security, may contribute to meet the needs and aid in the development of his fellow members. Nor, of course, can our arrangement for mutual assistance exclude all competition, though we are almost anxious that co-operation should be the keynote of our commercial relations. Our feelings in this matter cannot be better described than in the words of Mr. James A. Farrell to the Foreign Trade Council, namely:

"The sacrifices that are being cheerfully endured today by men engaged in foreign commerce in the necessary curtailment of their business through the conservation of shipping are an earnest of the elevation of method and of purpose which will control the conduct of our external trade in the future.

Germany The Obstacle

"There is but one obstacle to this economic association of nations. That obstacle is Germany—the Germany described by President Wilson in the words which I have already quoted—a Germany living under ambitious and intriguing masters. You have seen the provisions of her commercial treaties in the east, and with all the groups of peoples from the Arctic Ocean to the Black Sea. Her economic policy towards these groups is absolutely contrary to our principles. That policy began by systematic and lawless plundering in Poland, in the Ukraine and elsewhere. Now everywhere she has legalized this blunder by placing the weaker nations under onerous commercial tribute to herself.

"On Lithuania she has imposed her coinage. From Roumania and the Ukraine she has exacted a guarantee of supplies irrespective of their own needs, and at flagrantly unjust rates of compensation. So has appropriated the natural resources of Roumania in the form of a lease to German corporations. On Russia, Finland and the Ukraine she has imposed unfair and one-sided tariff arrangements. The people of Finland in fact find now that their liberties have been bartered away in an agreement signed secretly in Berlin, and it is actually being proposed that thousands of Finns should be deported to work for German masters.

"Having established control over the Dardanelles and the Baltic, Germany has now brought under her own control the third great highway of European trade—the Danube—by destroying the International Commission which had long become an established organ of European policy, and now, in order that there may not be any mistake as to the significance of these acts, her Foreign Minister has declared that this Roumanian treaty in particular will be made the precedent and foundation for the economic terms to be demanded by the Central Powers at the general peace. The significance of this declaration is evident from Kuehlmann's own words, that the damages Roumania will have to pay will amount to a very considerable sums in the

TOURIST TRAFFIC

The volume of tourist traffic from the United States this year has been considerably lessened by misleading press dispatches appearing in American and Canadian papers regarding the Canadian Registration Act. It was unwarrantably stated that visitors to Canada from the United States would be compelled to register at a post office before they could secure accommodation at a hotel, that passports were absolutely necessary, and more recently the absurd rumor was widely circulated that women from the United States would not be allowed to return home. This latter ridiculous report is specifically denied by Mr. W. D. Scott, Superintendent of Immigration, who officially designated it as "absolutely without any foundation in fact." Senator Gideon Robertson, a member of the Dominion Cabinet, and Chairman of the Registration Board, is equally positive in his denials of the other mischievous reports. The actual facts are, according to the official statement of the Registration Board, that the Registration Act applies only to people permanently resident in Canada and does not affect even remotely anyone living in the United States; that no registration at a post office is necessary, and that no passports are required. The possession of papers showing the holders to be American citizens is all that is necessary to cross into Canada. At the International boundary line the holders of these papers are given an identification card by the Canadian Immigration Officials, which enables the visitors to travel freely where they wish without any interference on the part of Canadian officials.

Senator Robertson, Chairman of the Registration Board, has announced that "neither in the instructions issued, nor the regulations for Canadian registration is there anything that would indicate desire or intention to impose restrictions upon Americans or aliens, entering, travelling in, or leaving Canada."

The experience of those American visitors who have already come to Canada verifies Senator Robertson's statement, but unfortunately there are many across the border who have not read this announcement, and may still be influenced by the false reports to stay at home, spoil their vacation, and cause a mutual loss to themselves and to Canada.

AIRMEN RAID OFFENBURG

London, July 17—British aviators again have attacked Offenbourg near Karlsruhe, and Thionville, near Metz says an official statement from the air ministry issued last night. Good bursts were observed at Offenbourg and a fire, followed by explosions, was started at Thionville. The statement reads:

"On July 15, the railway sidings and sheds at Offenbourg and a hostile air-drome were successfully bombed. Good bursts were observed. On July 16, our machines attacked the railway and sidings at Thionville. Several bursts were observed on the railway. A fire was started and several heavy explosions ensued. All our machines returned safely."

long run, sums which perhaps do not very substantially differ from that which might presumably have been obtained by officially demanding a war indemnity.

"Economic independence and free choice are the last things which Germany will ever allow to the peoples within her reach. So long as this is the policy of Germany how can we admit her to membership in the free association of nations to which we already belong? Before we can offer her any participation in our resources she must release her victims from the economic slavery that she has imposed upon them. While the war continues we must take as a measure of war all the steps required to destroy the economic basis of her military effort.

"When peace is restored the place of Germany in the commonwealth of nations will be determined by the test established by President Wilson. If she abandons her old ways and her restless and aggressive policy, if she ceases to use economic policies as a preparation for further war, we shall not be slow to recognize the change. The sacrifices for which this war has called are too great and too bitter to permit of our neglecting the President's warning that a complete change of mind and purpose in her government are the necessary preliminaries to her admission to participation in our economic partnerships.

"Neither the United States nor the British Empire has pursued or will pursue any selfish policy. The preoccupations of our internal reconstruction will never blind us to the obligations which we owe to our associates, or limit the fullness and frankness of our discussions with them. There must be no jealousy between us, and no suspicions. I hope the time is not far off when we shall meet round the council board to discuss in detail the economic association which will combine the resources of the civilized world in the joint work of reconstruction and the restoration of prosperity."
