SITUATION IN RUSSIA CRITICAL

London, June 29.—A Stockholm despatch to the Morning Post says that a Swedish editor who returned from Petrograd yesterday describes the situation there more critical than ever. Terrible famine prevails at Petrograd and in Moscow hunger revolts are a daily occurrence.

German occupation of Petrograd is generally expected if it is not forestalled by Czecho-Slovaks, who had more than 100,000 well disciplined troops and are now rapidly being joined by Siberian Cossacks.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

Toronto, June 28.—Two persons were instantly killed and a third severely injured when an automobile was jammed between two Queen street cars at the corner of Gerrard street and Hastings avenue this evening.

The car was demolished and Mrs. Elizabeth Clarke, aged 58, and James Smithson, aged 60, who were riding in the car, were so badly injured that they died before aid could be called. The driver, Allan Smithson, aged 28, was pinned underneath the car and rendered unconscious. George Hargrave, motorman of the west bound street car, was taken into custody, bail being refused.

TERRITORIAL TREASURER OF THE YUKON

Important Position Filled by a Grandson of the Late Edgar Hanson, of This City.

Mr. J. A. M. H. Maltby a grandson of the late Mr. Edgar Hanson of this city, is now territorial treasurer of the Yukon and is performing the duties of Commissioner in the absence of Commissioner George Black. The Dawson Daily News in commenting editorially on the Yukon budget in a current issue pays Treasurer Maltby the following tribute:

"Some items in the estimates are absolutely essential, and in the face of increased costs of living and increased service should not be reduced. Take, for instance, the first item which was pruned yesterday by the council, that of the territorial treasurer. He is the highest and most responsible official in the territorial service, handles a large sum of money annually, and must account for the safety of the same as well as for its collection and distribution, and on top of that has not a sinecure, but himself works a full day behind the desk and counter, not a day of work a little and rest a long while, but a steady busy grind. In addition he has proved the most rapid and efficient man ever in the position, and, by virtue of such has been able to take on more and more duties each year. Now he is given the additional duty and responsibility of collecting the poll tax. This is added to his already multitudinous duties of territorial treasurer, secretary, license collector, license inspector, clerk of the Yukon council, tax collector, city clerk, city treasurer, city tax collector and assessor, and collector of various municipal licenses and other duties. To expect to retain a capable and responsible man in such a position any longer than he has an opportunity elsewhere on a short salary when costs of living are mounting is poor judgment and policy. The Yukon council will do much better to reduce its own salaries a little in order to make up the saving pruned from the treasurer, and if it does so it will strike a popular chord."

CANTEENS DO NOT DISPENSE HARD DRINKS

Mr. John T. Kay Replies to Some Observations by the Dom. President of the W. C. T. U.

To the Editor of the Mail:

Dear Sir,—Reading in your paper a report of Mrs. Wright's remarks at the recent W. C. T. U. convention at Ottawa in regard to the wet canteen, and the danger it is to our boys, for her information, and others as well, I will state that the canteens do not sell "hard" drinks, nor do they sell medicine of any kind; but they do sell two per cent beer.

It is not long since I have been in one, and as for our boys being led wrong in a canteen, that is one of the foolish ideas some people get into their heads.

The canteen in England is the safest place a boy can be in when he has much to do. There are no bad women allowed in the camp grounds, let alone in the canteen, nor is there gambling. To be sure, there are women employed in the canteens, but they are clean and healthy, medically fit, and are a credit to womanhood.

Mrs. Wright need not worry about our boys being ruined by anything in any camp in England, France or Belgium, and I have been in them all. It is the mothers of the boys who run them, no matter where they were born. Any boy who has been properly brought up to honor his father and mother, will in most cases be a man, and I will say right here that the mothers of Canada might learn a little about how children should be brought up from the mothers of England, France and Belgium.

Some people seem to have the idea that we Canadians are of a superior breed, but my experience is that the young people of this country are not trained as they should be.

Now, Mr. Editor, there is a great danger right at home for our boys and girls. There are different names for the sin—some call it one thing, some another—but it all leads to misery and death. Why don't the W. C. T. U. take hold of it and back up any government that will stamp it out?

Now, one thing more and will quit for this time. Selfishness is the greatest sin on earth, and how many women deny themselves of anything in fashion that they can get? Just think—half the world starving and how many W. C. T. U. members are wearing furs in summer? If Mrs. Wright will make her own dooryard clean, I am sure the soldiers will take care of theirs. And once more, her remarks are wrong when she says it was to "help the mother country that we went over." It was to help ourselves, to prevent the Hun from coming here.

In closing, I hope that all who read this letter will think it over. We in this country are not so good that we can afford to throw stones at any one or at any country.

Yours, etc.,
JOHN T. KAY.

PRAISE FOR SERGT. KNIGHT

The Veteran, the official organ of the official organ of the G. W. V. Association of Canada, makes the following reference to Sergt. Knight, a returned soldier who was active in recruiting work in this city and elsewhere during the early stages of the war:

"Mr. Knight's withdrawal is due to purely private reasons of health, but it is none the less a decided calamity for the Association. At the first convention held in April, 1917, Mr. Knight was elected secretary. One single speech of his had revealed to the delegates such a wealth of capacity and ideas that they were convinced he was the only possible nominee. Endowed with great organizing talents and a rare faculty for public speaking, no better man could have been found for the task which he had undertaken, and in a few months he had the Association in working order. Not only did he make a success of his immediate duties, but he also contrived to become a public figure in Ottawa. In the course of recruiting and other patriotic activities and his duties as secretary of the G. W. V. A., Mr. Knight has probably spoken to more audiences in Canada than any man of his age, and few men even of the older generations and among our greater national figures have left a deeper impression upon these audiences."

"The G. W. V. A. are under a deep debt to their first secretary. If one were asked to name Mr. Knight's foremost quality, it is a burning hatred of injustice and oppression, and when this sentiment is added to a thorough knowledge of industrial and social problems, obtained by his own varied experience in many climes, a combination of qualities which are invaluable for public service in these days, is available. The proper place for Mr. Knight is in parliament at Ottawa, where he would be a most useful figure."

DAIRY FARM WITH MODERN EQUIPMENT

H. E. Dewar, Formerly of the Waverley Hotel, Has Fine Establishment at New Maryland.

Mr. H. E. Dewar, formerly one of the proprietors of the Waverley Hotel in this city has established a model dairy farm at New Maryland and gives promise of making a great success of the venture. The farm on which he now makes his home is located six miles from the city proper and consists of 120 acres, the larger part of which is in a good state of cultivation. Mr. Dewar expects to cut this season nearly one hundred tons of hay, and he is going in heavily on other crops, particularly ensilage corn.

Holstein Herd

It is Mr. Dewar's intention to give close attention to the breeding of a dairy stock. He believes that the Holstein is the best adapted for dairying purposes, and he is the proud possessor of a herd of these animals consisting of forty-four head, all pure bred registered stock. He now has fifteen milch cows, and expects to have thirty or forty by the beginning of next summer.

Silo Constructed

Mr. Dewar enjoys the distinction of being one of the first farmers in this section to construct a silo on his farm, although they are very common in Ontario and the middle west. The silo is about forty feet high, of circular shape, and naturally attracts much attention from visitors. It is his intention in the near future to begin the erection of a modern dairy barn 120 feet in length.

Mr. Dewar says that the simple life of the farm suits him right down to the ground; He starts in at daylight and does not quit until "the shades of night are falling fast." He says that work thoroughly agrees with him, and when it comes to plowing, driving a team or a spike tooth harrow he can hold his end up with the best of them.
