THE GERMANS GRANTED AN EXTENSION

Paris, May 22.—The German peace delegation has been granted an extension of seven days, or until May 29, in which to reply in full to the peace terms, according to an official announcement.

"It is too late for Germany to seek to deny both the aggression in the war and her responsibility for it."

This declaration is made by Premier Clemenceau as president of the peace conference, in replying to the German note on reparations, the text of which, with the reply, has been made public.

The argument put forth by Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau was that Germany did not start a war of aggression, that the German people were convinced they fought a defensive war and that the present German government cannot be held responsible for "faults" of the former German government.

Off for an Outing.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Edgecombe and family left today for Vanceboro, Me., where they will be joined by friends from Maine on a fishing trip to Camp Knot-a-Kare. They will be absent until Monday.

THE CORONATION OF THE LATE QUEEN VICTORIA

The Noble Woman Who Ruled Over the Destinies of the British Empire for Over Sixty Years was Crowned at Westminster Abbey on June 28th, 1838—A Description of the Ceremony from the Pen of Dean Stanley.

The centenary of the birth of Queen Victoria, which occurred on May 24th, 1819, naturally revives interest in the events of her life, chief of which was her coronation at Westminster Abbey on June 28th, 1838, one year and eight days after her accession on June 27th, 1837. One of the briefest and most vivid accounts of that ceremony was written by Arthur Penrhyn Stanley, in the form of a letter to his friend Charles John Vaughan. Stanley had just graduated from Oxford and father, the Bishop of Norwich, participated in the coronation ceremony. When he wrote his description Stanley could have had no idea of how closely he was to be associated in after life with Queen Victoria and with Westminster Abbey. Of that historic monument he lived to be Dean, and he married Lady Augusta Bruce, Her Majesty's favorite lady-in-waiting, so that throughout the latter years of his life he was closely associated with the court. His description of the coronation is reprinted from Prothero's "Life and Letters of Dean Stanley."

"Now for the Coronation. At half-past five we started. London all awake; the streets crowded. At seven we reached the Abbey. My mother and sister were deposited behind the peeresses, and I was taken up to the vaultings to my brother and sister. This was the first view of the Abbey I had—most glorious, the dazzling splendor of the prodigious crowds all in their full dress, and literally "living out" upon the walls. I thus saw everything but the nave and peeresses, being very high up, but with the widest possible view. It was perfectly easy to walk about in the hinder and therefore unoccupied parts of the gallery, where were refreshments, etc., prepared, with the most perfect convenience. At nine the guns announced that the Queen had left the Palace; an electric shock ran visibly through the whole Abbey and from that time till the end of all at three-thirty p. m., the interest was so intense that I did not feel exhausted for a moment. At ten-thirty another gun announced that she was at the Abbey door, and in about a quarter of an hour the procession appeared from under the organ, advancing up the purple approach to the chancel—everyone leaning over—and in they came; first the great dukes, struggling with their enormous trains; then bishops, etc., and then the Queen with her vast crimson trains, and the smaller ladies, with delicate sky-blue trains, trailing along the dark floor. When she came within the full view of the gorgeous Abbey, she paused as if for breath, and clasped her hands. The orchestra broke out into the most tremendous crash of music I ever heard. "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." Everyone literally gasped for breath from the intense interest, and the rails of the gallery visibly trembled in one's hands from the trembling of the spectators. I never saw anything like it; tears would have been a relief; one felt that the Queen must sink into the earth under the tremendous awe.

But at last she moved on to her place by the altar, and (as I heard from one of my cousins who had a place close by) she threw herself on her knees, buried her face in her hands, and evidently prayed fervently. For the first part the silence was so great that at my extreme point I could hear quite distinctly the tremulous but articulate voice of the Archbishop; afterwards it was quite inaudible; the great drawbacks were the feeble responses to the service, and the feebleness of the acclamations—hardly any at all at the Recognition, and only tolerable at the Coronation. That was the crisis of the ceremony, and the most striking part. The very moment the crown touched her head the guns went off—the trumpets began, and

YOU CAN'T RUB RHEUMATISM OUT

It is Rooted in the Blood and Must be Treated Through the Blood.

The pain of rheumatism is something that you cannot rub out. Every sufferer from rheumatism has been advised to rub this liniment or that on the affected part, but after all the rubbing the pain remained. Rubbing did not cure it and can't cure it.

Thin blood and rheumatism come together and if they are properly treated they will go together. Rheumatism is rooted in the blood, in poor, watery blood. Sometimes cold, damp weather starts the aches and pains, but it is the condition of the blood that is at fault, and only by correcting this, and making the blood rich and red can the rheumatic poison be driven out. This is exactly what is done in the treatment of rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Acute and muscular rheumatism show improvement as the thin blood is built up, and when the blood has been restored to its normal condition the rich and red. There is no part of Canada in which some rheumatic sufferer has not been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they do not hesitate to express their thanks for what this medicine has done for them. As an example Miss Annie S. Dedrick, R. R. No. 2, St. Thomas, Ont., says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me of rheumatism after a great many other remedies had failed. The pain in my arms and shoulders was so great that I could scarcely sleep. I could not raise my arms to comb my hair, and could not dress myself without help. In this condition I read of a cure of rheumatism through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. I got half a dozen boxes and I am thankful to say that they not only cured my rheumatism, but that my general health was greatly improved. My appetite was increased and I gained in weight. Since then a number of cases have come under my observation in which cures have been made by this splendid medicine. As for myself I shall always speak a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CROWN PRINCE TO BE TRIED

London, May 21.—Frederick William Hohenzollern, the former German Crown Prince, will be liable to trial under the terms of the German peace treaty, it was declared by Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader, in the House of Commons, today. Bonar Law said that the commandants of prison camps would also be liable under the treaty's terms.

SURE IT WAS THE CONDUCTOR.

(Toledo Blade.)

The Minneapolis orchestra under the famous conductor, Emil Oberhoyer, had reached a dramatic pause in the overture from Mignon, in the concert in a church auditorium.

Suddenly the silence was broken by the raucous "clank, clank" of a trolley car bell just outside the building. Had it been "jazz" such an interpolation would have "made" the piece, but in this case such an interruption was enough to seriously fracture the temperament of any director but the urbane and tolerant Mr. Oberhoyer.

At the conclusion of the selection he smilingly remarked: "It couldn't have been the motorman who did that. It must have been the conductor."

BODY INTERRED IN THE WOODS

Moncton, May 22.—Dr. Glrvan, coroner, held an inquest at Rexton last evening into the death of Robert Childs, who murdered Mrs. John Childs at the latter's farm residence a few days since.

A verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered by the jury. The body was interred on the site in the woods where it was found.

the shouts; she was perfectly immovable, like a statue. The Duchess of Kent burst into tears, and her lady had to put on her coronet for her.

The Anointing was very beautiful from the cloth of gold—the Homage also, from the magnificent cluster in the very centre. It was a take-off, though a necessary one, I suppose, that throughout the ordeal her face was turned away from the spectators, towards the altar. All the movements were beautiful. She was always accompanied by her eight ladies, floating about her like a silvery cloud.

It was over at 3.30; she went out then with her crown, her orb and her sceptre. I walked home; the rest had to wait till eight for their carriage, which was forced back by the length of the line to Kensington Common; the crowd in the streets to see the return of the procession was stupendous. It was all more like a dream than a reality—more beautiful than I could have conceived possible. I should wish almost never to see her again; that, as this was the first image I have ever had of her, so it should be the last."

WEAK, NERVOUS CHILDREN QUICKLY GAIN STRENGTH UNDER FOLLOWING PLAN

Nervousness, just like weakness, is a family predisposition. We inherit tendencies to disease just as we inherit physical resemblances. The strain of study, social duties, work at home—these all tend to make nervous troubles among children. No wonder that St. Vitus Dance, Epilepsy, and constant headaches have become alarmingly common. Pale, nervous, listless young people are met everywhere.

It is nothing short of criminal for parents to neglect signs of weakness in their children. By ignoring the slightest symptom of nervous or mental strain, you may condemn your child to life-long invalidism. If any member of your family complains of headaches, fear of going into dark places, give them that wonderful tonic, "Ferrozone." Strength of body and mind, hardy nerves, ability to study with comfort, all the attributes of health quickly follow the use of Ferrozone. It establishes strength, color, endurance, vim—does this by filling the whole system with nourishment and tissue-forming materials.

It's because we know the enormous good that Ferrozone will do, because we are sure every child and even grown folks, will be permanently benefited, that we urge you to give it a trial. All dealers sell Ferrozone in 50c. boxes, six for $2.50, or direct by mail from The Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

TURKS WERE CAPTURED

Saloniki, May 21.—A Turkish detachment which, at the instigation of the Young Turks Agents attempted to resist the Greek troops at Smyrna, were overwhelmed and captured according to an unofficial statement issued by Greek General headquarters today. The captured detachment was handed over to the British Naval authorities in the Aegean Sea.

LABOR TROUBLE AT AMHERST

Amherst, N. S., May 21.—With the exception of the Robb Engineering Co. and the Amherst Planos, Ltd., the workshops of Amherst are all practically closed. The Federation of Labor presented their demands to the different industries of the town on Tuesday afternoon. The demands call for a forty-four hour week and a general increase of pay varying from 35 to 60 per cent.

As many of the industries have a majority of directors outside of Amherst, the managements are not in a position to make immediate reply. The situation from an industrial standpoint is grave. It is the first serious labor trouble that Amherst has ever experienced and it is hoped an amicable adjustment will be reached.

DELAYED BY THE WEATHER

Washington, May 22.—High winds today again prevented the naval seaplane N. C. 4 from leaving Ponta Delgada for Lisbon, on the second leg of her trans-Atlantic flight. The navy department this morning received the following message from Admiral Jackson at Ponta Delgada. "N. C. 4 will not leave today. Seas too rough for start." The weather forecast for the Azores District cabled to the Navy Department held out promise that conditions might be favorable tomorrow for continuation of the flight as the blow from the southwest was moving north-eastward.

Sign or take something worse, is the alternative that confronts the Germans. Foch has the fifteenth point up his sleeve.
