BOSTON IS NOT LIKELY TO HAVE A GENERAL STRIKE

Such an Upheaval Not Likely to Result from the Policemen's Walkout of Twelve Days Ago—The Time Said to be Inopportune—Members of Labor Unions Assessing Themselves for the Assistance of Policemen.

Boston, Sept. 21—After all the bluster and cocksureness of labor in Boston that a general strike would be the outcome of today's summary of voting by unions in the city, it has not come, and from the drift of opinion today such an upheaval is not likely to result from the policemen's walkout of twelve days ago.

There was an overflow meeting of delegates in Central Labor Union Hall President O'Donnell for the committee of seventeen, which has been handling the strike reported that after a lengthy conference with a deputation of the policemen's union "the time is not now opportune for ordering a general strike."

No dissenting voice was raised on the acceptance of the report. The roll call of unions as to how they voted was not taken, nor was definite action reached as to the future on the strike situation.

Scores of representatives were disappointed at not being allowed to report the vote of their unions. It was announced that hundreds of dollars had been donated to assist the police, and a weekly assessment of members decided on to continue the fight.

The reason assigned for not announcing the result of union balloting is that the leaders wish to give several big unions a chance to declare themselves. The committee of seventeen says it is waiting to make sure there will be no failure in case there is a call for all unions to stop work. Further it does not wish to give anybody a chance to say the C. L. U. has not used good judgment as was charged against the police.

"The men who have circulated these stories have deliberately lied, from the governor to the mayor," says the committee. "When the time comes for organized labor to make a protest it will be heard and the public will know that nobody is to blame for this trouble but the authorities who refuse to make a move to avert it."

After being strongly advised by Henry B. Endicott against going out on strike in sympathy with the policemen, the Boston street carmen last night adjourned without taking a strike vote.

An assessment of one dollar a week a member for the assistance of the policemen was voted, and a resolution adopted pledging the policemen full moral and financial support. The resolution approved the Policemen's Union, but made no reference to affiliation with the American Federation of Labor.

This meeting had been looked forward to with the greatest interest because of reports that have been in circulation that the carmen would vote in favor of a sympathetic strike. Such action, it was feared, might precipitate a more or less general movement in that direction. So far the fears will be claimed in this quarter.

Rifles for 20,000

Determined to be prepared for any possible extension of the police strike Adjutant General Stevens yesterday caused to be transported to this city from Camp Devens by auto trucks rifles and ammunition sufficient to arm 20,000 state troops.

An additional 5,000 state troops are available for duty in Boston tomorrow should occasion require. This would bring the force in the city to 12,000.

A total of at least 20,000 state guardsmen and volunteer militia will be available, the adjutant-general added, when the units are recruited to their full strength.

Brigadier-General Parker said today that conditions were such that there was no occasion to bring in the 13th regiment as was considered likely. He will take charge of the traffic Thursday.

In a letter today to the counsel for the police, Mr. Endicott said they were not trouble makers and had done their best to improve conditions. He added that he wished the public to know that labor unions are here to stay and members should be treated in the right spirit.

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company has given up its proposed field day to Atlantic City in order to be on hand to respond to a call as it feels there is no better way to show its loyalty to the governor than to stay at home in this crisis.

A start has been made to raise a large fund for the families of the guardsmen on duty in Boston. Their pay in most cases is less than half they derived from their occupations which they left when called out.

The nineteen Metropolitan Park Police discharged Saturday for insubordinations has been from one to fifteen years in service. They lose with their jobs the pension granted them by the state. This pension is equal to half the amount of their wages at the time of their retirement.

The wages of park policemen range from $1,131.35 to $1,615.35 the latter figure becoming operative after five years' duty. The twenty-seven others who were tried were reprimanded and each fined thirty days' pay for declining to do street duty during the strike.

SPLENDID LIGHT EXHIBITED

"The Brilliant Searchlight" for Hunters, Sportsmen, Miners, etc.—
F.T. Brown, Maritime Agents

Mr. F. T. Brown of 226 King Street had a very interesting exhibit at the exhibition known as "The Brilliant Search Light" for hunting, fishing, camping, boating, driving, night work, lumbering, mining, etc. The light when used in mines is arranged on a wide strap which goes around the head. The light has a silver reflector and a little slide which when closed shuts off all light. The light is a good one and very handy. It was on exhibition in the R. Chestnut booth. It is manufactured by a Chicago firm and is a splendid invention. Mr. Brown is agent for the Maritime Provinces.

There isn't much hope for those who are too skeptical to even believe in themselves.
