Girls! Thicken and Beautify Your Hair and Stop Dandruff

Try this! Your hair gets wavy, glossy and abundant at once.

To be possessed of a head of heavy beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair, sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

London, Nov. 21—The late Albert Ballin, general-director of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, in discussing the armistice terms to be given to Germany in a letter to the editor of the National Zeitung of Berlin shortly before his death, according to a telegram from Zurich said:

"The indicated military economic conditions of the entente are much more moderate than might have been expected from our situation. We need only think what our terms would have been had we been the victors.

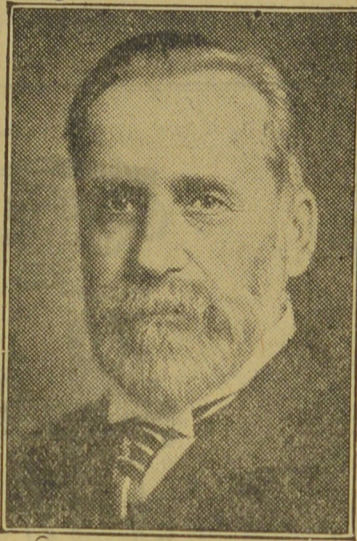

"Se would have demanded the occupation of Paris and London, we would have dictated peace at Buckingham Palace and annexed the entire continent from the Ural mountains to the Bay of Biscay.

During courtship it is a case of suspense with the girl and of expense with the youth.

"I heard a good one, my boy, about a member of your craft," said Robert W. Chambers to a literary critic. "The chap had roasted a popular woman novelist and he met her that night at a party."

HEAVY LOSSES RESULT FROM IMPROPER STORAGE

Potatoes Should be Thoroughly Ripened Before Being Stored

Careless Handling of the Crop in Harvest Time is Cause of Much Trouble—The Late Blight the Most Common Disease Which Affects Potatoes—Some Suggestions Which Should be Acted Upon.

(Experimental Farms Note)
The losses from improper storage of potatoes are of far greater economic importance than is generally realized. These losses are brought about by a variety of factors which may be grouped in three divisions, e. g., physical, mechanical and pathological.

The chief loss from physical factors is brought about by the storage of immature stock. Potatoes that are to be stored should be thoroughly ripe that is, the stalks should be dead, and the tubers should adhere firmly to the stems. Potatoes may have their stalks prematurely killed so as to resemble a natural death by being attacked by late or early blight, rhizoctonia, the flea beetle or potato bug but upon examination the tubers under such plants will be found immature and unfit for best storage results. Frost bitten and sunburned also come in this division.

The mechanical factors that bring about loss in storage are chiefly brought about by careless handling of the crop at harvest time, such as broken, cracked or chipped tubers due to improper digging and rough usage in gathering the crop. The slightest injury to the skin of the potato lays it open to invasion of myriads of decay producing spores, which when given the proper conditions will rapidly spread decay through the entire lot.

Under the pathological factors come the tubers affected by disease. Undoubtedly the late blight (Phytoph-

ALMOST BLIND FROM HEADACHES

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people; indeed, some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures of all cases of headache, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and the poisons and impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.

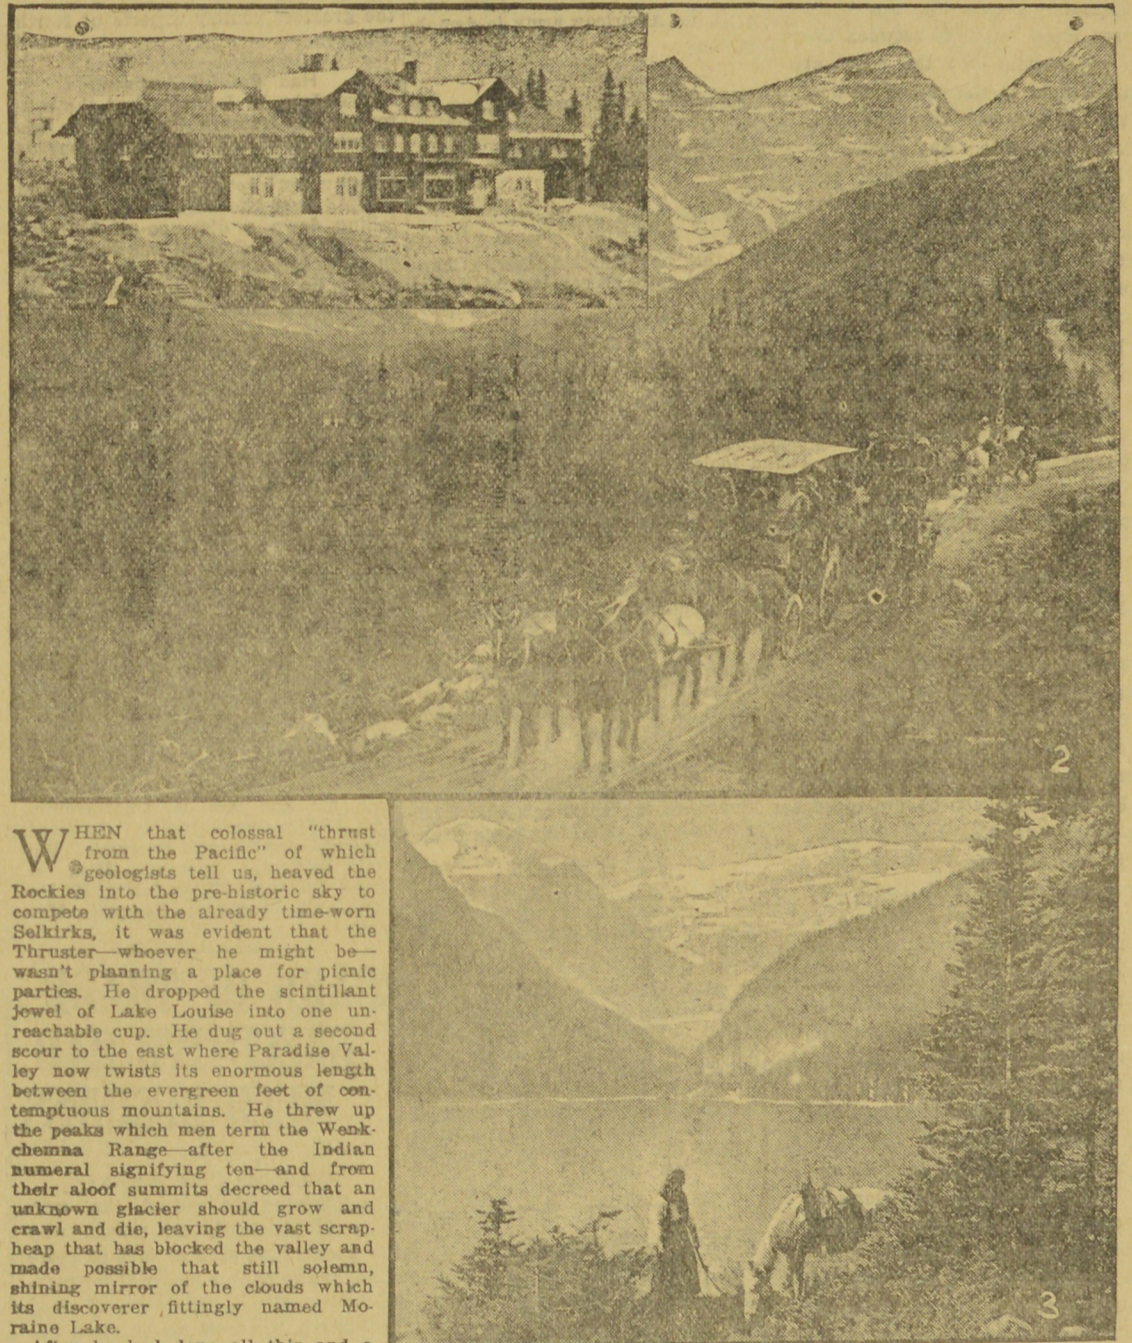

Mrs. Geo. Monck, Arden, Ont. writes "I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have to go to bed. I tried different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it, I have not been troubled since."

B. B. B. is a purely vegetable remedy, and has been manufactured for the last forty years by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

thoria infestans) is the most common as well as the most destructive. Tubers affected by this disease are almost certain to decay in storage; nor is this decay confined to the diseased tubers, but spreads rapidly to the healthy ones, unless preventive meas-

TO PARADISE BY TALLYHO

(1) A C. P. R. cottage at Lake Louise. (2) Tally Ho on road to Moraine Lake. (3) On the shores of Lake Louise.

Moraine Lake, that are packed up and put away by nine o'clock every day.

The Bow Valley is 5,500 feet above sea level and so wide and deep that after one of the infrequent Rocky rains, a whole double rainbow can be seen in it, intact from end to end, tempting the superstitious to jump down from the tallyho and dig for the pot of gold. Battalions of cloud shadows can drill at once over the faces of the placid mountain across the valley and the near slopes are a florists' heaven of Indian paintbrush. There is the deep scarlet gypsy brush, the rose red brush, the palest pink, the bleached-blond-cangerine, the snow-white brush. Gather an armful of them if you want to take back a palette-splash of color for your room. A cityful of tourists couldn't denude a single laughing slope.

Here is a rockslide, bare and scoured to desolation, like a long smudge of ruin between the scarlet fields. This is where you must look sharp and whistle if you would be rewarded by the scuttle of a fat grey marmot over the grey stones. Marmots are courageous—or is it curious?—beasties, and seem to enjoy the tourist brand of conversation. To see a scuttler come to attention on his hind legs atop a big flat rock, cocking his squirrel head on one side as he listens and perhaps replies to your whistling, is to watch a most friendly sight. Nobody who hadn't a German soul would dream of throwing a stone at him.

At last the road leaves the Bow Valley, turning sharply to the right, and the scenery drops its neighborly-ness. The Tower of Babel, Mt. Babel and Mt. Fay throw their white heads up against the blue. There is a loneliness of long vigil, an aloofness from the world of men. No one needs to tell the tiny tallyho of people to stop their pleasant chatter. The curtain has gone up on the grim creation-drama and talk stops automatically.

At last you round the turn into the fissure between the mountains. Tas of them there are, and at their feet the little blue lake. It's really a mile from where you get out of your car to the bottom of those six thousand foot peaks that swing into the air carrying aloft great glaciers and huge snow crowns and the black arguments of bare rock that are too steep for snow. But the clear atmosphere minimizes the distance, and the colossal vertical scale dwarfs the horizontal stretch of the still water.

Somehow you're glad to take refuge from the immensities in the cosy little tea house. There is a concreteness in toast and a comfortableness in the human size of man-made things that is welcome to the awed soul of you.

I haven't stayed overnight at the Camp. But it's a dream of mine that I shall one day see Queen Camloup swinging her chair to rest on Mt. Little with the Great Bear, near neighbor to her. I shall sit by the midnight miracle of this divine crystal, clear of the trees, face to the mountains head up to the stars. And if I am ever to know the why of this little life of mine—and the why of the paintbrush, and the marmot, and the glacier, and God—I shall hear it then.
