N. B. IS CARRYING OUT A PROGRESSIVE POLICY

The Public Domain of the Province is Being Conserved---The Reclassification of Crown Lands a Work of Great Importance---Plans Being Drawn on a Scale of 25 Chains to the Inch

By T. G. Loggie Deputy Minister of Lands and Mines, Fredericton, N.B., in Canada Lumberman

I think I am expressing the views of everyone who has studied Forestry problems in this country, that the step taken by New Brunswick in the inauguration of the Forest Survey in 1916 has unqualified support. Indeed the making of this survey has been contemplated for some ten years, but on account of the lack of funds the matter was not finally grappled with until an indefatigable and resourceful minister made provision for the expense of this survey to be paid out of the "Crown Land Sinking Fund," being the result of moneys paid in the way of bonuses from timber licenses during the years 1913 and 1914.

COL. T. G. LOGGIE.
Deputy Minister of Lands and Mines.

We claim today that we are carrying on the most progressive timber and soil survey that has, as yet, been undertaken in Canada, and getting the work done at a much smaller price than was ever anticipated.

Will it surprise the public these war times when I say that a four per cent survey of New Brunswick is being made for a little over twenty-five dollars per square mile or four cents per acre? By a four per cent survey it means that for every one hundred acres reported upon the actual trees above 6 inches in diameter on four acres are counted tabulated as to their size, species and value, as well as making an examination of the soil by digging test pits so that the thickness and value of the soil may be noted.

The survey is carried on by what is known as the strip method by running parallel lines twenty-five chains apart and counting calliperings and noting every tree beyond six inches in diameter four and one-half feet from the ground within thirty-three feet of the line on either side. Burnt lands, barrens, stunted growth, lakes rivers, roads are also carefully noted so that when a block is thus surveyed the licensee of the prospective buyer knows the value of the block.

No survey can be of value unless the results are mapped with the information obtained, plainly marked and tabulated. These plans are drawn on the large scale of twenty-five chains to the inch, and prints are always obtainable.

So much for the character of the survey, but what of results? At the 1st of May, 1918, after two years' field work surveys and plans were completed for 1,125,000 acres of Crown Lands.

The following results have been obtained on the first 800,000 acres examined:

77.6, 43.3 per cent area covered with softwood timber.
30 per cent area covered with mixed hard and soft.
4.3 per cent area covered with hardwoods.
19., 10.3 per cent burnt land reproducing.
8.7 per cent area burnt land not reproducing.
3.4, 2.8 per cent area barren, treeless land.
3 per cent area lakes and water.
3 per cent area cleared and cultivated.

Per Cent
Softwoods 57.1
White Spruce 9.9
Black and Red 15.8

Fir 15.9
White Pine 3.3
Red Pine004
Cedar 8.4
Hemlock 3.7
Jack Pine14
Hardwoods 42.9
Yellow Birch 18.4
Maple6
Beech 3.3
White Birch 8.9
Poplar 5.4
Other hardwoods9

It may be said by unthinking persons "Why all this expense is incurred when forest conditions are changing continually by lands being logged over annually and large acres being laid waste by forest fires?" My answer to this is, conditions like these are noted on the plans when they occur so that up to date information is always to be had in the Forestry Department of the Crown Land Office.

I have said we are carrying on a most comprehensive survey of the Crown Lands, in addition to that we claim the new Forest Act will be far more reaching than anything heretofore attempted in the Dominion in the management of the public domain.

The principal feature is an Advisory Board to aid the Minister in carrying out the new progressive forest policy. The Board consists of five members, as follows:

The Minister of Lands and Mines the Deputy Minister, the Director of Forest Surveys, a representative of the Lessees of Crown Lands, a representative of Private Land Owners.

The Board has held its first meeting and has planned out the work in accordance with the Act. Permanent forest rangers, irrespective of party lines, who have all the qualifications of wood rangers, and after passing a searching examination are to be then chosen. These men will have charge of the fire ranging, scaling, inspecting woods operations, building lookout towers constructing telephone lines protection of game and in short, they will be employed throughout the year in everything that pertains to the forest. From the present indications it would appear the passing of the new Act is going to be crowned with success and a brighter prospect is in sight as to the care and management of the New Brunswick Crown Lands—its most valuable asset.

A lot of those people who took German money seem to be at a loss for a country to spend it in.
