A SPIRITED DISCUSSION AT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Mrs. Martha Harvey of Fredericton was the Stormy Petrel—
Made a Sharp Attack on Miss McCain, the Supervisor—
Found Fault With the Manner of Making Appointments—
Was Called to Order by the Chair.

St. John, Oct. 31.—A discordant note was sounded this morning at the last day's session of the Women's Institute in the Congregational church when the question of the appointment of representatives to the federal executive was raised by Mrs. John Harvey, of Fredericton. She protested against the supervisor for the province, Miss Hazel McCain, having the authority to select representatives and charged that political and religious influence moved her in her choice. During her argument she used the word Catholic, and said that that was not the reason for her protest—she was not opposed to Catholics on the board, but thought that the manner of making the appointments was not in the best interests of the institutes.

Other matters were dealt with at the meeting, at which Mrs. T. N. Vincent presided in a most efficient manner, dealing very ably with a delicate situation. At one part of the meeting Mrs. Vincent interrupted Mrs. Harvey and said that she would not continue to preside, would leave the chair if the delegate from Fredericton persisted in her arguments after having been told that she was out of order. The little bell on the chairman's table was kept busy tinkling, notifying Mrs. Harvey that she was out of order, but she insisted upon being heard.

Resolutions

A resolution was passed calling upon the government to appoint two women to the board of motion picture censors. Another, called for the government to add a branch in kindergarten instruction to the Normal school curriculum. A resolution was brought in asking for support in help for the feeble-minded in the province and that the institutes aid Rev. George Scott of St. John in trying to improve their status. This was left to the various institutes for action, and their support approved.

Mrs. Harvey again brought up her original question in the form of a resolution, calling for the provincial convention to have the right to make the appointments named, and others on the board.

Mrs. H. Lawrence said that this resolution was not in order as it required notice of motion. Mrs. Stohart of Woodstock supported Mrs. Harvey but the chair ruled the resolution out of order.

Mrs. Harvey then introduced another resolution calling for the reinstatement of the Canadian Home Journal as the official organ of the institute to contain the reports of its work. She said that other provinces were using this paper and that it was a help to all the members of the institute. The speaker went on to speak of denominational issues, but was cut in upon by the chair and several voices were heard in protest against sectarian questions.

The supervisor, Miss McCain explained that it had been decided to print a federal paper, and that that was the reason why the Canadian Home Journal had been replaced by inclusion of the reports of the institute in government agricultural reports as was done in other provinces.

Again Mrs. Harvey questioned her statements and said that reports from other provinces were published in this paper, and asked that it be re-instated. Discussion upon the question was closed by a motion to adjourn, the delegates appearing wearied with the argument and more desirous of having lunch, which was ready and waiting for them.

Mrs. T. N. Vincent and Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy poured. The refreshments were prepared by another member, Mrs. John Stack, and the luncheon was much enjoyed. After lunch the visitors were taken for a motor tour through the kindness of the following who placed their cars at their disposal:—Jas. S. Robertson, P. W. Thomson, John McAvity, Miss Amelia Green, Louis Brennan, S. C. Wesley, H. C. Grout, Frank Peters W. E. Brennan, W. Emmerson, J. W. Smith, J. A. Gregory, Mrs. Statson, W. H. Thorne, Mrs. W. P. Bonnell, J. T. Dunlop and R. H. Anderson.

The members of the committees and the federal representatives to whose appointment the Fredericton delegate voiced objection this morning are:—Mrs. H. Lawrence, immigration; Mrs. C. J. Osman, legislation; Mrs. Royce, home economics; Mrs. Chas. Comber, education; Miss Catherine Stewart, child welfare; Miss Hazel McCain, supervisor, and Miss Eliza Campbell, and Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor, directors.

WERNER HORN SENTENCED TO TEN YEARS

is an abnormal condition of states, but it is not for that reason a conviction of unrestrained lawlessness and license. War is primarily a relation between states and governments represented in the conflict by definite military and naval forces; it is only secondarily a relation between the respective subjects individually. Peaceable and unoffensive inhabitants taking no part in the conflict should be immune from attack. Neither person nor property should be injured or damaged if the legitimate purpose of the belligerent is not thereby clearly promoted. The effect of a state of war lawfully declared to exist, is to place all the subjects of each belligerent Power in a state of mutual hostility. The usage of nations has modified this maxim by legalizing such acts of hostility only as are committed by those who are authorized by the express or implied command of the state. Such are the regularly commissioned naval and military forces of the nation, and all others called out in its defence or spontaneously defending themselves in case of urgent necessity. The horror of war would be greatly aggravated if every individual of the belligerent states was allowed to plunder and slay indiscriminately, the enemy's subjects. Hence it is that in land wars marauders are liable to be treated as lawless banditti not entitled to the protection of the mitigated usages of war as practised by civilized nations.

Not a Belligerent

You have not qualified as a belligerent under international law, so as to avail yourself of its protection. Although you did on two or three occasions produce a small flag, you do not seem to have been commanded by any one responsible for your acts. You wore no fixed distinctive emblem recognizable at a distance. You did not carry arms openly but secretly and I do not think that it can be said you conducted your operations upon the bridge in accordance with the laws and customs of war.

Had you qualified as a belligerent according to the law of nations, had you worn a fixed distinctive emblem showing what you were, had you borne arms openly, the explosion on the bridge would most probably have been prevented and you yourself arrested.

There only remains for me to impose the sentence which the law demands for a crime of this character. That the law regards it as a serious one is shown by the manner of punishment it provides. The maximum punishment for such a crime is imprisonment for life but there is left in the hands of the trial judge a wide discretion in regard to the punishment. In considering the penalty which I should impose, I have not lost sight of the fact that it has been disclosed in evidence, that before blowing up the bridge you waited until one o'clock in the morning, so that the railway would be free from traffic and the life of none of the travelling public placed in jeopardy. That fact stands to your credit, I must however, in the discharge of the sworn duty which I owe to the state, impose what you may regard as a severe sentence.

The Sentence

The sentence of the court is that you, Werner Horn, for the offense of which you have been indicted, tried and convicted be imprisoned in the Penitentiary at Dorchester in this province for the period of ten years.
