WHY CAN'T I GET TO SLEEP?

Thousands of people all over the country ask this question, but still continue to toss night after night on a sleepless bed, and it is impossible for them to get a full night's refreshing sleep.

Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quietened except by the pernicious use of opiates or narcotics. Or again, you have heart palpitation and sensation of sinking a feeling you are going to die, or perhaps you wake up in your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and the only way you can get relief is to sit up in bed.

To all who suffer in this way, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer an inestimable boon. They bring back the much needed night's rest by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthen the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep as peaceful as a child.

Mrs. Jas. Latimer, 39 Leinster St. St. John, N. B. writes:—"At night I could not sleep, I had to sit up in bed my heart beat so fast, and when I walked up stairs I would get all out of breath. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after using two boxes, I can sleep all night and am not out of breath after walking."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

F. B. McCURDY, M. P., FAVORS THRIFT PLAN

Necessities of State Demand Exercise of Thrift by the General Public at the Present Time.

F. B. McCurdy, M. P., who represents Colchester in the House of Commons and is also known as one of the prominent financial men of Canada, endorses the War Savings movement in the following statement, recently issued:

"The advantage which systematic saving confers on the individual who practices economy and thrift is everywhere recognized. And the present necessities of the State demand the practice of these virtues, if Canada is to return to a sound economic position from which to embark on a renewed era of national production, growth and development.

"During the war Canada has been expending large sums of borrowed money in an effort which will not, in the material sense, be productive. This sinking of wealth can be made good only by increased production of commodities and services, savings on the part of Canadians, and the resumption and extension of our foreign trade.

"The war has been successfully ended, but the bills have, in the main, yet to be paid; participation in their liquidation is the duty of every citizen.

"Nearly everyone can help by avoiding some unnecessary expense, and investing the saving in War Savings and Thrift Stamps which afford a convenient and safe medium of investment within the reach of all.

"In fact, the Thrift campaign is so excellent and sound that I believe it could with advantage have been undertaken even earlier in the war without fear of deflecting our more direct military effort."

HOUSEHOLD WISDOM.

Eggs in potato nests are a good substitute for eggs on toast.

Eggs will keep better if you stand them on the small end instead of the broad end.

For cleansing rugs, dampen with ammonia in soapy water. It makes the rugs look bright and new.

Warm tights for the youngsters may be made from one or two pairs of discarded stockings.

Egg stains can easily be washed from dishes if a little salt is sprinkled over them before washing them.

To clean faucets use sand with a small amount of water. When through rub briskly with a woolen rag.

You can mend your granite ware by pressing putty well into the hole. Smooth it down and set the vessel into a hot oven until the putty is brown.

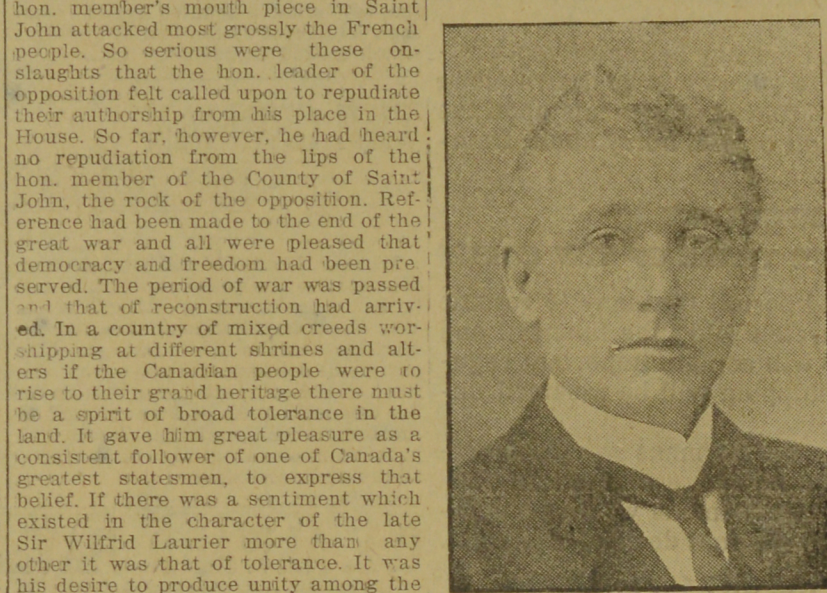

Brown flour in the oven and keep it in jars where it will be handy when you make gravies for roasts and stews.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BYRNE DEFENDS THE GOVERNMENT

Delivers an Able Speech in Reply to Mr. Baxter—Some Hot Shot for the Member for St. John County—Refutes a Slander in Connection with the Queens County Murder Case—Some Features of the New Jury Act Explained.

Following is the synoptic report of the excellent speech delivered in the Legislature on Wednesday evening by Hon. Mr. Byrne in reply to Mr. J. B. M. Baxter:

HON. MR. BYRNE extended his congratulations to hon. Mr. Speaker on his elevation to the chair and also to the mover and seconder of the address. The seconder had labored under a disadvantage of using a language not his mother tongue. The hon. member for Saint John County had taken the opportunity of paying a tribute to the beauties of the French language and it was true that that tongue was better adapted than English to the expression of the sentiments of the heart. The same hon. gentleman had said that the two races in Canada should dwell together in amity and that any person who attempted to create a feeling of hostility between the two was not a citizen of the highest type. That when the last election took place the newspaper which was the hon. member's mouth piece in Saint John attacked most grossly the French people. So serious were these onslaughts that the hon. leader of the opposition felt called upon to repudiate their authorship from his place in the House. So far, however, he had heard no repudiation from the lips of the hon. member of the County of Saint John, the rock of the opposition. Reference had been made to the end of the great war and all were pleased that democracy and freedom had been preserved. The period of war was passed and that of reconstruction had arrived. In a country of mixed creeds worshipping at different shrines and alters if the Canadian people were to rise to their grand heritage there must be a spirit of broad tolerance in the land. It gave him great pleasure as a consistent follower of one of Canada's greatest statesmen, to express that belief. If there was a sentiment which existed in the character of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier more than any other it was that of tolerance. It was his desire to produce unity among the races and creeds of this Dominion. With his prophetic vision he had seen the destiny of this great land and had recognized that there must be a spirit of tolerance and unity. He had been pleased to notice that the speech from the throne had contained fitting reference to the noble work performed by the women of Canada during the war and to the patriotic manner in which those unable to serve overseas had supported the military forces by subscription to funds and the payment of taxes.

HON. ATTORNEY GENERAL BYRNE

port that he was an aesthete and an unbeliever in God and the Saviour.

MR. BAXTER—"If it will do the hon. member any good I will tell him that I am not an aesthete and never was."

HON. MR. BYRNE, continuing, said that he was pleased to hear a public statement to that effect. It would do much to counteract the popular belief. The hon. member had been fairly calm until he had begun to deal with the Jury Act. He was a master of innuendo and he had not the courage to make his charges openly. He had intended to create the impression that the Attorney General (Byrne) in connection with a murder case in Queens County had suppressed evidence. He had risen to deny the implied charge and to tell the hon. member to make his charge in connection with the Kierstead murder trial on the floor of the House. The hon. member had not been man enough or big enough notwithstanding his knowledge of the rules of the House to retract his statement.

MR. BAXTER—"I don't retract truth."

HON. MR. BYRNE—"I challenge the hon. member if he is big enough

ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD—NO QUININE

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops the nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store.

and broad enough to make charges as the rules of this House require and they will receive due investigation."

Continuing the speaker said that the hon. member had displayed his knowledge of the rules of the House by trying to tell him (Byrne) that he could not arise and deny his charge. Only the other night the hon. member showed that he did not know how to move adjournment, in spite of having sat in the House eight or ten years. This was the paragon of wisdom though he might laugh at that phrase yet it cut.

HON. MR. VENIOT—"He knows it all."

MR. BAXTER—"Yes, I know it all."

HON. MR. SPEAKER—"I do not think that conduct of this kind is in keeping with the dignity of the House. An hon. member should be able to speak without interruption and business could be transacted much more lively."

HON. MR. BYRNE continuing gave an outline of the trial of Robert Kierstead in Queen's County for the murder of his wife. Insanity had been the ground taken for the defence and the Crown had secured the services of Dr. Anglin Superintendent of the Provincial Hospital to give an opinion upon the sanity of the accused from a medical view point. The defence claimed that the Crown should place Dr. Anglin on the stand. The Crown contended that the defence could call Dr. Anglin if it wished. A reserved case was taken and the judgment of the Appeal Court was to the effect that Dr. Anglin did not have to be placed on the stand. Later the Minister of Justice exercised his prerogative and ordered a new trial. After that trial was held the man was committed to the Provincial Hospital on the order of the trial judge. That was his statement in the matter. If the hon. gentleman was not satisfied he could make charges from his place in the House. It did not lie in the mouth of any man to say that as Attorney General he had defended a man charged with a commission of a criminal offence. The Chatham World in reference to a certain matter in Gloucester County last November had intimated that it was the first occasion in which an Attorney General had appeared to defend a criminal case. The facts were that a number of fishermen of Miscou Island had been summoned to appear before a Magistrate in Tracadie some 60 miles away for alleged violations of lobster regulations. Politics was alleged a defeated candidate being said to be laying information for political reasons. In consequence of certain reports he had gone to the district. He had advised the fishermen that they had better secure other counsel but as the offence was not a criminal one he felt he could act. Donald Morrison represented the Fisheries Department and by arrangement with him the men were required to pay fines of $5.00 and costs. That was his whole part in the matter. If the Premier or his supporters believed he had dragged his high and honored office in the dust he would tender his resignation.

Reference had been made to the Jury Act and he had been pleased to hear the member for Saint John County say that a change in the Act was necessary. It was not the first attempt to change the act for in 1908 Mr. Hazen had introduced a Bill but did not put it through. His hon. friend had left the impression that a Jury Act could not be drawn without his assistance. The matter had been left in the hands of a Committee but he did not wish it understood that he was not open to suggestions on the other side.
