THE KAISER'S BIG TALK.

As an American contemporary points out, the poorest, the lowliest and most despised wight in a free country need not envy today the crowned fugitive who is today taking refuge from the wrath of his people in a land which he had arrogantly menaced and abused all his life time. For though the German Kaiser of yesterday can save his dishonored head by ignominious flight, William Hohenzollern cannot escape the condemnation of heaven nor the hatred and contempt of men, including his own recently adoring subjects.

In view of the humiliating position occupied by the Kaiser today, it is interesting to recall some of his bombastic talk made during the war. For instance, in the year 1914, he got off the following:

"Before the leaves fall from the trees we shall be back again in the dear Fatherland. Exterminate first the treacherous English, and walk over General French's contemptible little army. The warlike spirit still lives in the German people—that powerful spirit which attacks the enemy wherever it finds him, regardless of the cost."

"You, my troops, are my guarantee that I can dictate peace to my enemies. Up and at the foe! God's goodness will guide the German people through battle to victory—to the goal appointed for the German people by Providence. I have drawn the sword which, without victory and without honor, I cannot sheathe again. We stand with our hearts toward God—to the dust with all the enemies of Germany. Amen."

In the year 1915 the German ruler said: "Our brave soldiers have shown themselves to be invincible in battle against nearly the whole world. The war drama is now coming to its close."

Regarding the United States, the Emperor declared: "America had better look out after the war. I shall stand no nonsense from the Americans. My destructive sword has crushed the Russians. In a short while I will announce new victories. The war drama is now coming to its close. In a just cause I am ready to force myself to be cruel."

As late as the year 1917 the chief German murderer said: "If the enemy does not want peace, then we must bring peace by battering in with iron fist and shining sword the doors of those who will not have peace. Victory in the coming year will again be on our side and on that of our Allies. If only we ease the burden on the Lord he will smite the foe hip and thigh, as He did Amalek, the prototype of perfidious England. Our armies are not going to rest until, with God's help, the enemy is beaten. With the help of God, who has hitherto graciously protected us, the enemy shall have a decision. England is particularly the enemy to be struck down, however difficult it may be."

The Kaiser and his six stalwart sons managed to keep away from the firing line during the late war. They incurred no risk and of course escaped without a scratch. Now they are trying to escape from their misdeeds, but their case will undoubtedly receive attention in due course.

The greatest surrender of warships in the history of the world is booked to take place this week. A great fleet of German battleships, battle cruisers and light cruisers and destroyers left their naval base for an unknown destination Monday morning. They will be met by the British fleet, accompanied by American and French representatives and conducted to their destination. At last the enemy fleet is out of the Kiel Canal—and it will remain out.

During the war the British Admiralty transport service conveyed by sea 22,000,000 soldiers with the loss at sea of only 4,391. More than 120,000,000 tons of naval and military stores and more than 2,000,000 animals also were transported. The British fleet and auxiliary craft grew during the war from a total of 2,500,000 tons to a total of 6,500,000 tons, while the personnel increased from 146,000 to 406,000.

It is estimated that $3,000,000 worth of used tin cans are wasted every year in Canada. A company, called Can Conservers of Canada, Ltd., has been formed in Toronto to collect these, and cleanse, sterilize and re-top them for use again. It is understood that Mackenzie & Mann interests and J. P. Morgan & Co., of New York, are interested in the undertaking.

It is announced from Toronto that the Victory Loan has been oversubscribed to the extent of $176,000,000. Every province in Canada went over the top. New Brunswick secured five and one-half millions more than its allotment. Ontario subscriptions stand at $329,679,000. Toronto led the cities with $144,946,000, Montreal coming next with $143,433,050.

It is officially announced from Washington that President Wilson will attend the peace conference. He will leave Washington soon after the opening of Congress on December 2.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

One doesn't buy a tin lizzie for the sake of the tin.

Pretty near time for an auction sale in Europe of second-hand thrones.

We wish to officially announce that Joan of Arc was not the wife of Jonah.

We are still waiting to hear from Bill Hohenzollern where he left his friend and partner Gott.

This speed crazed old world seems to be trying to crowd a century of history into a few weeks.

During courtship it is a case of suspense with the girl and of expense with the youth.

Washington reports an earthquake somewhere. Perhaps it is the jar occasioned by the Kaiser falling off his throne.

From the number of conflagrations reported, one assumes that the German people are keeping the home fires burning.

It is safe to guarantee that the tin-lizzie airplane, to cost about five hundred dollars, promised "after the war" is no vehicle for a fat man.

Husbands appear to come in just two classes—the kind that work so hard they have no time for sentiment, and the kind that are so sentimental they have no time for work.

There may be a great deal of talk as to who it was that won the war. But there will be a very general agreement as to who lost it, even the Kaiser not dissenting.

Fined For Shooting Rooster

The outcome of an interesting case recently tried at Gagetown was that Paul Briggs of that place was given a sentence of a fine of one hundred dollars or three months in jail for shooting and killing a rooster belonging to a neighbor Fred Boyd. The shooting followed lengthy trouble between the two men. Briggs it is said leaned over a fence and shot the fowl in the yard of the owner. P. J. Hughes appeared for the complainant, and C. D. Richards for the defendant. The case after being tried before Mr. Shirley Peters, justice of the peace, was carried before Judge Wilson who sustained the judgement.

Handed to Children's Aid

The cruelty charge placed against a family at Keswick for mistreating a young English girl came up today for the final decision. The girl was handed over to the Children's Aid Society.

REV. W. H. SMITH'S TRIBUTE TO LATE REV. J. E. WILSON

Former Minister of St. Paul's
Writes from Vancouver Concerning Former Co-Laborer.

Rev. W. H. Smith, M.A., B.D., Ph. D., minister of St. John's Presbyterian Church of Vancouver, B. C., has written to the Daily Mail a letter expressing his respect for the late Rev. Joseph E. Wilson formerly pastor of the George Street Baptist Church in this city, who died while holding the pastorate of the Woodstock United Baptist Church. The letter of Rev. Dr. Smith is as follows:

Nov., 11th, 1918.
The Editor of the Daily Mail.

Dear Sir:
I desire through your columns to pay my tribute of respect for and appreciation of the late Rev. Joseph E. Wilson. He came to George Street Baptist Church shortly after I was settled in St. Paul's, and during the years of our pastorates we were thrown much together. A man of good ability, sound judgment and wise leadership he had no desire for selfish popularity, but served faithfully and with marked Christian devotion amid the quiet of daily scenes. He was in the true sense one of God's gentlemen and his relations with his brethren were according to the spirit and ideal of real brotherhood. It was a rare privilege to be associated with him in community service. Loyal to his own denomination he regarded all denominations as battalions in the Lord's army and rejoiced in the successes of all real followers. He sought the glory of the Kingdom of God and inspired and led his church in the great campaign for righteousness. He hated insincerity and gave no quarter to hypocrisy. In the strenuous days of battle for civic betterment he showed fine courage and strong convictions which issued in aggressive service. He was a trusted leader in all reform movements. Fredericton owes much to his ministry accomplished so quietly that many were not fully aware of his contribution toward a higher ideal of public responsibility which has meant much to the welfare of the city. Nor should we forget his keen sense of humour and good cheer, steadily maintained in the midst of many trying and disappointing experiences. His gospel was a vital fact and he gazed with a prophet's vision upon the greater day's righteousness now dawning over the wreckage of our bleeding world. His life and character are a precious heritage to those who knew him. I am sure that the sympathy of many will go out in tenderness and
