British Papers Jubilant Over End of the War

HAPSBURGS TAKE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

Berne, Nov. 12.—Budapest newspapers received her contain news of a remarkable ceremony in which Archduke Josef of Austria and his son Josef-Franz took oath to the Hungarian constitution as simple Hungarian citizens named Hapsburg. The newspapers say this was the first instance in four hundred years when such a renouncement was made. All privileges were given up by the Archduke and his son.

The newspaper also say that the little principality of Lichtenstein, of ten thousand inhabitants, situated on the Swiss eastern frontier, also has had a revolution. The Prince of Lichtenstein was forced to leave the country. He was superseded by Dr. Ritter, a lawyer of Innsbruck.

ACTION WILL BE DICTATED BY HUMANITY

London, Nov. 12.—The Times despatch describes the appeal of Dr. Solf, the German foreign secretary, to President Wilson regarding the armistice terms as affecting the food supplies of the German peoples as a contemptible attempt at mischief making. The newspaper says that Dr. Solf has but to look at the armistice to see that the Allies and the United States contemplate such provisioning of Germany during the armistice as shall be found necessary.

The Daily Chronicle says: "Germany, which never showed mercy, now has to implore." It adds that the Allies do not doubt will take such steps as humanity dictates so far as they can consistently do so and feed their own populations.

BRITAIN CALLS FOR ANOTHER LARGE LOAN

London, Nov. 13.—A new loan of £700,000,000 was called for in the House of Commons today by Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Mr. Bonar Law, in moving the new vote of credit, said he believed there would be a reduction in expenditure owing to the change in the military situation, but that the treasury officials had advised him against reducing the amount of money desired.

It might be necessary for the Allies to make huge efforts to bring food supplies to Europe, in which case a greater expenditure would be incurred, the Chancellor said. He added that the general financial situation at the end of the fiscal year would be appreciably less than his budget figures. The future prosperity and well-being of the country, he continued, depended on the extent to which capital and labor could harmoniously work together. It was vital that the close international unity which the war had produced should prevail while the ravages of war were being repaired.

Tribute Paid to Those Who Have Brought Peace and Justice to the World—No Sign of Vindictiveness Toward the German People is Manifested—Some Apprehension Felt in Holland That Russian Methods May be Adopted by Germany's New Rulers.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The English newspapers today are filled with thanksgiving at the victory achieved by the Entente Allies, and pay glowing tributes to the forces which have brought "peace and justice to the world."

In the editorials there is no sign of vindictiveness toward the German people, although the question is frequently discussed as to the "merciless peace" that Germany would have imposed if she had succeeded in forcing her will against the moral forces of the world. The newspapers assert that the principles of the armistice terms are of a far different character from the terms Germany hoped to dictate.

Joy in Holland is Overshadowed by an Apprehension of Bolshevik Troubles

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 12.—Popular joy in Holland over the end of the war is overshadowed by indefinite apprehensions of Bolshevik troubles and doubts whether a partial demobilization of the army, with an increase in the bread ration will suffice to stave off subversive infection.

The revolutionary socialist party has already issued a manifesto advocating Russian methods. Moreover, a new republican party has arisen, aiming at the abolition of the court, the army and navy and diplomacy. While there are no immediate prospects of trouble, there is plenty of combustible material. For the moment, however, joy reigns supreme, especially at The Hague.

Canadian Troops Have Been Providing Succor for Half a Million Refugees

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—W. Grigg, in a special cable to the Mail and Empire says:

Relief columns of British troops went forward Monday morning as if a battle were still raging. The motor transports displayed the Allied flags and civilians came out of their houses to shout happy salutations, but Tommy Atkins was taking his pleasure soberly, though he smiled as he marched forward to the music of the brass bands.

Refugees were on all the roads leading to and from the battle area. For days they had been trekking on foot with their household effects, heading toward indefinite places of safety. The Canadian corps alone has been feeding 500,000 civilians lately. As soon as possible the French will take over their care.

Enthusiasm in Belgium.

Belgian Headquarters, Nov. 11.—"The war is over," was the expression heard everywhere in re-occupied Belgium today. The abdication and subsequent flight of the German Emperor was received without elation or enthusiasm, but the news of the unconditional acceptance of Marshal Foch's conditions was greeted by the people and the soldiers with relief and satisfaction. The civilian population is more bitter toward the Germans than are the soldiers who fought to a standstill.

CAN GET ALONG WITHOUT THEM

Paris, Nov. 12.—It was stated at the war office today that no further official statements detailing events of the battlefield will be issued. From time to time, there may be official reports regarding the movement of troops in occupying districts west of the Rhine.

BONAR LAW SPEAKS OF BRITAIN'S GREAT PART IN THE WORLD WAR

Indian Troops Played an Important Part in the Overthrow of Turkey—Overseas Dominions Contributed Their Share in a Common Cause—The Indomitable Spirit of the British People.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—In the course of his speech moving the £700,000,000 vote of credit in the House of Commons yesterday, Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, declared that the part taken in the war by the Empire was greater than that played by any country in the world.

"Look at the Dominions and India," exclaimed Mr. Law. "Look at the part the Indian troops played in the overthrow of Turkey! And what of the Dominions! They are fighting for the mother country; they are fighting for the Empire which is as much theirs as ours. They are far away, but they sent their troops. And what troops they are!"

Mr. Law emphasized the greatness of the war efforts of the mother country and declared that her financial achievements had been no small consideration. The navy, he said, played a decisive part in the blockade which had sapped the whole foundation of the German nation. The life and spirit of the people of Great Britain in the darkest hours had been indomitable. No army had done as much as ours during the last two years. It had won at great price.

MESSAGE OF MYSTERY FROM WINNIPEG

His Worship the Mayor Cannot Solve It—Lieut. Col. James Lightfoot is the Sender.

His Worship Mayor Hanson is in receipt of a curious telegram from Winnipeg, the meaning of which is not very apparent.

The telegram is as follows: Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 11, 1918. Mayor, Fredericton, N. B.

Have removed from Lt.-Col. P. Guthrie's office door the sign "closed until the war is over."

Lt.-Col. Jas. Lightfoot.

The sign referred to of course was removed from the office door of Col. Guthrie long ago. Col. Lightfoot is not known here nor why any person in Winnipeg should be interested in this matter. Perhaps there is some person in Fredericton who can explain the joke if one is intended.

He has taken the name of Count William Hohenzollern and is expected to buy an estate and remain in Holland, according to an Amsterdam despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The Telegraaf of Amsterdam says that he was allowed to take only his personal property from his train, the non-personal property which was brought to Holland being confiscated as is usual in internment cases. Recent despatches have stated that the former Emperor had taken a carload of archives with him into Holland.

German Soldiers Had Received Orders to Prevent Escape of the Kaiser to Holland

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Holland's hesitancy in dealing with William Hohenzollern is ascribed to the extremely indefinite state of public opinion in Holland, by the Amsterdam correspondent of the Mail. He says that German revolutionary soldiers along the Dutch frontier say that they were strictly ordered to prevent the former Emperor and his family to escape into Holland. Late Saturday night and shortly after six o'clock on Sunday morning, he says, the sound of cannon could be heard from German territory. It was reported that a fight had taken place between revolutionists and royalist troops and that both sides had used artillery.

Party Numbers Fifty.

Amsterdam, Count Von Benjinnick, at whose chateau the former German Emperor is staying, told the Handelsblad that it was only yesterday afternoon that he received a sudden request from the Dutch government asking him to accommodate William Hohenzollern and his suite, the number in the retinue not being given. As the party numbers about fifty, the majority of its members are being lodged at two neighboring country hotels.

LITTLE NEWS FILTERING OUT

Paris, Nov. 13.—The lack of German news reaching here by the way of Switzerland indicates some interruption in the usual channel of information. Zurich has confirmed reports that the frontier is closed to travellers arriving from Germany. It is reported that Friedrich Ebert, the German chancery has given a place in his cabinet to George Ledebour, Social-Democratic leader, but this report is given under reserve.

Information received here is to the effect that the revolution is proceeding calmly and methodically.
