MACHINE GUNS TURNED ON RIOTERS IN QUEBEC

Young Men Who Object to Serving Overseas do Not Seem to Mind Facing Bullets at Home—Five Soldiers Wounded in the Struggle—The Scrap Lasted for Upwards of Three Hours.

Quebec, Apr. 1. — The riotous faction in Quebec and the military forces, which have taken over the policing of the city fought a battle here tonight in St. Roch's, the lower section of the city, as a result of which three civilians were killed, five soldiers and two children were wounded and one hundred men placed under arrest.

The fighting lasted from 8.30 o'clock till midnight and during this time the snipers fired revolvers haphazard at the military from doorways and from behind snowbanks. The military who fired on the disturbers with machine guns were much hampered in locating them by reason of a thick fog which settled on the city.

Crowds Gather Early.

Despite solemn warnings from the militia that the rioting in Quebec would be put down with a stern hand and urgent appeals for people not to repeat the disorder of the past three days, crowds gathered in several parts of the downtown section of Quebec tonight and had to be broken up by the Toronto infantry and dragoons.

A number of soldiers were injured in the fighting and a batch of suspected rioters were placed under arrest.

After being absent from sight all day, at nightfall the soldiers were ordered from barracks and stationed in different parts of the city. The upper town was cut from St. Roch's where the disorderly element reside by a line of troops. Four hundred men of the 2nd C.O.R. under Major Mitchell, were stationed at Jacques Cartier Square. The squadron of Royal Dragoons under Lieut. Arnold were also held in readiness in the neighborhood.

Armand Laverne, the Nationalist leader, was expected to address a meeting in this square, but respected the military edict banishing such assemblies. A large crowd was on hand however. The rioting began soon after the soldiers were posted. Bricks were thrown from housetops while revolver shots were fired from alleyways. The soldiers, immediately hostilities began, waded into the crowd and arrested seven men. Several men took shots at the militia and escaped into the mob.

Soldier's Narrow Escape.

One soldier had a miraculous escape. He accosted a rioter who dodged in front of him, pulling the trigger of a revolver five times. It did not explode. The cavalry repeatedly charged the mob to keep them moving with drawn swords, but the moment the troopers' backs were turned the crowd returned. About a hundred yards away and near the C.P.R. station the soldiers were greeted by a mob with a fusillade of revolver shots, bricks and ice. Several soldiers fell in this attack slightly injured.

After patiently bearing the bombardment of the crowd, the soldiers received orders to fire in return. A number of shots were sent over the heads of the mob near Jacques Cartier Square.

As the casualties began to occur frequently, a Red Cross emergency dressing station was opened in the Mercer Building opposite Jacques Cartier Square, with Major Tasse and Major St. Amand, both of Quebec, in charge. Here the men had wounds treated aseptically and were conveyed by an ambulance to the military hospital on St. Louis street.

Machine Guns Open Up.

As the evening advanced, a dense fog settled down. The rioters who had been broken up by the infantry and cavalry hid in doorways and fired at random down the street. The soldiers answered the shots whenever they were sure of where they came from. This method of dealing with the snipers failed to stop the shooting so machine guns were fired in the direction of shots.

Outside Disturbers.

In an editorial today the Daily Telegraph, English Liberal daily, says in part:

"The rioters themselves are an aggregation of mere boys urged on, it is said, by agitators from Montreal and I.W.W. propagandists, who after exciting their youthful dupes to the commission of insane excesses, themselves disappear at the first scent of danger, leaving their fond apostles to face the music. As for the notorious demagogue who has promised to lead the mob this evening unless the military authorities comply with his dictatorial terms, his interment cannot come too soon."

Late Philip Sullivan.

The funeral of the late Philip Sullivan took place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from his late residence, Stanley. The service was conducted at St. Patrick's church by Rev.
