who gave Nova Scotia and New Brunswick their prestige in public life. Some people consider that prestige a good deal of a 'cod.' It can be added with truth, however, that there has seldom been a 'lobster' among the Maritime representatives at Ottawa. Leviathans have occasionally appeared in the form of a Howe or Tupper, who as 'spouters' have had few equals. We are beginning to hope that Ontario also will be able to raise statesmen on a lake fish diet, supplemented by an occasional carload of fish from the sea.

"Lake Nipigon is yielding many thousand pounds of white fish every day, the Lake of the Woods begins to send its harvest, and the Georgian Bay, Lake Erie and Lake Ontario are all under contribution. The provincial government's plan of providing fish as a substitute for meat is working out to the advantage of the consumer, and easing a very difficult economic situation. There is one danger—that of depletion. The waters of the Great Lakes system are capable of supplying Ontario with a varied diet of fresh water fish, not only during the war, but indefinitely, if care be taken in restocking. The government should plan for a most comprehensive system of hatcheries and for the sheltering of the fry in waters favorable to development. With these precautions the Province may become famous for its fresh fish food and in the not too remote future send a fish-fed premier to match the Bluenoses at their favorite game of governing Canada."

IN THE OLD DAYS.

They must have had brutal laws in the Maritime Provinces in the eighteenth century, if the following story taken from a recent issue of the Halifax Recorder is correct:

"In 1751, a young girl of comely appearance, a servant in an Inn in Halifax, was brought before a magistrate accused of stealing a looking glass, valued at five shillings. After hearing the evidence, a justice of the peace, a man of military training, committed the girl to stand trial at the Court of General Sessions, which was composed of the Governor and members of the Council. The indictment was read by William Nesbit, clerk of the court, and Otis Little, the Attorney General of the province (who disappeared a short time afterwards, and was never heard of, leaving a large number of creditors to lament his departure), prosecuted. The case being clear and the evidence of guilt established, poor Martha Walsh, who couldn't resist the female desire to contemplate her charms in a borrowed looking glass, was, by a jury of long-visaged Puritans from Massachusetts Bay, found guilty of the awful crime. We do not know if Cornwallis took off his wig and donned the ominous black cap, as was the custom by law established. Be that as it may, Martha was sentenced to death. She pleaded the benefit of clergy, and her sentence was commuted to branding on the hand with the letter T."

The New Brunswick judge who in the old days sentenced a boy to death for stealing a loaf of bread, had not very much on the "long-visaged Puritans" who convicted the Halifax girl or on the judge who condemned her to death for the theft of a looking-glass.

Financial Post: An offering direct to investors of $200,000, 6 per cent. twenty-year road debentures of the province of New Brunswick is being made at present by the Comptroller General of the Province. The debentures are being offered at par and afford an excellent opportunity to both large and small investors to secure a sound provincial bond giving an attractive yield. They are issued in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, and bear date August 15, 1918. Interest is payable semi-annually on February 15 and August 15 of each year. The bonds are exempt from taxation in New Brunswick except succession duties.

The mills of the international paper company at Livermore Falls, Maine, were re-opened in accordance with the vote of the seven hundred and fifty employees to resume work. The vote was taken upon receipt of word from New York that differences over the interpretation of an award of the federal war labor board had been adjusted.

London Chronicle.—Canada claimed the last survivor of the combatants on the British side at Waterloo—Lieut. Maurice Shea, who died at Sherbrooke, Province of Quebec, in 1892, aged 98. Shea was a corporal in the 73rd Foot, and won a commission by his heroic conduct on the historic day. When wars were over he went to Canada, but until his 96th year never failed to celebrate the Waterloo anniversary in his new home.

The Americans met Germany's finest regiments in battle south of Sorcy Sunday night, when the enemy threw in the whole fourth division of Prussian Guards in a desperate counter-attack. Advices reaching London show that the Americans like a stone wall brought the Germans to a clean stop and inflicted heavy losses upon them. Just think of it! Yankee boys, just out of civil life putting it over the crack Prussian Guards—the flower of the Kaiser's army.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

If Hindenburg is not dead, possibly he has gone on his vacation.

It is about time for the Huns to substitute an alarm clock for the watch on the Rhine.

Lately the world is finding so much for women to do that fooling a man is no longer a visible means of support.

A progressive statesman is usually a person who promises a lot of things in theory and never accomplishes much in practice.

The row in Murmansk shows that there is a lot of geography that has not yet been fought over.

John D. celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday by playing three games of debilitated golf without violating a commandment. Grand old man!

Perhaps the meanest man in the world is the one who goes into bankruptcy a month after his son-in-law married for money.

"I wonder," a wife occasionally says to herself, "who my husband blamed for the bad luck he had before he got married?"

Young Boy Was Lost
William Grant, the young son of Howard Grant of King Street, was lost in the woods along the New Maryland Road yesterday afternoon and did not return to his home until a late hour last night. He was out with a number of other boys and became separated from the others. He wandered about for some hours and finally found his way out of the woods. His absence caused his family much anxiety and a search party was proposed and would have gone out if the boy had not appeared.

Mrs. Frederick Long and child of Medicine Hat, are here en route to Centreville to visit relatives and are the guests of Mrs. R. P. Allen, Charlotte Street.

THE STORY OF THE STAIRS

Every time you go up stairs you can test your state of health—the condition of your blood.

Do you arrive at the top of the stairs breathless and distressed? Does your heart palpitate violently? Do you have a pain in your side? Perhaps you even have to stop half way up, with limbs trembling and head dizzy, too exhausted to go further without resting. These are unfailing signs of anaemia. As soon as your blood becomes impoverished or impure the stair-case becomes an instrument of torture. When this is so you are unfit for work; your blood is watery and your nerves exhausted, you are losing the joy of an active life and paving the way for a further break down and decline. In this condition only one thing can save you. You must put new, rich, red blood into your veins without further delay and so build up your health anew. To get this new, rich blood give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, and they will give you new vitality, sound health, and the power to resist and throw off disease. For more than a generation this favorite medicine has been in use throughout the world and has made many thousands of weak, despondent men and women bright, active and strong.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORN LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that while freezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

A MILITARY DEMobilIZATION COMMITTEE

An Empire Organization Recommended by the Imperial War Conference at Its Final Sessions.

(Canadian Press direct wire.)
Ottawa, July 30.—An official report of the deliberations of the final sessions of the Imperial War Conference held in London and attended by Sir Robert Borden and his colleagues, was cabled to the director of public information. The cable in part reads as follows:

"At the instance of the Government of Canada, the various problems respecting demobilization, particularly connected with transportation, were discussed by the Imperial War Conference. Ultimately, on the suggestion of the War Office representatives, a resolution was passed agreeing that an advisory and executive committee, to be known as the military demobilization committee of the British Empire, should be set up forthwith. This committee of the British Empire will consist of representatives of the military authorities of the dominions and colonies and representatives of the War Office, India Office and the ministry of shipping in the United Kingdom, under the chairmanship of the Secretary of War or a deputy appointed by him.

The demobilization committee will consider all military questions of demobilization affecting the various governments concerned, will arrange for the fullest interchange of information regarding plans on demobilization and will submit the questions of principle arising from time to time to the governments concerned. The committee will suit itself to general demobilization at such times as the chairman may consider necessary, and during demobilization as frequently as may be necessary to secure the complete coordination of the demobilization procedure of the government's concerned.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand, the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Sheep on Every Hill Side in New Brunswick

The New Brunswick Government through the Department of Agriculture has arranged with the Chartered Banks to help the Farmers --- where assistance is needed---to buy sheep.

The Department will not only arrange to buy Sheep FOR the Farmers, but will also buy good breeders FROM the Farmers --- in other words, this branch of the Agricultural Department WILL SUPERVISE ALL PURCHASES AND SALES OF SHEEP.

IF A FARMER NEEDS CREDIT TO BUY SHEEP he should consult his local banker who has the necessary forms.

If you cannot buy sheep in your locality, inform the nearest banker who will notify the Agricultural Department, or, better still, notify the Department yourself and say how many Sheep you want.

KEEP YOUR EWE LAMBS

Every Ewe Lamb weighing 80 pounds and over and of reasonable quality, should be retained by farmers for breeding purposes. Sell the males and the inferior females for butcher purposes. If you have more ewe lambs than required, induce your neighbor to purchase.

THE VALUE OF WOOL

Unwashed wool of the best quality brought 80 cents a pound this spring, or about $5.00 a fleece.

SIXTY MILLION SHEEP

Have been lost in Europe since the war started. Wool in enormous quantities is now required to clothe the soldiers. It will take an immense quantity to reclothe the returned men in civilian dress. Prices will likely be high for ten years.

New Brunswick has the pasture, hay, roots and a climate suited to sheep. Every farmer should consider investing in a small flock as a foundation. The first year will give approximately $4.00 worth of wool per sheep; the sheep will cost about $15.00. Is it not a good business proposition?

If you cannot purchase locally, place your order with your banker. Orders will be filled, if possible, in the order filed at this office through the banks.

For further information apply to

J. F. TWEEDDALE,
Minister of Agriculture.
