Near Prohibition.

"You don't mean to say, sah, that Col. Carter, of Kentucky, has joined the ranks of prohibition."

"Yes, sah. I saw him only the other day taking his whiskey with water."

As the war wags along the old fashioned man who knew all about it from the start becomes harded and harder to find.

Well Tried.

Medical Officer (posting man to the labor battalion)—Do you think you are fit for really hard labor?

Hard Case—Well, most of judges I have met thought so.

Personally we don't claim to know much about social distinctions, but why is it that a woman dresses for dinner and throws on any old thing for breakfast?

MANY GERMAN AIRPLANES BROUGHT DOWN BY ALLIES

London, Aug. 10.—Sixty-five German airplanes were destroyed by British aviators or driven down out of control in the fighting of August 8, when the allied offensive in Picardy opened last night's official statement on aviation operations shows. Fifty British machines are missing, the British losses being due chiefly to fire from the ground. The statement follows: "On August 8 our airplane squadrons co-operated with other arms on the battle front throughout the day. The line reached by our attacking infantry was reported by our contact airplanes. The positions of the hostile artillery in action and columns of German infantry and transport on the march were signalled to our guns by our artillery machines. Other machines supplied our advance troops with ammunition from the air.

"Co-operation with the tanks was carried out systematically. Our machines assisted the tank crews with information, attacked some strong points and other opposition with machine gun fire, and by dropping smoke bombs along the line of their advance, assisted to conceal the approach of the tanks from the enemy.

"Our machines working with cavalry rendered valuable services. Flying low in front of our advancing line our fighting squadron shot at and bombed the enemy in his retreat, causing havoc among the masses of hostile troops and transports on roads congested with traffic. Our bombing squadrons flying a few hundred feet from the ground attacked transport railway junctions and bridges.

Forty-eight hostile machines are reported as destroyed by our airplanes and seventeen others were driven down out of control. Five hostile balloons were shot down in flames. Fifty of our own machines are missing almost all of their casualties being due to fire from the ground. One of our night flying machines also failed to return.

On August 9, our airmen continued the work of co-operating with the British infantry, artillery and cavalry on the battlefield. German troops and transport were again attacked with bombs.

JOLLY SAILORS HAD JOY RIDE IN MEDITERRANEAN

New York, Aug. 9.—Behind the arrest here today of six officers of the steamship Yarkin, a former North German Lloyd liner taken over by the United States shipping board, lies the story of a strange "joy ride," which the vessel is said to have taken through the Mediterranean after having recently landed a cargo of supplies for the allied armies.

On this cruiser, which constituted a "side trip" on the return voyage the officers are said to have made merry, stopping at various ports and selling the ships valuable stores in order to supply themselves with wine and spare cash. On arriving in this country several days overdue the "Alibi" is said to have been that submarines had driven them from their course. This explanation however is said to have been discredited when the officers of a Spanish ship to whom an offer had been made at sea to sell the Yarkin's coal became suspicious and reported the matter on their arrival to the United States shipping board. When the Yarkin eventually reached this country the ships stores, valued at thousands of dollars were practically exhausted, it is charged. Details of the Mediterranean cruise are furnished in a confession said to have been obtained by an assistant United States district attorney from Edwin M. Reddy, chief officer of the Yarkin, who was arrested by a United States marshal, with five others, on charges of conspiring to defraud the United States government.

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Cholera Infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus prevent all the dreaded summer complaints. Concerning them Mrs. Fred Rose, South Bay, Ont., says:—"I feel Baby's Own Tablets saved the life of our baby when she had cholera infantum and I would not be without them." The tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

On the mediterranean voyage, the Yarkin is said to have stopped at Genoa, Gibraltar and many other ports. At one port, it is charged, 3,100 tons of coal were sold for only $1,235 so that it did not take long to complete the deal. Later hemp, rope, canned goods and everything else in the ships stores which was found to be marketable were sold. As the Yarkin carried a crew of nearly 100, these stores proved abundant. The six officers were held in $5,000 bail each.

JAZZ MEANS— WELL, JAZZ

Jazz Music, Jazz Victuals are Just War Time Substitutes for the Genuine Article.

"Will you tell me," said the nice old gentleman whose home was down state, "what the deuce is this thing that they call jazz?"

"Why" explained his grandson who had lived all his life in the city, "jazz is-er-jazz music, you know."

"And how do they make jazz music?" inquired the nice old gentleman. "They use a couple of tin waiters and a cow bell and a buzzsaw. I have seen all these. And what else?"

"I don't know exactly what they use," replied the grandson. "Most everything, I guess. Isn't it the great stuff though? It's got the punch, I tell you!"

"I'll tell you how I size the thing up continued grandpa. "A lot of the young fellows who used to play in the bands have gone to the front, and they have had to put substitutes in their places, and these substitutes picked up to fill the places of the regular tooters don't toot quite so well, and so the foxy bandmasters have introduced jazz into the band to drown out the mistakes, much as the chefs are accustomed to smother codfish with onions.

"Just as long as the jazz player is on the job with his jazz it doesn't make any difference if some of the substitutes do get off on the wrong foot. In fact I doubt whether it makes any difference if one player plays the tune wrong all the way through if there is a competent jazz man on the job at the time."

"Maybe that is why jazz is so popular," admitted the nice old lady, whose husband was the nice old gentleman. "Certainly everything is jazz. One of the selections rendered by that jazz band last evening was a slumber song. But I'm not worrying about jazz bands. What I want to know is this: What is a la mode, cantaloupe a la mode, pumpkin pie a la mode, fried bananas a la mode and everything a la mode everywhere."

"I know what a la mode means!" exclaimed the countryfied grandpa. "I see it all now! A la mode is jazz victuals and jazz is a la mode music. The bakers and the cooks have mostly all gone to war and the substitute cooks that have been corralled to serve in their places don't know how to make the different kinds of dishes so they throw everything they have into the pan and put some ice cream on top and no one can tell whether the wrong stuff is in the wrong dish or not.

"Of course, you may be suspicious of bread and butter a la mode and the jazz version of sweet and low" but you can never be sure you're not getting the gods, so there is no reason in the world to be worrying yourself about getting swindled."

Will Compete in Races

Sussex Record: Victoria, Dr. McAllister's speedy trotting mare, was shipped to the Upper Provinces this week, where she will compete in races during the next two months. She is staked in eight events, the first of which will be trotted next week, and one each week afterward. Honest Dan, owned by W. S. Fairweather, was shipped to Moncton on Monday, where he is entered in the 2.30 class in Friday's races. Dr. McAllister's new trotting horse was also shipped to the Upper Provinces and will be started in several races.

The announcement that the Bolshevik government of Russia is about to declare war on Japan will not likely cause the Japanese much loss of sleep. It is not so many years since these two countries engaged in a great struggle in which the Russians came off second best.
