British, French, American and Belgian Delegates Upbraid German Delegates for Their Conduct During the War - Sharp Incriminations on Both Sides — Gompers Tells Huns That They Owe an Apology for Their Actions.

Amsterdam, July 26-The preliminary gathering today of the International Trades Union Congress developed a series of accusations by British, French, American and Belgian delegates against the German workers for their conduct during the war. This led to sharp incriminations by both sides

Today's meeting had the purpose of clearing up the affairs of the old Trades Union Internationals and making preparations for a new organization. Before the discussion opened the Belgians declared that they had a mandate to state the grievances of Belgian workers. M. Samuel Gompers. President of the American Federation of Labor, followed Legien. He recalled that Legien in the course of a speech had defended the sinking of the Lusitania. Mr. Compers told the Germans that they owed an apology for their actions during the war not only to Belgium but the whole International organization of Workers.

MR. GOMPERS TRIED TO PERSUADE HUN LABORITES

TO PROTEST AGAINST LUSITANIA INCIDENT

The American Labor leader brought to light a communication he sent to Legien before the United States entered the war, in which he endeavored to persuade the Germans to protest against the Lusitania incident. This was contained in a letter carried by Count von Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, when Bernstorff was recalled. Legien denied having received the letter.

At the end of the long sitting, Herr Sassenbach, a German Socialist handed in a resolution containing a statement in exwar. Many things were done, the resolution said, under the full JACK DEMPS conviction that right was on Germany's side, that would never have been done, in the light of the truth now being brought Dealings had little of their recent breadth of vigor, however, and suggested increased caution by professional interests. Stut motors and Mexican Petroleum reflected moderate selling pressure.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 29.—At the offices of the United Mine Workers today it was said that the revocation of the charter of District No. 106, Alberta, Canada, was ordered by John L.
