THE GERMAN CHANCELLOR INDULGES IN MORE TALK

Von Hertling Attempts a Reply to the War Aims of Great Britain and the United States---Is Inclined to Agree With Principles Laid Down by President Wilson--Announces That Russians Have Accepted the Hun Peace Terms.

Amsterdam, Feb. 25. — Speaking before the reichstag Count Von Hertling, the imperial German chancellor, made this declaration:

"I can fundamentally agree with the four principles, which in President Wilson's view must be applied in a mutual exchange of views and thus declare with President Wilson that a general peace can be discussed on such a basis. Only one reserve need be made in this connection—these principles must not only be proposed by the president of the United States but must actually be recognized by all states and peoples.

"But this goal has not yet been reached. There still is no court of arbitration established by all the nations for the preservation of peace in the name of justice. When President Wilson incidentally says that the German chancellor is speaking to the tribunal of the entire world, I must decline this tribunal as prejudiced, joyfully as I would greet it, if any impartial court of arbitration existed and gladly as I would co-operate to realize such ideals.

England's War Aims.

"Unfortunately, however, there is no trace of similar statements on the part of the leading powers of the Entente. England's war aims are still thoroughly imperialistic and she wants to impose on the world a peace according to England's good pleasure. "When England talks about the people's right of self-determination she does not think of applying the principle to Ireland, Egypt and India.

"It has been repeatedly said that we do not contemplate retaining Belgium, but that we must be safeguarded from the danger of a country with which we desire after the war to live in peace and friendship, becoming the object of jumping off ground of enemy machinations. If, therefore, a proposal came from the opposing side, for example from the government in Havre, we should not adopt an antagonistic attitude, even though the discussion at first might only be unbinding.

"Meanwhile I readily admit that President Wilson's message of February 11 constitutes perhaps a small step towards a mutual rapprochement. "News was received yesterday," said the chancellor, "that Petrograd had accepted our conditions and had sent its representatives to Brest-Litovsk for further negotiations. Accordingly our delegates travelled thither last evening. It is possible that there will still be a dispute about details but the main thing has been achieved.

"The will to peace has been expressly announced from the Russian side, our conditions have been accepted and the conclusion of peace must ensue within a very short time."
