PHILOSOPHY AS WELL AS SPORT IN FISHING

(Toledo Blade.)

It is a sad thing that so glorious a sport as fishing and one so beneficial, physically and mentally, to the right kind of man, has to be tied up with statutory restrictions and threatening prohibitions, with meagre, reluctant permissions in one direction and exasperating taboos in another.

For we would like to set the world a fishing today, not necessarily with any idea of catching fish, but with the trust that in the seeking, coolness will come to blood all too feverish, a calm will settle upon souls that bad temper now possesses, a normal appetite will crowd out political and social indigestion.

We would like to have the socialist catch a fine string of bass, legal size, and suggest to him division with his neighbor who, all the hours of biting, lay snoozing under a tree a copy of the Appeal to Reason tented over his face. And we would like to plant the capitalist in the spot most infested by mosquitoes and see that he stayed there until it occurred to him he might be mistaken about every man being a free agent in the matter of his destiny.

ALMOST BLIND FROM HEADACHES

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people; indeed, some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bitters makes permanent cures of all cases of headache, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and the poisons and impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.

Mrs. Geo. Monck, Arden, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have to go to bed. I tried different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it, I have not been troubled since."

stead of returning to the tumult of Rome, had gone fishing instead. Presently it would have occurred to him that this game of drawing a polyglot port within his net was poor beside that of enticing a rainbow trout to rise to his fly, and that in a very little while ruffled dignity can look exceedingly ridiculous. And suppose that the leaders of the Jugo-Slavs had fished long

PLANNING CELEBRATION OF PEACE

Paris, May 16.—A triumphal march of the Allied armies through Paris will take place on June 6, according to the present understanding. The event will occur on that date, it is believed, even should the peace treaty not have been signed at that time.

London, May 17.—Huge pyrotechnical displays are to be the chief feature of England's celebration of peace. In addition to chains of bonfires on hills and heights, civic authorities through-and successfully, and then baited the lot to catch a whale, only to lose what ever they had earned through moderation. As "the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong," so triumph is not always to the over-reaching.

Five months or thereabouts they have sought for peace at Paris. Yet peace is to be had for the taking at every streamside—the great school where men learn the fitness of things by contemplating their own hearts. It has appeared prudent, for the sake of the fish, to make fishing difficult; but who knows but we have lost something greater than fish by this saving—a means simple and cheap by which human beings might know themselves?

out the country are arranging brilliant spectacles of fireworks and the demand for fireworks for private suburban displays is already greater than the manufacturers can supply.

The police of the country, especially the London department, are strongly encouraging the fireworks plan as against an aimless wandering about the streets of masses of people in holiday mood, as during the armistice celebration week.

The problem of crowds is a serious one in London. To prevent congestion of the streets it is proposed to have five or six pyrotechnic exhibitions in various parts of the city, making all the displays of similar interest, so that people will remain in their own districts.

The purpose of the movements to produce illuminations which could be seen from long distances has evolved giant bonfire flares to be accompanied by rockets and other effects. The experience of the war has led to some remarkable developments. One new kind of fireworks gives out a light of a peculiar penetrating quality. It is so brilliant that when it was given a demonstration recently before a government committee, a fire brigade a mile away thought there was a big conflagration and rushed to the scene.

The Yanks are flying over there. Nobody expected Germany to feel that the peace terms were easy.

A Cleveland man carried a lucky penny till it wore a hole in his pocket through which he lost a $10 gold coin.

FARM LOANS for SOLDIERS

The Soldier Settlement Act

Purpose

To assist ex-service men who desire to make farming their permanent occupation, and who, it is considered, are qualified to make a success of the farming business.

Procedure

The returned soldier who seriously intends to adopt farming as his life work, and desires financial assistance to purchase land, live stock, and equipment, may receive full information and instructions how to proceed from the representative of the Soldier Settlement Board in the district in which he resides.

Financial Assistance Available

Loans may be granted qualified settlers, according to their needs, on the following basis—

- (1) Up to $4,500 on the purchase of land for agricultural purposes or the discharge of encumbrances;
- (2) Up to $2,000 on the purchase of live stock, implements, and other equipment;
- (3) Up to $1,000 on the erection of buildings.

Interest at the rate of five per cent. will be charged.

Who Are "Qualified"

The qualifications of all applicants are investigated by an Agricultural Qualification Committee, composed of men of superior standing, who understand the farming business. All applicants are required to appear in person before the Committee in their district.

Military Service.—Any person who served with an honourable record:

- (a) In the Canadian, Imperial, or British Colonial forces in an actual theatre of war, or (except in U.S. or Bermuda) outside of the country in which he enlisted;

- (b) In the forces of any of His Majesty's Allies in an actual theatre of war, if he was a British subject resident in Canada before the war;

- (c) In the C.E.F. in Canada only, if he is in receipt of a pension for disability occasioned by such service.

These benefits are also granted to widows of such men.

Other Qualifications.—After an applicant's eligibility, from the standpoint of military service, is determined, the Committee will investigate his physical condition, general fitness, and agricultural experience. An applicant must satisfy the Committee that he is aware of the individual responsibility resting upon those who would engage in farming successfully, and that he has the required energy to carry on farming in a successful manner. A Qualification Certificate is issued to qualified applicants. Agricultural training is available for men who fail to receive a Qualification Certificate only through lack of sufficient practical farming experience.

All Qualified Men Assisted

The applicant, after securing a Qualification Certificate, may then apply to the Loan Advisory Committee for financial assistance. Should he desire to purchase land he may indicate the particular parcel of land which he desires to acquire. The Committee will appraise the land with regard to its agricultural possibilities, and if it is satisfactory and its value is in keeping with the soldier's ability to comply with the financial requirements of the Act, the land may be secured.

Equipment

The Loan Advisory Committee also determines the amount of loan to be granted to the soldier settler for the purchase of live stock and implements, and the erection of necessary buildings in keeping with the settler's absolute need. The Soldier Settlement Board has made arrangements to secure these needs for the settler at specially low prices.

Supervision

The Soldier Settlement Board has a staff of agricultural advisers, whose duties are to promote the prosperity of the soldier settler by timely advice and assistance. It is also enlisting the co-operation of experienced and successful farmers, located near at hand, who will direct and assist the settler to make a success of his undertaking.

Special Transportation Rates

The Railway Companies of Canada have offered special rates to soldier settlers who travel for any of the following purposes:

- (a) First trip to appear before Qualification Committee, to work with farmer, to attend an agricultural school or to look for land;
- (b) To return to his home for the purpose of transporting his family or goods to his farm.

The rate will be allowed on the production of a certificate issued by the Soldier Settlement Board.
