WAR PROFITEERS HAVE BEEN BUSY IN UNITED STATES

Some Have Gathered in Profits on War Supplies Ranging From 100 to 3,000 Per Cent --- The Biggest Haul Made on Businesses Connected With Food Production --- An Interesting Report Sent Out From Washington

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—War profiteers in 1917 were most numerous in businesses devoted to food production and distribution, cotton and woollen manufacturing and dealing, coal mining, iron, copper, aluminum and other metal production and oil production and distribution, according to a treasury analysis of income tax returns. In addition thousands of small concerns in a great variety of industrial and commercial classifications made profits ranging from 100 to 3,000 per cent above their normal profits for pre-war years, which even then were considered high.

Detailed information on the extent of war profiteering has been given Congress recently, in compliance with a resolution requesting it, and the Federal Trade Commission is understood to have obtained considerable information from the income reports in preparation of its criticism of the meat packing industry.

In citing certain industry or commerce classifications as containing the largest percentage of profiteers, the Treasury has made it clear that not all individual businesses in these groups have gathered in swollen earnings. This is particularly true of coal operators, some of whom made enormous profits, often several hundred per cent higher than good earnings of former years, while others made barely enough to pay justified dividends.

With few exceptions manufacturers of clothing and shoes reported big profits. This was true of most concerns holding government contracts, many of which were let early in the war, when the government felt compelled to stimulate production of the vast quantities of supplies needed by the army. Scores of income reports from suit, shirt, underclothing and shoe manufacturers showed earnings of from 30 to 100 per cent in invested capital.

Lumber production, stimulated by the sudden enormous demand from cantonments and other government operations, netted forest and sawmill owners as well as distributors' profits several times above those of normal years.

Oil producers made enormous profits, which they claimed were justified by the rapid depreciation of property and the extra financial hazard of their business.

Despite high cost of labor and other factors entering into mining, the treasury analysis shows that very few iron, copper or aluminum mines failed to make tremendous profits for their owners, under the government policy of stimulating production. Producers of silver gold, platinum and other precious metals profited to a lesser extent.

Automobile and motor truck manufacturing was highly profitable, although income returns show that earnings of different plants were far from uniform, some making as high as fifty per cent on investments and others less than ten per cent.

Meat packers, flour millers and canners apparently stood at the top of the list of food profit takers, according to income returns. Farmers also make money heavily last year, but not enough of their returns have been analyzed to justify a general statement of their profits, officials say.

Profiteering was by no means confined to big business interests. Small scale producers in thousands of cases reported profits equal to the aggregate of from five to ten years' earnings before the United States entered the war.

More than 300 clerks of the Internal Revenue Bureau have been employed in tabulating income returns for the last six weeks and transmitting these in weekly or bi-weekly installments to the Senate where the reports now are being prepared for examination by the Senate Finance Committee in connection with its consideration of the new revenue bill.

Names of individual companies are not reported, since these by laws must be considered confidential unless the President specifically authorizes publication of tax returns.

HE EXCEEDED
SPEED LIMIT

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Amongst the 126 cases of infraction of the motor vehicle by-laws in the police court yesterday the most interesting was that of Edouard A. Robert, president of the tramways commission, who was summoned to hear two charges. The first was to the effect that his automobile had exceeded the speed limit on July 30, travelling at 25 miles an hour on one of the principal thoroughfares of the city. The other was that his machine was operated in such a manner that the headlights dazzled and blinded other drivers as well as pedestrians.

HUNS GETTING
WESTERN FRONT

London, Aug. 20.—It is believed in Cologne that the Germans are weaker on the western front than even the allies claim, says the Daily Mail's correspondent. He does not vouch for other sections of Germany, but gives this resume of conditions in the Cologne district.

All leaves from the front have been reduced one half. Men are sent to the front from hospitals before completely fit. Letters from the front have been discontinued. Deserters are being sent to the front from punishment camps. Wounded horses are shipped west with bandages still in place. The correspondent adds that it is reported the Germans have stolen food parcels sent to French prisoners, in order to feed neutral laborers who are on strike because of inadequate food.
