GREAT VICTORY FOR ALLIED ARMIES ON WESTERN FRONT

Germans Driven From the Southern Bank of the Marne With Enormous Slaughter --- Franco-American Troops Strike the Huns a Solar Plexus Blow---Thousands of Enemy Prisoners Captured --- The French Official Statement

Victories for the Allied arms in France continue to multiply. Over the entire sixty miles front running from Soissons to Rheims the Allied troops are fighting with a determination that brooks no denial of their efforts. The Germans steadily are giving ground, though stubborn resistance is being offered on some sectors.

Chateau Thierry, which represents the point in the battle line where the Germans had driven their wedge nearest to Paris, has been recaptured by the French troops, and almost simultaneously the village of Brasels, two miles eastward and the heights to the north of the village fell into their hands.

Three Miles Behind Lines

Acting in harmony with the movement on Chateau Thierry, American and French troops northwest of the city struck the Germans another hard blow, broke through the German lines and drove through at some points more than three miles. Large numbers of prisoners were taken and the machine guns of the Allied troops literally mowed down the Germans who endeavored to stay their progress.

To the north along the Ourcq Valley the French are making good progress toward the important junction town of Nanteuil-Notre Dame, which the operations south and southeast of Soissons are keeping time with those along the other parts of the front.

The entire southern bank of the Marne having been cleared of enemy forces, British, French and Italian troops are now harassing those south west of Rheims, and they have been forced to fall back in the Courton Wood, the Ardre Valley and near St. Euphrase, notwithstanding their desperate resistance. The number of British operating with the Allied forces in this region is not known. The first announcement that they were in the action was made Sunday night and doubtless they represent a portion of the great reserves that everywhere are being brought up along the battle line in an endeavor to make secure the victories already won and enlarge them.

With the capture of Chateau Thierry and the fast progress of the French and Americans westward from the northern sectors, the plight of the Germans in the southwestern portion of the Soissons-Rheims salient becomes increasingly hazardous, and it is not improbable that when stock is finally taken large numbers of prisoners and quantities of guns and war stores will be found to have been taken by the Allied troops.

Aviators continue to lend assistance to the troops of General Poch, scouting the back areas and harassing the retreating Germans with their machine guns. Notable work has been done by American Indians for General Pershing's men the Aborigines taking a prominent part, in characteristic western fashion, in scouting in the Marne region.

French Official Story of Victory

Paris, July 21—Important gains by the French, American, Italian and British troops in the territory comprising the Soissons-Rheims salient are reported in the official communication issued by the war office tonight. The heights east of La Croix and Griselles have been taken; a considerable section north of Chateau Thierry has been cleared of the Germans, and St. Euphrase and Bouilly, southwest of Rheims, have been captured.

"Between the Marne and Rheims violent combats continue. Franco-British troops attacking vigorously encountered large forces. Notwithstanding the enemy's desperate resistance we gained ground in Courton Wood, the Ardre Valley and in the direction of St. Euphrase.

"The battle continues under favorable conditions along the whole front between the Marne and Aisne. North of the Ourcq, driving the enemy back we have progressed, fighting in the region north of Villemontoire, and on the south have advanced to the east of the general line of Tigny-Billy-Sur-Ourcq.

"South of the Ourcq we have made an important advance beyond Neuilly S. Front, occupying the heights east of La Croix and Griselles.

"Under the double pressure of the Franco-American forces between the Ourcq and the Marne, and the French units who crossed the river between Fossoy and Charveves, the Germans were driven back beyond the line of Bezu-St. Germain and Mont-St. Petz. "Chateau Thierry is widely freed to the north.

"Between the Marne and Rheims the fighting was extremely violent. Franco-British and Italian troops attacked with indefatigable energy and captured St. Euphrase and Bouilly, and made gains in the Ardre Valley, Courton Wood and Bois Du Roi. The British took four cannon and 400 prisoners."

Quiet on British Front

London, July 21—Field Marshal Haig in a statement from the British front in France says there is nothing of special interest to report.

Fresh Fighting

Berlin, July 21—(Via London)—Fresh fighting developed this evening between the Aisne and the Ourcq, according to a late German official report.

"On the front between the Aisne and the Marne," the statement adds, "French attacks have been unsuccessful."

Italians Attacking

Vienna, July 20—The official communication issued by the war office says: "On both sides of the Isago an enemy advance was repulsed by a counter-attack. In the Brenta Valley an Italian attack failed.

"In Albania there were skirmishes between reconnoitering detachments.
