THE END IN SIGHT.

Epoch making events in connection with the war are following one another in rapid succession these days. Turkey, following close upon the heels of Bulgaria, has given up the fight, and London reports declare that the surrender has been unconditional. Her armies defeated, and crushed by the Allied troops, Turkey's collapse was inevitable and has created no great surprise. The surrender of Turkey will mean the opening of the Dardanelles to the world, and a large Anglo-French naval force will immediately pass through to the Black Sea and destroy what German warships are to be found in those waters.

The Turks have been in the war almost from the outset, and it must be said in all fairness to them that they have behaved themselves much better than the Huns. While little was to be expected from the "unspeakable" Turk, he has fairly well observed the rules of civilized warfare, and there have been few complaints in regard to his treatment of Allied prisoners. While the terms of surrender have not been definitely stated, it may be taken for granted that they are stiff enough to amply satisfy the people of the Allied nations. When the Allies finish their business with Turkey, it is safe to say that nation will not occupy a very large place in the sun.

The cable despatches today indicate that Austro-Hungary is on the verge of immediate collapse. Indeed, she has asked for an armistice, and a delegation has been permitted to cross the line into Italy with a view of reaching an agreement on the terms. Whether or not she surrenders unconditionally, Austria-Hungary is no longer considered an important factor in the fighting.

The complete collapse of Germany is no wooked upon as a matter of only a short time. Let along to carry on the war, and hemmed in on all sides, she has nothing to gain by putting off the evil day. The German people already realize this, and a feeling of great unrest prevails in the country. Already reports of the abdication of the Kaiser are emanating from Berlin, but he will probably hold on for a while longer. If the Huns are in earnest in their desire for peace they can have it by ousting the Kaiser from the throne and ordering the complete surrender of their armies in the field. No proposition short of this will satisfy the people of the Allied nations.

New York Herald. Although we are at war with Germany, 5,000 tons of toys, every piece bearing the much-detested words "made in Germany," reached this country the other day, says a news report. Through decades to come the stamp "made in Germany" will mark the Thing-to-be-Shunned by civilization. In order to avoid mistakes provision should be made in the treaty of peace—the terms of which will be laid down by the Allies at Berlin—that everything produced in Germany shall bear that stamp. The people can surely be trusted to do the rest.

Philadelphia Record: The Allies will have sufficient means to compel Germany to pay the bills and surrender at least a representative portion of the grosser criminals. German armies occupied France till the last of the indemnity was paid. Whether peace is made at the Rhine or at Potsdam, Allied troops will occupy Germany till the restoration is paid for and an example is made upon the gallows of the most brutal of the military commanders.

Victory Bonds maintain the present prosperity of Canada. If the people of Canada do not lend to their government, the government cannot buy war supplies; and if the government stopped buying war supplies, there would be an end of war industries and high wages. There would be little work to be had.

A Victory Bond is profitable, because its owner will receive at least five and a half per cent. interest as long as he keeps the bond. After the war everybody will have to pay high taxes, but the Dominion will not tax these Victory Bonds or the income from them. There is also a chance that they may be sold at a premium if the war ends soon.

According to a telegram from Petrograd, Madame Breshkovskaya, god-mother of the Russian revolution, was shot on October 27th on the charge of opposing the Bolshevik regime. Special despatches from London on October 16 said that Madame Breshkovskaya was reported to have died in Russia on September 14th.

The Huns are not pulling off any air raids these days, nor do we hear any more about a long range bombardment of Paris. Even submarine atrocities appear to be a thing of the past. The fact of the matter is the Huns are down and out.

The total loans provided in Canada for war purposes to date aggregate $950,000,000.

 Halloween slogan: Watch your step!—doorstep, of course.

Turkey came across a little too late for our Thanksgiving.

Eternal question: "What's it worth? How much does it pay?"

If places in the sun are scarce, all Turkey asks is a place on the map.

After Russia's experience, few people are likely to mistake mobocracy for democracy.

No, the war isn't over yet. It will take at least a couple of years to wind up all the barbed wire.

Fifteen thousand Huns are reported to be pushed over into Holland. Now they know what it means to be in Dutch.

The ordinary man will do well to confine himself to gripe. Only the man who ran a successful war garden can afford influenza now.

Probably there is nothing that makes the Kaiser so mad as his inability to retreat rapidly in a bold, imperious manner.

A recent adv. says: "The greatest floor enamel ever made; you can put it on yourself." In other words, don't take it internally.

EIGHTEENTH DEATH FROM PNEUMONIA

Conditions at Hampstead
 Indian Agent B. J. Griffiths was called to Hampstead yesterday on account of the seriousness of the epidemic among the Indians there. Two deaths occurred there yesterday and more are liable to follow as thirteen out of two families of fourteen are sick leaving only one Indian to care for them.

At Oromocto Reserve
 The conditions at Oromocto show a general improvement. There are no very serious cases among the Indians except two but these are not yet despaired of. At Devon Joseph Sacobie's very low but other cases show a general improvement. One case at Lake George is reported to be serious, John Solomon being very low but no reports have come through since Wednesday about the disease.

High Temperature
 This week was marked by a high temperature which was rather unseasonable coinciding as it did with a period of marked humidity. At the meteorological observatory the highest recorded temperature was 65 degrees above zero. The total rainfall for the month of October was 4.5 inches.

Miss Belle McKay who was seriously ill with influenza for some time has recovered.

Cured of Dyspepsia BY USING Burdock Blood Bitters.

The symptoms of dyspepsia are so numerous and diversified in different individuals that probably no description could exactly represent them as they occur in any given case, but a few of the most prominent are a rising and souring of food, pain, flatulence and distention of the abdomen, a sensation of discomfort after every meal, which is sometimes followed by sickness and vomiting.

To get rid of dyspepsia a careful arrangement of the diet is necessary and due time must be given for the digestion of the meal.

You will find that Burdock Blood Bitters will help with this digestion. It does this by toning up the stomach in such a way that dyspepsia soon disappears.

Mr. Robt. Balwin, Winnifred, Alta., writes:—"I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters for curing dyspepsia, of which I have tried a good many doctors and proprietary medicines, so one day I thought I would try something different. I got a bottle of B. B. B. from our local store, as it was about the only remedy he kept, and I can certainly say that I was more than pleased with the results, as I got better right away. I will always recommend it to other sufferers."

turn home. A short time later they were taken up again and given a brief lecture. They will be asked to appear shortly to explain why they did not go home. It was a common thing for a pedestrian to stumble over a door step or even a mail box.

Bobby Burns Decorated
 The town was painted red or at least some buildings were by last night's marauders. A party of returned soldiers numbering about thirty garbed in quaint costumes consisting of towels, shirts, etc., seemed to enjoy themselves immensely. The Post Office steps were painted red with the latest advertisement. "Buy Victory Bonds" and the bill-board below the Post Office bore several encouraging remarks. One of the silent policemen bore direct instructions not to go to the left but to U. N. B. The A. & B. Club House bore the U. N. B. banner on the flag pole. Four cannon on the bank were decorated in red and white but the blue was missing. One cannon bore the name "Big Ben" in white letters. The only statue in the city that of Robert Burns was prettily decorated. According to last night's disturbances he evidently joined a fraternal society for protection as he wore the apron of that body. His hand held a magazine but he had no light with which to read except the stars. His legs were given a fresh coat of white paint but he is still recognizable.

More Sign Painting
 District Depot Headquarters bore the legend "U. N. B. Few but mighty" One gentleman living uptown who had the fortune to own a cord of hardwood had the street in front of his home blocked with wood, which forced him to use the rear entrance instead of the front.

Report on Anthracite
 Mr. R. H. Simonds, the local fuel controller is in communication with Dr. James H. Frink the Fuel Administrator at St. John concerning the anthracite supply for Fredericton and is preparing his report which will be handed in at the committee meeting of the City Council on Monday evening. He states that the soft coal situation is not very promising at present, as there is much sickness at Minto and about twenty-five Austrian miners have left.

Mrs. Colter's Gift
 Wesleyan: Mrs. J. J. Colter, of Fredericton, handed to Rev. George Steel, last week, Book Room debentures to the value of $1,000 for the Missionary Society on the condition of having the interest therefrom during life. She intends to supplement this by other and larger gifts at a later date. At the same time she gave the balance of $1,200 for the Supernumerary Fund. In a short time she intends to supplement this up to $1,500. It is given on the same condition as what she has done for the Missionary Society. It is to be hoped that many will follow Mrs. Colter's example.

Death at Doaktown
 The death of Miss Cassie Russell, daughter of Mr. Frank Russell of Doaktown took place on Tuesday October 29th, from pneumonia succeeding an operation for the removal of tonsils and adenoids. The deceased who was in her nineteenth year, was a person of lovable temperament and a general favorite within the circles in which she moved. She was a faithful member of the choir of St. Thomas Church. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. A. J. MacNeill, assisted by Rev. G. Kincaid and Rev. H. Waterson. Beautiful wreaths from loving friends adorned the casket. Besides her parents, she leaves to mourn two brothers, one of whom is overseas, and five sisters who have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in their sorrow.

Miss M. McLaughlin of St. John is registered at the Barker House. Mr. S. C. Delong of St. John is in the city.
