A Drop On a Touchy Corn

Instant relief! Then corn or callus lifts off with fingers

Just think—You can lift off any corn or callus without one twinge of pain. A Cincinnati man discovered this either compound and named it Freezone. Any druggist will sell a tiny bottle of Freezone for very little cost. You apply a few drops directly upon a tender corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it right off.

Freezone is wonderful. It dries instantly. It doesn't eat away the corn or callus, but shrivels it up without even irritating the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, as well as painful calluses lift right off. There is no pain before or afterwards.

No soreness or smarting. Women should keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn ache twice.

A celebrated beauty specialist says: "To whiten the elbows, twist them in grapefruit." It costs 35 cents to get enough grapefruit to twist your spoon in, to say nothing of elbows. Beauty, like everything else, comes high.

Though the place to start a war garden is in a man's head, it must not stop there.

Great Speech

English speaking people to rise against the threatened French domination. He had said there were bigots on both sides of politics and proof of his statement was furnished by the fact that while a Fredericton paper was criticising him for doing too much for the French, the Moniteur Acadien of Shediac was condemning the minister of lands and mines for not doing enough for them and was holding him up as a Protestant bigot who was strangling the French colonists. It looked to him (Veniot) as if it was a concerted attempt on the part of the English and French Conservative press to stir up prejudice, with the hope of gaining some political advantage. He noticed in the Standard's report of the speech of the hon. leader of the opposition there was a sub-heading which referred to "Hetherington's break." He wished to say that his hon. friend from Queens had made no break, but he was inclined to think that he had caused a break among his hon. friends opposite. It would be good for the province if it had more men like Dr. Hetherington, who were not afraid to stand up and denounce those who are seeking to create racial prejudice among the people.

A number of speakers who had preceded him had made reference to the great war, and the hon. leader of the opposition had stated that the situation was critical. He (Veniot) while he had every confidence that the Allies would achieve success, thought that in reviewing the situation there was every reason to fear the result. Surely when the boys of the province, of all creeds were fighting for peace and laying down their lives in far-off Europe, those at home should be able to settle their little differences and work hand-in-hand for the good of the Empire. While he personally could not go to the front, he was represented there by a member of his family and had an offer which he made to the government been accepted, he would have been there now fighting alongside of his boy. In the face of such things, he thought the people of the province should make the sacrifice by getting together and frowning down on those who have so little respect for their positions as to seek by such despicable means to gain selfish political ends.

He had listened with a great deal of interest to the two speeches delivered during the session by the hon. leader of the opposition, and he had been somewhat attracted to that hon. member when he had said on the opening day that he did not intend to engage in carping criticism. Before the hon. member had concluded his speech, however, he was using such phrases as "indiscriminate waste of public money," and "greatest extravagance." In all of the criticism which the hon. member had levelled at the department of public works, he was only able to cite one instance where he claimed that the money had been wrongfully spent. Considering the fact that the department during the year had handled no less than $1,123,000 and the hon. member was only able to find fault with one item of expenditure, he (Veniot) had reason to be proud of the showing made. While the hon. leader of the opposition had criticised in a general way, he had made no specific charges against the department and had apparently forgotten his promise not to indulge in carping criticism. He thought the course pursued by the hon. member was unworthy of a man holding the position of leader of the opposition. If the hon. member had charges to make against the public works department, it was his duty to rise in his place and make them. The hon. member for St. John (Campbell) had expressed surprise that he (Veniot) had remained silent when serious charges were made against his department. The hon. member must have obtained his information about such charges from outside, as they certainly had not been made upon the floors of the House. Certainly no hon. member had given names, dates or places.

MR. CAMPBELL—"I think the hon. member from Albert substantially gave the names and places."

HON. MR. VENIOT—"He never gave the names, though I asked him to give them."

MR. CAMPBELL—"I think he said he had them in the desk."

HON. MR. VENIOT said that the hon. member had not given him the names, nor had the hon. member for York, in his reference to the work of the department. He (Veniot) thought it was the duty of the opposition to criticise and he expected and courted criticism, but he wished to tell them that if they had any charges to make, they should make them on the floors of the House. If they knew that an official or member of the House had gone wrong, they should demand an investigation. If they did that, it would be granted and these would be no backing and filling as was the case under the old government.

The hon. leader of the opposition had complained because the hon. minister of agriculture had spoken at great length in telling of what he had done. One would have thought that after having criticised the hon. minister of agriculture, the hon. leader of the opposition would not himself have spoken at great length, yet he had taken two hours and fifteen minutes of the time of the House in telling what he himself had done. He had unbraided the hon. minister of agriculture for doing nothing for returned soldiers and had told the House about his trip to England and about the great scheme which he had formulated for returned soldiers and which somebody in authority had told him was wonderful. In regard to the hon. member's scheme for placing sol-

BANISH PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order is the pimples, unsightly eruptions, and eczema that come frequently with the change from winter to spring. These prove that the long indoor life of winter has had its effect upon the blood, and that a tonic medicine is needed to put it right. Indeed there are few people who do not need a tonic at this season. Bad blood does not merely show itself in disfiguring eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago; the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia, poor appetite and a desire to avoid exertion. You cannot cure these troubles by the use of purgative medicines—you need a tonic, and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their tonic, life-giving, nerve-restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired ailing men, women and children. If you are out of sorts give this medicine a trial and see how quickly it will restore the appetite, revive drooping spirits, and fill your veins with new, health-giving blood.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

diers upon the land, he (Veniot) had examined it and had found that about one-tenth of it had referred to returned soldiers and the balance to immigration. If it was such a great scheme, why had not the hon. member taken some steps to put it into operation. It was evolved in March, 1916, and while the hon. member had remained in office until April of the following year, he had done nothing towards putting his scheme into force. If it was such a great scheme and had won praise from the Dominion government and the Canadian Pacific Railway, why had not they assisted in carrying it out. The minister of agriculture, while in England, had announced a policy for New Brunswick through the columns of the London Chronicle. The article had been copied by the press of New Brunswick and when it appeared, the late Premier Clarke had lost no time in declaring that the plan was unwork-
