TO BOARDS OF TRADE.

Nearly every city and town in Canada has a Board of Trade or a Chamber of Commerce, designed to serve as a clearing house of community opinion. The efforts of the municipal council to improve living conditions in the place usually have the support of this unofficial body, and the decisions of the executive generally appeal to the judgment of the business men.

For that reason a Board of Trade has a position of leadership which could be used to advantage in promoting the success of the Victory Loan. All intelligent business men know full well that the prosperity of Canada in the coming year will depend in large measure on the ability of the country to fund its military outlays, and finance Great Britain's purchases of Canadian surplus products.

Every financier and trader should have a complete understanding of the obligations which must be met by the people of the Dominion and should be ready to support the national prosperity by buying bonds to the very edge of his resources. During the period of the war, the Executive of the Board of Trade in every community was alive to the pressing needs of the day. Valuable support was given by these bodies to the work of recruiting and to the mobilization of money for patriotic services.

One more call has come. A financial obligation faces every citizen. The country has a right to look to all organized bodies of citizens for support of the national effort, which, if successful, will avert once more the menace of hard times.

In commenting on the announcement that the Tory government lately kicked out of office in Prince Edward Island left a deficit of $250,000, the Sydney Record says, "What a job the new Liberal ministry will have in cleaning up the mess if the financial methods followed by the Conservative government in its other years in office were like unto those followed in the earlier part of this year! People ought to sympathize with Premier Bell." The people of New Brunswick, who got rid of a bunch of crooked politicians in the early part of the year 1917, will appreciate the task which lies before Premier Bell and his colleagues.

Recently Lord Rothermere suggested that Great Britain might sell some of her possessions to the United States in payment of her large indebtedness to the latter country incurred during the war. The bald manner in which this proposition has been made by the above gentleman and the manner in which it has been received by some United States journals cannot be anything but offensive to British people generally and especially to the people of the islands in question. Lord Rothermere is the type of Englishman who should have lived in the days of King George III. He is decidedly out of his element in the present day and generation.

Philadelphia Press: It is reassuring to find the United States turning from news of revolutions, rioting, high living costs and political complexes to read with rapt attention the news and learned discussions upon the world's series. Sanity persists and America's congenital optimism rules, no matter what croakers may say. The world hasn't gone mad. It is only settling back to the good old ways of peace, and the world's series is one of the most reliable indications to that effect.

The Retail Merchants' Association, in convention at Moncton, yesterday adopted a resolution declaring that the operations of the Board of Commerce would not be satisfactory until such time as the Board is placed under the direction of competent commercial men.

Henry Disston & Sons, saw manufacturers, of Philadelphia, are advertising in the American newspapers for apple wood logs. They say they will pay good prices for sound and green stock over thirteen inches in diameter. They use the wood for saw and tool handles.

A despatch from Washington, D. C., says: "Repeal of the reciprocity act, passed during the Taft administration and which became a dead letter because Canada did not enact similar legislation, was approved by the House without opposition. The repeal bill now goes to the Senate.

The Toronto Globe thinks that the United Farmers who are putting candidates in the field in many Ontario constituencies, will probably discover on election day that they have merely divided a vote which should have been united.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

An optimist is one who believes in Indian summer.

An artificial kiss is the kind one woman inflicts on another.

Bookkeepers are merely figureheads in the business.

A pretty girl is an opportunity all young men like to embrace.

The more business the auctioneer picks up the more he knocks down.

A diplomat is a man who shuts up when he has said enough.

Few men are able to achieve greatness without advertising the fact.

A woman's idea of good luck is to find in the pile a pair of socks that doesn't need darning.

A woman seldom attempts to jolly her son by telling him that he is the very image of his father.

A laboring man knows the value of a dollar and a shopping-woman knows the value of 97 cents.

It is easy to understand why a little learning is a dangerous thing when you meet a man who thinks he knows it all.

Shortly after a woman has her lace curtains laundered she is apt to notice that smoking is injurious to her husband's health.

U. S. SOLDIER WAS KILLED

Omsk, Oct. 10.—An American soldier in Vladivostok was shot and killed recently by a Russian officer, it has been learned here. This and other incidents led to a demand from the Allied commanders at Vladivostok for the removal of the Russian troops from that city. A vigorous protest by the Omsk government has led to the withdrawal of the demand.
