THE EXTRACT OF THE FUTURE

COWS IN RUSSIA
COST $16,000

London, Dec. 13—Live stock in Soviet Russia is fetching fabulous prices. A cow for instance costs $16,000 to $24,000 at the prewar rate of exchange and a horse as much or more.

At Socialistic demonstrations in the streets of Geneva shouts of "Long Live Lenin!" "Long Live Trotsky" and "Down with the bourgeois" were raised.

A ticket for the Empire Theatre, New York, autographed by the Prince of Wales, netted $30,000 for the Actors Memorial Fund on Friday. The piece of pasteboard bearing the signature "Edward P." was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. for $25,000, and then resold to John H. Flagler for $5,000. Mr. Flagler had already contributed $5,000 to the fund.

NEW YORK PRICES THAT OUTSHIP WILD FANCY

There are Sable Coats for $80,000, Stockings for $500 a Pair and "Nighties" for the Price of a Motor Car—Must be Some One Who Can Pay Such Prices—Slippers $50 a Pair—But Gum Can Still be Had for 5c. a Package.

(New York Sun)

Like an airplane, the cost of existence whizzes into the empyrean with the purchaser tied to the tail. The traveller may struggle as he will, the plane carries him on to heights unknown, and fluttering check stubs fill the air.

After the eggs at 12 cents for each shining sphere and the butter at 83 cents a pound have been put away in the family safe, the 'lady of the house' as the book agent calls her, may let her fancy wander to the fascinating realm of things to wear. Behold the expectant purchaser wending her way among the glittering booths of the Fifth avenue shops.

An Encounter in Coats

The first encounter is with a saleswoman in the coat department. "A coat? What price?" Mrs. Purchaser knows that things cost more than they used to in the good old days, so she bravely puts what she considers a high limit—"About a hundred." The sales person loudly inquires of a friend—"Say, Sadie, where are the cheap coats." That sales person was not being tactful, but she was voicing a solemn truth. "Cheap at a hundred." The shopper weakly turns away to call the ambulance.

But where there are prices there must be someone to pay them, or what would be the use of having any? The managers of the Fifth avenue shops confirm this thought and say that they have no difficulty in disposing of the most highly priced articles. Take a sable coat for example—a wrap of beautifully matched Russian sable costs $80,000. Perhaps you don't care for fur coats—they are so warm and heavy—but how about something in a scarf for the neck? One little dark brown animal of the aristocratic sable family will require a check for $2,000.

Stockings, $250 a Pair

Stockings which used to be just something to wear inside your shoes, are something else again when they cost $250. The manager of one shop rather apologized for not being able to show something better. "But next week there will come from Paris a pair of black lace stockings which can be bought for $500."

A handmade sleeping garment, a very inadequate and beautiful affair, will make a nice Christmas present for your wife if you care to sell your Ford and send in $600. O shades of the old cotton flannel! Other varieties of wearables delicately grouped under lingerie may also be bought in three figures. Slippers for evening wear are casually purchased by many customers every day for $50 a pair, and one can acquire a fine, solidly built handkerchief for $150.

Long gloves are coming into style again now that they may be purchased for $10. Dress materials are considered a bit flimsy if the price is less than $5 a yard. But it may comfort some suffering soul to know that gum can still be purchased at 5 cents a package

FAINT AND DIZZY SPELLS WEAKNESS AND
SHORTNESS OF BREATH

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women become run-down and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

MOTORCYCLES IN DEMAND IN OLD COUNTRY

London, Dec. 13—Motorcycle manufacturers like automobile manufacturers bitterly resent charges that they are profiteering. They declare that while labor and other costs of production have advanced 100 per cent prices have advanced only 60 to 70 per cent. Steel now costs about three times more; aluminum two and a half times more; wood three and a half times more, and labor two and a quarter times more than before the war, and there is a reduction in working hours to be considered in addition, they say.

There is no doubt however, that the motorcycle industry is flourishing. At the Olympia show there were no fewer than seventy-two distinct specimens of British motorcycles, and even with so many new firms producing, the demand is five times greater than the supply. There is little likelihood of prices coming down in the near future because costs are still showing an upward tendency.

A fifty-year-old man found wandering on the water front at Oakland, California, dressed in rags, was so near starvation that he died shortly after. He had a bank book showing deposits of $3,000.

It is in the movies that actions speak louder than words.

LEGHORNS DOING THE BEST IN EGG LAYING CONTEST AT TRURO

Truro, N. S., Dec. 8—The leghorn family wins on points.

That is, the results of the first four weeks of the 90 pens of five birds, in the first Canadian egg-laying contest show the brown leghorn birds to be the greatest layers, in number of eggs. But their eggs are a little light, averaging 1.7 ounces each. The five hens in the pen producing the high record were sent to the show, being held at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College and laid 83 eggs in 28 days. On the basis of one hen a year, this would put the brown leghorns to an average of 213 eggs a year per bird.

The leaders in number of eggs and weight are the pen of barred Plymouth Rocks. They laid 66 eggs in the 28 days but their eggs averaged 2 ounces each while the brown leghorns laid 17 more eggs, their lay weighed 137.1 ounces against 131.3 ounces for the 66 laid by the brown leghorns.

The layers of the heaviest eggs were the white wyandottes. Their eggs averaged 2.1 ounces each, but they laid only 25 eggs in the 28 days.

The contest has been followed closely by poultrymen all over Canada and the United States, and many organizations are keeping close tally on the results.

All the birds and there are 30 pens are under the same condition. Some of the birds have done almost nothing whether from homesickness, mourning loneliness or other cause.

All Treated Alike

The hens are fed alike watered alike and given the same care, and each pen gets the same chance as the next one. Thus the results show the straight merits of the birds entered in the contest.

Dr. M. Cumming, the principal and J. P. Landry, manager and lecturer of the poultry department of the college are watching matters closely and inspecting the records to which the provincial and dominion governments attach much importance, inasmuch as poultry and egg raising are to be developed vastly by both.

These prize winning brown leghorns have shown themselves to be the most consistent performers, leading the 30 pens every week. Their production for the four weeks have been 18-22-22-21. They were a little shy the first day or so, but quickly adapted themselves to surroundings and went to work. They have led in number of eggs each week of the month's contest thus far, excepting the fourth, when some Rhode Island reds quit clucking long enough to lay 25 eggs. But the red birds had been lagging before, starting only with 9.

The barred Plymouth Rocks are consistent too, with 15-18-18-15 in the four weeks.

According to the Swiss sanitary department, the statistics of the influenza epidemic last year show that 22,689 persons died. More than 18,000 of the deaths occurred in cases where there were pulmonary complications.

Those Feelings of Faintness
Those Dizzy Spells and "All Gone," Sinking Sensations

which come over some people from time to time are warnings that must not go unheeded. They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nervous system, and call for prompt relief.

This is no time for delay. One fainting spell may be recovered from—will the next? One dizzy spell may pass off, but the next may be more serious.

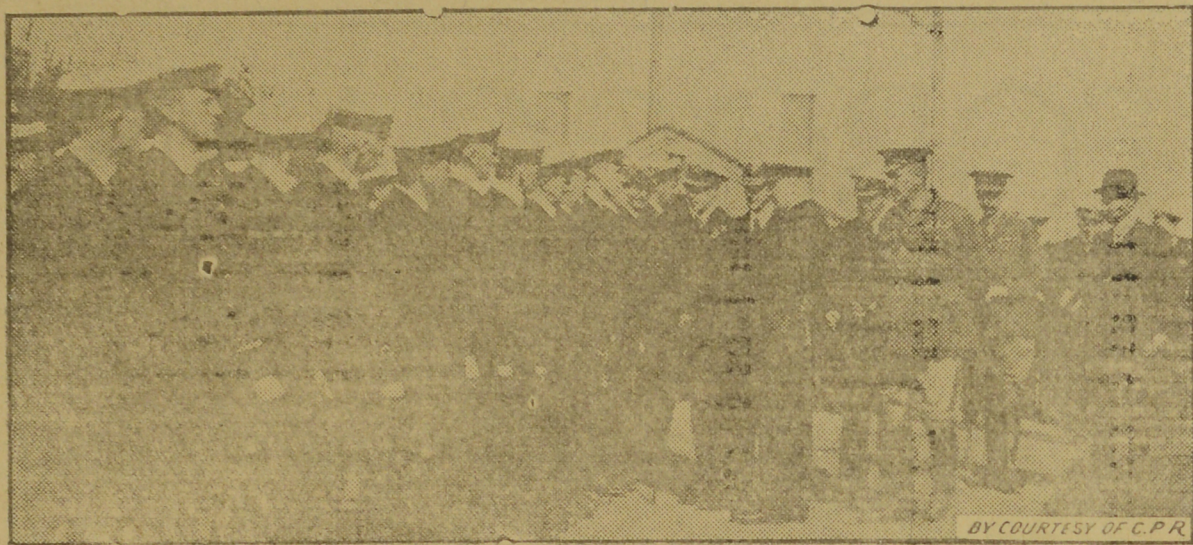

Those who are wise will start taking

Milburn's Heart
and Nerve Pills

at once before their case gets hopeless.

This remedy will act directly on the disordered heart and nerves. They strengthen and invigorate the heart, so that it beats strong and regular, tone up the nervous system, and soon the trouble which is the cause of so much worry and anxiety becomes a thing of the past.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
