NEW BRUNSWICK'S RESOURCES.

In this material age, the cry is for "opportunity"—opportunity to develop and utilize every available asset we possess. While much interesting and instructive material has been published regarding the province of New Brunswick, from time to time, by both the Federal and Provincial governments, it had chiefly to do with her possibilities from the standpoint of the agriculturist. Her vast wealth of forest and mine, her water powers and waterways, her store of fish and game were not made the subject matter of many concrete publications. It is only of comparatively recent years that the attention of the world has been effectively called to the enormous potentialities of this little province by the sea.

There has been issued recently by the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, a small pamphlet of 27 pages entitled "The Province of New Brunswick, Its Natural Resources, Development and Undeveloped."

While the wealth of the forest, the mine and the fisheries has been dealt with in this little work, it must not be supposed that the agricultural advantages of the province have been ignored. By no means. They have been given a prominent place, as they well deserve. Following them, the subjects of forestry, minerals, fisheries, water powers, waterways, angling and fur-farming have been treated in a concise but intelligible manner. What adds very materially to the value of the publication is the series of maps outlining the agricultural, forestry, mining and water power situations.

This pamphlet may be obtained gratis, on application to the Superintendent of the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch, Department of the Interior, at Ottawa.

New York Times: It makes no difference in this respect whether Russia is brave or cowardly, whether she has abandoned us or stood by us, whether she is ruled by saints or madmen. The present German Empire, comparatively circumscribed in extent and in strength, has assailed and sought to overpower the rest of the world. If she is made virtually limitless in extent and strength, as she would be if European and Asiatic Russia were absorbed by her, she will be able in the future to accomplish with ease the overthrow of the rest of the world; and the first blow she will aim in that event will be at the American continent. It is our own fault if we let her select us as her first victims. And if we let her have her way with Russia, irresistible she will be within ten years.

Chicago Tribune: A few well chosen words delivered from the vicinity of an ice pitcher are supposed to cause the cisterns of our emotions to well over. As a matter of fact, most rhetoric bores many auditors into a stupor. Particularly does it bore the men in uniform to have a civilian pompously tell them what they are fighting for. Music would do what we think oratory does or what we try to do by speech-making. There is not enough music in the army. Music is not an esthetic decoration of military life. It is an essential in morale and wholesome soldierly living. Americans are particularly inclined to neglect it because they are notoriously not a singing people. Of all the great white peoples of the world, they are the silent ones.

The irrepressible humor that bubbles up at the oddest times and places on the western front had full swing when a company of Canadian boys came to naming their camp. One wonders how they managed to secure a board long enough, and one wonders again whether they had their pet cat and her "constitutional" in mind. At any rate, the cat walks regularly and happily along the sign, which bears the name "Llanfairpwllgwynglgogoch-wyrdrohwiliandysilllogogoch." It consists of the actual names of two villages in Anglesey, Wales, near Bangor, plus humorous embroideries by the Canadians.

The St. John Standard has suddenly developed a great interest in the school teachers of the province, and is knocking the Local Government for not granting them increased allowances. It seems a pity that the Standard did not champion the cause of the hard working teachers when its political friends were in control of provincial affairs, and when its utterances carried more weight than they do at the present time.

The Austrians in their drive on the Italian front seem to have run up against a big surprise. They found the Allied forces remarkably well prepared, and so far the enemy has made but little headway. It is no exaggeration to say that the "hunger offensive" of the Austrians has been a complete failure.

Philadelphia Ledger: The Germans are also "showing their politeness" toward America by not mentioning the presence of American troops in their official communications. As the good Germans have been told there are no Americans troops in France, their kind Kaiser does not want to disillusionize them.

Providence Journal: The British refer to our soldiers as "Yanks." The French know them as "Sammies." Let them use what terms they will; why should not we, a hundred million resolute Americans, conscious of our lofty purpose in sending our noblest and best abroad, call them "The Avengers?"

Notwithstanding the reduced lumber cut, the indications are that the revenue from stumpage will exceed that of last year by $50,000.

Sunday, June 30th, has been fixed by the Governor General-in-Council as a day of intercession and prayer for an early peace.

Geneva, June 19.—The Tribune says it learns from a reliable source that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is suffering from an acute nervous disease, that his mental capacity is much affected and that he is confined in a private sanitarium.

THINKS RUSSIA WILL PAY DEBTS

Paris, June 19.—The French government has confidence that Russia will eventually pay her debts, declared Finance Minister Klotz in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday. Socialist deputies had attempted a conference to discuss the renewal privileges of the Bank of France and raised the question of the Russian debt to France, but their efforts were foiled by the Finance Minister.

HEADACHE OVER THE EYES? LOOK FOR NASAL CATARRH

Catarrh Never Stops in One Place—It Spreads Rapidly—Often Ruins Health Completely.

In this changeable climate it is the little colds that drift into Catarrh. Unless the inflammation is checked it passes rapidly from the throat or nose to the bronchial tubes and then to the lungs. You can't make new lungs any more than you can make new fingers or toes, but you can cure Catarrh.

The surest cure consists of breathing in the healing balsamic essences of CATARRHOZONE, which is simply a medicated vapor so full of rich curative properties that every trace of Catarrh vanishes before it.

"The soothing piney vapor of Catarrhozone is the most powerful medicine I ever used," writes Mrs. Edmond J. Christine of Saskatoon. "Every breath drawn through the Inhaler sends a grateful feeling through the air passages of the nose and throat. Catarrhozone cured me of frightful headaches over the eyes, relieved me of a stuffy feeling in the nose, and an irritable hacking cough that had been the bane of my life for a year. My general health is greatly improved my appetite and digestion are considerably better than before. Catarrhozone has been the means of giving me such health as I always desired, but never possessed."

Even though catarrh has a firm hold on you, and affects your throat, nose or ears, you can thoroughly cure it with Catarrhozone. Large size, 50c; sample size 25c. All storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

An Old Friend

Mr. John H. Murch of Murch's Parish of Queensbury is in the city today and is being heartily welcomed by many old friends. In Civil war times Mr. Murch managed the West End saw mill in this city, then owned by Scott and Atherton. Some years afterwards he conducted a soap factory at St. Mary's. Mr. Murch has always manifested a warm interest in public affairs and for twelve years represented the Parish of Queensbury in the County Council. On one occasion he declined a nomination for the local Legislature. Mr. Murch is now eighty years of age and is still hale and hearty.
