THE GERMANS ARE DRIVEN FROM THE BELGIAN COAST

The Allied Troops Are Now in Possession of Ostend, Zeebrugge, and Bruges--The Huns Are on the Run on All Fronts--Big Army in Northern Belgium May be Cut Off--Submarine Bases

New York, Oct. 18--The Associated Press tonight issued the following: The Belgian coast again is Belgian.

Germany's dream of an invasion of England across the North Sea from Calais is ended.

Belgian Flanders is fast being evacuated by the enemy, and his line from the Belgian frontier to the Meuse river gradually is giving way under the attacks of the British, French and American armies which are demanding to be served with victory.

A haven of safety in a shorter and more compact line is being sought by the Germans in order to escape annihilation by their foes. Everywhere they are being whipped. But seemingly they are still far from defeat.

In Belgium the enemy is giving ground hastily in order to bring his armies safely out of the trap which menaces them; but from the French frontier to the Meuse river he still is fighting desperately to hold back the lower jaw of the great Foch pincher from closing in a great converging movement and entrapping in its maw the German fighting force in its entirety. And thus far he has successfully, through the use of picked troops and machine gunners who know defeat only in death, ward off the culminating blow.

Zeebrugge, Germany's second great submarine base on the North Sea, has gone the way of Ostend. The flag of Belgium once more flies over it. To the south of Bruges has been evacuated and Turcoing, Roubaix and other towns have been delivered.

Out of the great sack between the North Sea and the Lys river the enemy is fleeing fast in an endeavor to prevent capture or internment in Holland. His hope is that he will be able to reach Antwerp and there reconstitute his line from the Dutch frontier through Antwerp and Namur to some point in the south, probably Sedan or Metz, and stabilize it, for the moment at least, to the Swiss frontier.

British Pressing Forward

In France, east of Lille to Cambrai the British slowly but surely are pressing forward despite supreme efforts of the enemy to hold them blotting out the big salient which has Tournai its northern and Valenciennes its southern enemy-held base. To assure the collapse of this salient Field Marshal Haig, with whose forces are brigaded men from the United States, is driving hard along the Bohain-Le Cateau front in a manoeuvre which is meeting with success and throwing Valenciennes into a dangerous pocket.

To the south in the sack between the Oise and the Serre rivers north of Laon the Germans slowly are withdrawing toward Hirson, with the enemy impeding their progress with strong rear guards. Likewise in Champagne the Germans are offering strong resistance against the French and Americans in their attempts to drive northward toward Mezieres and Sedan. The French nevertheless have been able to cross the Aisne river near Vouziers and thus have made more secure the positions of the Franco-American forces in the Valley of the Aire at Grand Pre.

To the east the Americans on both sides of the Meuse River are slowly going forward. Between the great wooded bastion and the Meuse picked troops have been chosen to defend the blow northward toward Sedan. All the ground that is being won is being valiantly defended to the last.

In the Macedonian theatre the Greeks are now in full possession of Greek Macedonia. Albania is fast being cleared of the enemy, and in Serbia the Tonic allied forces have been driven thirty miles north of Nish. In Syria the victorious forces of General Allenby are meeting with scant resistance.

Two Lines of Three Carried

With the French Army in Flanders, Oct. 18--(Havas Agency)--In their plans for a retirement from Belgium the Germans had prepared three successive lines upon each one of which they intended to halt and reform. According to captured German officers the first two lines have been broken by the Allied advance and a third one will be reached in a few days.

At the beginning of the Allied attack on October 14 there were eight divisions in the German lines. These were reinforced by seven new divisions, but the new divisions already were exhausted and were of little help. During the night of October 15-16 two divisions from the Russian front were thrown into the battle, but their strength had been greatly reduced and their morale was very weak. The seventeen divisions have lost heavily in prisoners, killed and wounded.

The retreating Germans continue acts of barbarity. At Isekhem German soldiers threw bombs into a dugout where civilian refugees had sought shelter and were waiting for liberation.

CAPT. TINGLEY DIED OF WOUNDS ON MONDAY

Graduate of U. N. B. and Well Known Here--Won M. C. and was Three Times Wounded.

Moncton, N. B., Oct. 18--Word was received from Ottawa this morning that Capt. Frank H. Tingley of the Canadian Artillery, who was reported seriously wounded a few days ago, died of wounds on Monday. He is a son of Mr. A. J. Tingley, chief of the Special Service of the Intercolonial Railway and enlisted with the first contingent. He won the M. C. and was three times wounded.

Capt. Tingley is well known in Fredericton being a graduate of the University of New Brunswick. While on leave after being wounded he visited Fredericton several times. Before the war he was a Lieutenant in the 19th Field Battery of Moncton.

The Anthracite Question

Some of the Fredericton churches have already succeeded in getting their hard coal supply as have several of the private citizens. As the Victoria Hospital needs a loan of hard coal it would certainly be showing the proper Christian spirit if the churches helped the hospital with a loan of Anthracite. One of the local citizens who has his coal supply in stated he was willing to help those who had not succeeded in doing so by loaning them coal. Others have different views on the matter and say they are prepared to fight to keep what they have.
