

Ford ONE-TON TRUCK

COUNTRY-WIDE interest and comment have followed the recent appearance on the market of the new Ford One-Ton truck.

It is now possible to get a serviceable commercial car of one-ton carrying capacity that also embodies the desirable qualities of Ford sturdy construction and low up-keep expense.

The Ford passenger car has proved itself the most economical and serviceable automobile in the world. And this latest Ford model differs from the standard Ford chassis only in being constructed for heavy-duty service.

The frame is built of heavy steel, and the wheel base has been lengthened to 124 inches. A worm drive is used, and rear wheels are equipped with solid tires. Front tires are pneumatic. The standard Ford motor, transmission and ignition are embodied in the truck.

The Ford truck is supplied as a chassis only. This allows the purchaser to equip his car with any style of commercial body to suit the individual requirements of his business. It is an easy matter to get this equipment, for many of the leading body builders of Canada already have developed standard bodies of the various styles, made specially to fit the Ford truck.

Ford service has contributed in no small way to the reputation of the Ford car for day-in-and-day-out dependability. This same universally satisfactory service is available to owners of Ford trucks—an important thing to consider.

Realizing that a Ford model of the popular one-ton capacity would find immediate favor, this new truck is announced. Don't fail to see it on exhibit at the Ford service station in your town.

CHILDREN HAD WHOOPING COUGH

Whooping cough, although peculiarly a disease of childhood, is by no means confined to that period, but may occur at any time of life. It is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

Whooping cough starts with sneezing, watering of the eyes, irritation of the throat, feverishness and cough. The coughing attacks occur frequently, but are generally more severe at night.

On the first sign of a "whoop" Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup should be administered, as it helps to clear the bronchial tubes of the collected mucus and phlegm.

Mrs. George Cooper, Bloomfield, Ont., writes: "It is with pleasure I can write and tell you that there never was a better cough medicine made than Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Our children had whooping cough last winter, and that is the only thing that seemed to help them. It loosens up the phlegm so that they could raise it easily. I will never be without it." "Dr. Wood's" is 25c and 50c a bottle; put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GWENDOLYN SURELY WAS A GOOD BOOSTER

"I can hardly wait to show you Emily's new hat," bubbled the woman. "How much did it cost?" asked the practical man.

Saints of Humor

AS PER USUAL.

There were two daughters in the house.

Their case was quite symbolic. For Ruth was quiet as a mouse, and Gladys loved a frolic. The lively daughter settled down and married Parson Borus. The mouse-like maiden shocked the town by going in the chorus.

SHE MEANT ALL RIGHT.

The Christian Register reports a woman as going into a Red Cross branch and, after looking at the surgical dressings asked: "Is all this gauze cauterized?"

SAFETY IN NUMBERS.

"You seem able to prove almost anything by statistics." "Well," said the prospective candidate for a seat in parliament, "I won't say exactly that I prove things, but the average man dislikes arithmetic and if you throw enough figures at him he soon throws up his hands and quits arguing."

CHARM OF ORIENT.

"So you have been to the mysterious Orient," said the impressionable young woman, "that vast region athrob with the a strange life, gray with the dust of centuries, and brooded over by the spirit of the past?"

"Why—er—yes," replied the practical man, who went abroad strictly on business.

"Do tell me what you found there?" "The worst hotels on the face of the earth."

its bottle in a perambulator. He fails, and the cots of his failure no man can estimate. He stands discredited.

Now is the time when all men must choose between two ideals—that of the proud and merciless heart on the one hand, that of the humble and contrite heart on the other; between the Hun and the Anglo-Saxon, between Jesus Christ and the devil. Faced by such an issue, I declare myself ready to lay all that I have or may have on the old altar of our common faith.

My friends, be of good cheer. The God of our Fathers has not been Kaisered or Krupp or hurried in the least. There is no danger that Heaven will be Teutonized.

The shouting and the tumult dies—The captains and the kings depart—Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice, A humble and a contrite heart. Lord God of hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget—lest we forget.

A SLUGGISH LIVER CAUSES LOTS OF TROUBLE

When the liver becomes sluggish it is an indication that the bowels are not working roerly and if they do not move regularly many complications are liable to set in.

The symptoms are a feeling of heaviness or weight in the right side and shooting pains in the same region, pains between the shoulders, yellowness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, heartburn, waterbrash, etc.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills gently unlock the secretions, clear away all effete and waste matter from the system, and give tone and vitality to the whole intestinal track, and are by far the safest and quickest remedy for all diseases or disorders of the liver.

Mrs. A. Cummings, Manchester, Ont., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills some time, and can faithfully recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried a great many other remedies, but they only relieved me for a time. I believe Laxa-Liver Pills to be a valuable remedy for all sufferers from liver troubles."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

off? The mere pleasure of doing good is enough for her, I suppose. She has done herself good in doing me good, and the hat man has done me good—good and plenty I should say—and we are all satisfied. It's a fine and noble thing to expedite the circulation of money."

Just then a handsome girl entered the room in a new hat, and the practical man wiped his spectacles and took a second look. Gwendolyn's prophecy was fulfilled.

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING

The value of Advertising in all cases must be based on the return for the outlay. No better opportunity in this respect can be found in this locality than

THE DAILY MAIL

This paper has a special value to the local advertiser, as the majority of its readers are in this city and the immediate surrounding country.

Our Advertising Rates will be found decidedly reasonable in view of the results obtained.

PEOPLE READ ADVERTISEMENTS

They are trying to buy as wisely as they can. It is necessary that they should.

They are eager to know what the local merchants have to offer, and good live advertising is interesting reading to them.

Most of our enterprising business men have already realized this fact and their advertising appears regularly in the Mail.

If you are not a regular advertiser in the DAILY or SEMI-WEEKLY MAIL, you are overlooking an opportunity that no business man in this locality ought to be too busy to appreciate.

In spite of increased prices of materials and the upward tendency in rates for all services in the business world, the subscription price of the Mail has not been increased, and we are daily booking new subscribers, which means more readers and customers for our advertisers.

HOT AIR GREAT DESTROYER

with its beer and frankfurters. History was falsified, philosophy bribed, religion corced and corrupted, conscience silenced—at first by sophistry then by the iron hand. Germany was inebriated with a sense of its mental grandeur and moral pulchritude. Now moral picritude is like a forest flower. It cannot stand the fierce glare of publicity; you cannot handle it as you would handle sausages and dye and fertilizer.

I have lately been in the devastated regions of northern France. I have seen whole cities of no strategic value which the German armies had destroyed by dynamite before leaving them in a silence like that of the grave—the slow-wrought walls of old cathedrals and public buildings tumbled into hopeless ruin; the chateau, the villas, the little houses of the poor, shaken into heaps of mouldering rubble.

bish. And I see in it a sign of that greater devastation which covers the land of William II.—the devastation of the spirit of the German people; for where is that moral grandeur of which Heine and Goethe and Schiller and Luther were the far-heard compelling voices? I tell you it has all been levelled into a heaps of mouldering rubbish a thousand times more melancholy than any in France.

When I went away to the battle front, a friend said to me "Try to learn how this incredible thing came about and why it continues. That is what everyone wishes to know."

Too Much Hot Air.

Well, hot air was the cause if it. Now, why does it continue? My answer is, Bonehead—mostly plumed bonehead. Think of those diplomats who were twenty years in Germany and yet knew nothing of what was going on around them and of its implications! You say that they did know, and that they warned their peoples? Well, then, you may shift the boneheads onto other shoulders.

Think of the diplomatic failures that have followed. I bow my head to the people of England and to the incomparable valor of her armies and fleets. My friendly criticism is aimed at the one and only point in which she could be said to resemble Germany, viz., in limited encouragement of supermen.

Now, if the last three years have taught us anything, it is this; the superman is going to be unsuited. His mistakes, even to use no harsher word, have slaughtered more human beings than there are in the world. The born gentleman and professional aristocrat, with a hot air receiver on his name, who lives in a tower of inherited superiority and looks down at life through hazy distance with a telescope, has and can have no common sense. . . He has not that intimate knowledge of human nature which comes only of a long and close contact with human beings. Without that knowledge he will know no more of what is in the other fellow's mind and the bluff that covers it in a critical clash of wits than a baby sucking
