VETERANS WERE OUT IN FORCE ON SUNDAY

ELOQUENT DISCOURSE BY REV. GEORGE M. YOUNG

Large Congregation at Methodist Church Yesterday Morning—Veterans Made a Fine Appearance.

The observance of the fourth anniversary of the beginning of the war in the Methodist Church Sunday morning was a notable event. A very large number of Veterans under the command of Lt. Col. H. F. McLeod and of men from the Convalescent Hospital together with the officers and men of District Depot No. 7 completely filled the centre of the church auditorium. A beautiful solo was rendered by Mrs. W. A. McLellan and a quartette by Messrs Clayton, McLean, Brewer and Dryden was greatly appreciated. Special prayers were offered for His Majesty the King for those in authority; those fighting our battles; the sick and wounded, for a complete and speedy victory and for Peace.

Pastor's Discourse
The sermon by the Pastor of the Church, Rev. Geo. M. Young was a statement of something gained from four years of war. Speaking from the text Psalms 4:6 "There be many who say, who will show us any good." Mr. Young called attention to the clearer view that had come of the object of the war, that the Allies were fighting for the great principles by which alone the world could be governed in justice and righteousness. The contrasting ideals of Prussianism, Bolshevism and Democracy were pointed out, and the latter with its opportunity for every man according to his deserts and his desires shown to be the ideal worth fighting for.

Principles not policies must hereafter govern the nations. The world had also gained a new understanding of the menace of militarism and the growing feeling is that when the world's representatives come to the Great Peace Council an international limitation of armaments will be one of the results. In the third place the Consciousness of God's presence and help had become clearer during the fateful years. Reference was made to the weakness of the forces; and the meagre equipment with which the Allies first met the fully prepared German onslaught. The miraculous success attending that effort needs explanation. Lloyd George said in Edinburgh a few weeks ago. "I have seen dark days and bright days, days when you could hardly see your way through the impenetrable mists, days of fear, days of apprehension constant

Today.

Today Fredericton is experiencing its first day of the Chautauqua course. Unfortunately the weather is not favorable a rain setting in about noon. It is feared that the first day's attendance will be seriously affected.

The large tent in which the various items of the Chautauqua will be given arrived here this morning and was erected on the Officers' Square in quick time. The tent is of drab color and is about the size of a circus side-show tent. Seating accommodation for two thousand is provided in the tent and a canvas screen some ten feet in height is erected around the tent to provide extra space for the audience. The tent is placed diagonally across the square.

In St. John Saturday
The Chautauqua course began in St. John Saturday the first performance being given in the afternoon. Press notices give highest praise to the lecture of Rev. Dr. Peter MacQueen upon "The Great European War," the lecture upon "The Larger Democracy" by the Chautauqua Superintendent Miss Hamilton and the performance of the McKinnie Operatic Company. All are to be heard today by Fredericton audiences. The operatic company gives performances both afternoon and evening. Dr. MacQueen the well known war correspondent will give his lecture tonight. Miss Hamilton speaks this afternoon. Performances will begin at 3 and 8 p. m.

The ladies and gentlemen who will take part in today's program arrived this morning from St. John registering at Windsor Hall.

days of anxiety, but I have never doubted for the reason that I have been taught to trust that the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth and that He will not endure the triumph of wrong."

Mr. Young paid a glowing tribute to the maimed and broken men before him, who had given themselves so heroically for the great cause we have the fullest belief in, the triumph of reason and humanity but our confidence is first of all in God.

Made Good Appearance
The Veterans made a fine appearance on the march. Those unable to walk were taken to and from the church in motors. Music was furnished by the Fredericton Brass Band.
